

We're Burning Brighter

A desire to excel and do our best burned deep within each of us. Our abilities and talents were enhanced by the different organizations in which we participated. For some it was music, law or theatre. Others preferred debate, bible study, or business. No matter what the subject area, the individual fire within each of us was fueled by a competitive spirit developed because of the diversity of each club and these persons who challenged us to give the best that we had to offer. Organizations became the grinding stone on which our talents and skills were sharpened; they served as the fuel that kept our flames burning brighter. ♦

Scott Busby
Organizations Editor

A CAPELLA AT ITS BEST. An all-chorus presentation in chapel created quite a stir throughout the student body. Harding's talented vocalists toured across the nation and encouraged others with their songs.

• U • R • G • A • N • I • Z • A • T • • O • N • S •

From The President's Desk . . .

This past semester I was greeted in the Student Center by a freshman with the question, "What is the S. A.? The senior class officers?" I found this question rather humorous . . . until I remembered asking the S. A. president the same question myself when I was a freshman. I tried to explain to him what the S. A. was all about; and although my reply may not have sparked any interest in the fellow who questioned me, the answer I received nearly four years ago instilled within me a deep desire to work with the organization of which my president spoke so proudly.

So what did I tell him? In a general sense, the S.A. is another word for the student body

YOU. It's a student organization consisting of an Executive Council composed of officers of the S. A., and a male and female representative from each of the four classes.

Most of those involved with the S. A. serve on one of the various committees which range from "Homecoming" to "Food Services" and organize and supervise the many S. A. activities. Such activities are of the utmost importance to our purpose. Article III section 2 of the S. A. constitution declares the objectives of the organization: "[The S. A.'s purpose] shall be to perpetuate the goals of the university, act-that most people have about the S. A. comes from the misconception that the president does all the work. In reality, however, the backbone is formed by people such as Monica Chapman, Chris Gonzales, Tom Ed Simmons, and the numerous others who have spent many nights collecting money, planning events and implementing projects.

I don't know if the freshman who addressed me will also decide to run for S. A. president like I did; but this I do know: in all probability he will end his time here at Harding with a host of fond memories and lasting relationships. Not just because of the lights the Christmas committee put up or due to some new by-law passed by the Executive Council but simply because of the type of people this place seems to continually attract. ♦

— Steve Martin
S. A. President

CAUGHT IN THE ACT. Student Association President Steve Martin wonders if all student leaders find themselves victimized by Pledge Week escapades such as this sudden arrest. Martin was whisked off the sidewalk and charged with impersonating an Important Person; he was released moments later on his own recognizance.

ing as a liaison between the administration and students, creating and maintaining the spirituality and morale of the university, supplying leadership for the student body and acting as a catalyst for spiritual and social growth."

I believe the biggest illusion

EXECUTIVE COUNCIL AND COMMITTEE CHAIRMEN. 1st Row (l to r): Lisa Gootee (Academic Affairs), Trent Arnold (Spring Break Campaigns), Tom Ed Simmons (Treasurer), Wade Osburn (Spiritual Life), Kristy Dawdy (Junior Representative), Chris Gonzales (Secretary), Monica Chapman (Vice President), Tracy Brown (Dorm Life), Diane Roof (Advertising), Marsha Vaughn (Senior Representative). 2nd Row: Tibor Sikloski (Christmas), Steve Yates (Special Projects), Mark Pruitt (Academic Affairs), Jon Mark Hayes (Junior Representative), Fred Young (Physical Plant), Bob Cox (Dorm Life), Steve Martin (President), Jim Reagor (Food Services), and Brent Vaughan (Advertising).

Photo by Jeff Cash.

DANCING WITH WOLVES PART II. Indian Chief Chris Gonzales fervently calls on the Great Tatanka to wipe out the white men (represented by Darren Bonham) in the Saturday contest against UCA. The S. A. sponsored the fall pep rally in the old gym as one activity to boost school spirit and student morale.

Photo by Jeff Cash.

