Dear John Allen:

I have just finished reading the May issue of the 20th Century Christian; and I would like to congratulate you on the outstanding job which you are doing as editor during these months.

I was particularly impressed with Helen McLeod's article about what it is like to work with you. The highly effective work which you do is no doubt made possible by the Bible study and prayer life to which she referred. I was deeply touched by this example which you are setting; and I am sure that others will be too.

Again I congratulate you on many jobs well done, and wish you well in your new work in Atlanta. Please give our best to Sue and the children.

Your friend,

Phillip E. Morrison