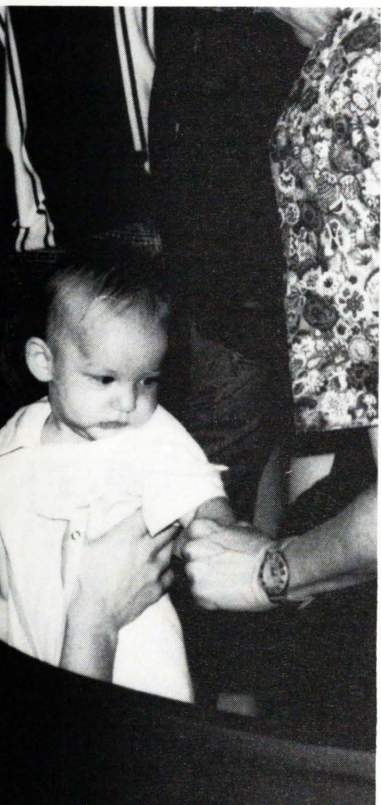

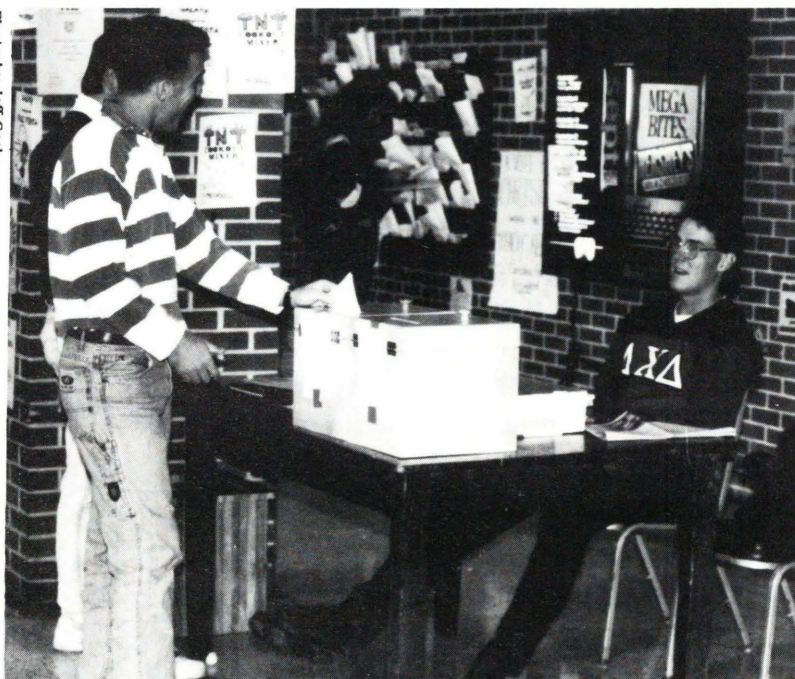

Photo by Jeff Cash.

VOTING AGAIN. Steve Martin supervises while seniors Mark Merchant and Tibor Sikloski cast their ballots in the officer run-off election held in the Student Center. Due to the encouragement of the S. A., more students voted in the tight race for S. A. positions.

Photo by Jeff Cash.

STRAIGHT FROM THE STORK. Former librarian Ann Neal shows off her new son, Tyler Jordan, after chapel. The S. A. sponsored a money drive and helped the Neals raise over a third of the funds they needed to adopt Tyler from Romania.

BUSINESS TEAM. (l to r): Curtis Clements, Craig S. Lair, David Bell, Christy Coonts, Kerry Dunn and Shari Reaves.

Photo by Jeff Montgomery.

Photo by David Hickman.

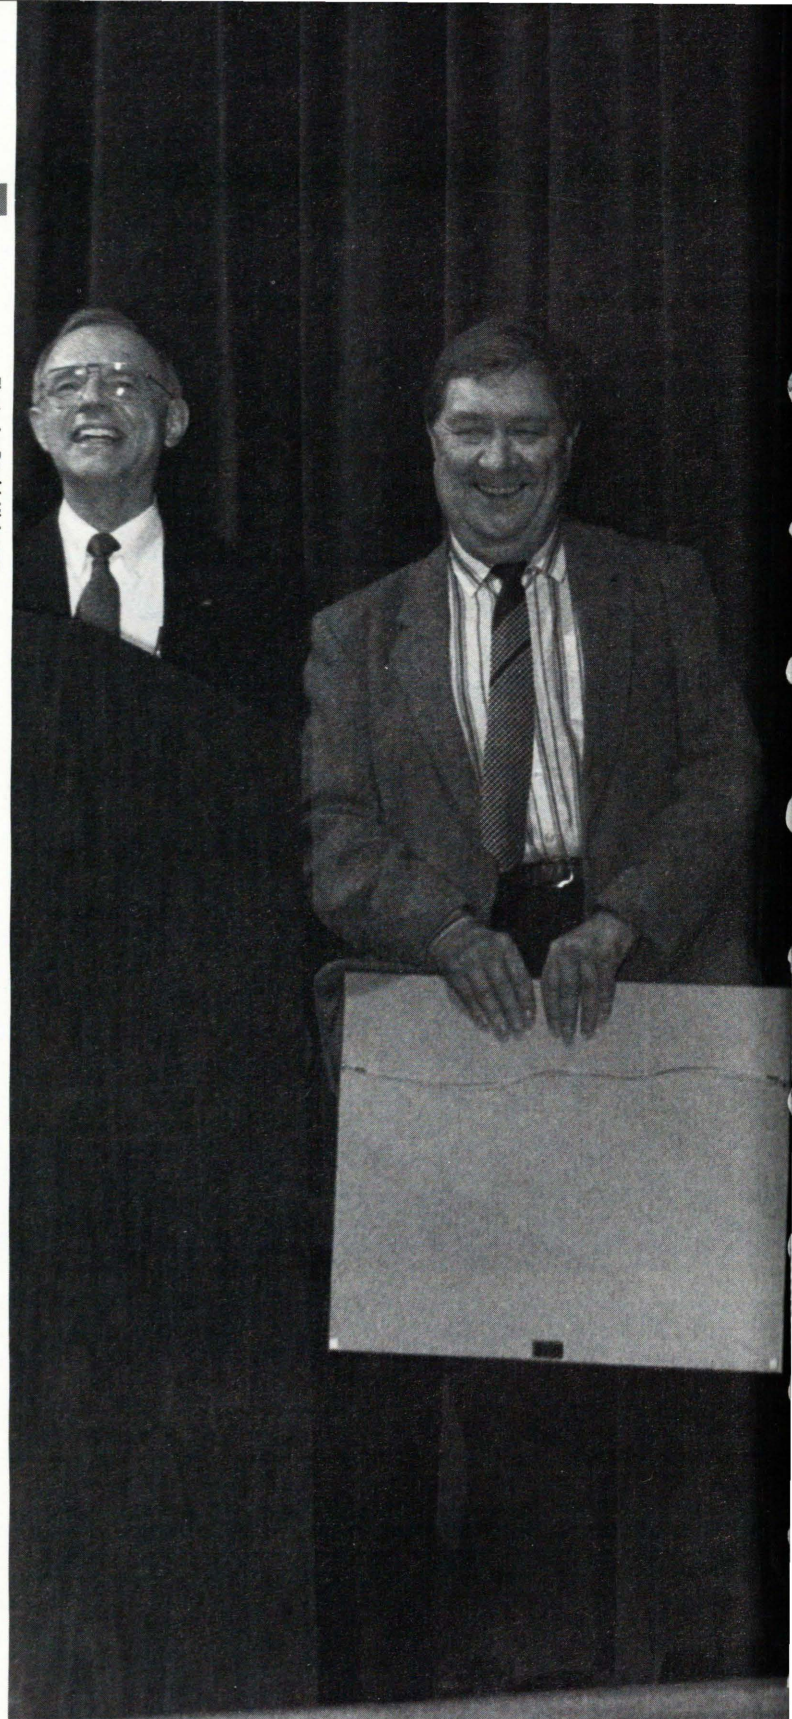

Photo by Jerry Cutshall.

ECONOMICS TEAM. (l to r): Don Diffine, Clinton C. Blair, Tracy Crouch, Jill Creighton, Tom Duncan, Anessa Hobby, Bill Oldham, Jason Pace and Anna Conley.

PLEASE, I'M BASHFUL. Dr. Marianna Sarchek blushes as Alexander Akh-tyrsky brags on her interpreting skills. The director of the former Soviet Union's All-Union Radio Network, Akh-tyrsky presented an American Studies lecture in Russian and Sarchek interpreted.

NEXT QUESTION PLEASE. Eugene McCarthy answers questions from the press during a conference at Little Rock Airport. McCarthy and former Secretary of Interior, James Watt conducted the American Studies Institute's first debate.

Photo by David Hickman.

HONORS: Students Gain Experience In Critical Thinking

Imagine a class period where the instructor heatedly debates the theory of causality with the students. Imagine a class where your papers are encouraged to be short stories, free form essays and poems. To Harding honor students, this was not a dream, but a reality.

The honors students typically sat in a circle to discuss questions posed by the teacher over the day's reading assignment. They studied essays by the great classical theorists in everything from economics to natural science, as well as modern social theories ranging from chaos theory to political economy.

The program had an enrollment of 58 students. Their interests, however, went far beyond course work in their majors. They were also involved in numerous extracurricular activities, including sports and social clubs.

The program was supervised by the Honors Council, comprised of teachers from various departments. Dr. Larry Long, who served as the program's director, oversaw the program's progress.

The Honors Program was comprised of two levels. The first level, University Honors, was a core of general education courses. The students had to have four out of the five courses in order to complete the university honors curriculum. The Departmental Honors Program was implemented to allow students to get honors credit in their major area of study. In order to receive Departmental Honors distinction, the students had to complete 12 hours of classes on contract, a written agreement that they will do advanced work in a particular class.

With such diligent students, the honors program poised itself for future successes. ♦

— Jonathan Picklesimer

HONORS. 1st row (l to r): Kevin Reddick, Brian Mitchell, Craig Hansen, Aaron Kite. 2nd row: Larry Long, Jessica Clark, Christy Coonts, Shauna Queen, Amy Hawkins, Michelle Ponds, Diadra McGregor, Sonya Leek, Melanie Johnson, Paige Daniel, Karel Shuffelbarger, Amy Hall, Amy Johnson, Laura Rice, Jeanette Picklesimer. 3rd row: Vic McCracken, Derrick Hampton, Jimmy Brooks, Bob Higbee, Roger Clayton, Jonathan Picklesimer, Travis McNeal, Tyler Cutshall, Paul Finley, Kevin West and Richard Bankhead.

Photo by Jerry Cutshall.

AMERICAN STUDIES. 1st row (l to r): Laura York, Kay Hopper, Malia Reddick, Katie Bell, David Bell, Anna Conley, Kevin West, Lori Branch, Tom Duncan, Sarah Folkerts, Michael Oelze, Brian Mitchell, Beth Martin, Darrell Amy, Shauna Queen. 2nd row: Mark Thiesen, Amy Johnson, Roxi Toms, Marla Lewis, Kim House, Michelle Ponds, Suzanne Ponds, Ana Bonilla, Ingrid Cho, Diana Ung, Laura Adams, Anna Clements, Amy Hawkins, Laura Rice, Jimmy Brooks. 3rd row: Jay King, Steve Cooper, Mark Pruitt, Melissa Smith, Robert McAdams, Luis Alonso Castro, Maria Alfaro, David Flores, Shanshan Jen, Leigh Reaves, Rich Reaves, Traci McMennamy, Samuel Clark, Jennifer Swinea, Jenny Randolph. 4th row: Lori Woodson, Lara Qualls, Shelley O'Cull, Sondra Smith, Scott Shappard, Roger Clayton, Tom Watson, Jessica Clark, Tim Gerber, April Legg, Melanie Johnson, Heather Knox, Jill Creighton, Quint Eastman, Faith Seay. 5th row: Cecilia Parra, Darah Tate, Wendy Ward, Craig Lair, Ken Kyle, Sheri Ghent, Gray Dillard, Shayla Waters, Jackie Nichols, Rebecca Helm, Kelli Kubala, Allen Plunk, Karen Martin, Shari Reaves, Marsha Vaughn. 6th row: Lindon Hulse, Tom Gerber, Jennifer Fly, Julie Windham, Shawn Kell, Valerie Slecge, Russ Maille, Ashley Cosby, Alan Martin, Andrew Mawdsley, Kevin Keech, Alcides Viquez, Christopher Robinson, Bekki Snyder, Richard Bankhead. 7th row: Paricia Salman, Omar Silvestre Ortiz, Tracy Jennings, Carrie Brown, Craig Hanson, Melanie Matthews, David Blankenship, Nathan Howard, Steve Martin, Matt Davis, Paul Finley, Jeannette Picklesimer, Amy Wiggins, Tami Brown, Laura Degnan. 8th row: Nuria Portabella, Shannon Black, Dave Adams, Sonya Curtis, Kathy Meadows, Andrew Craven and Lanny Tucker.

Photo by Jeff Cash.

SA-M: Management Students Raise Money For Conference

SA-M, the Society for the Advancement of Management, exposes business students to career opportunities and current developments in the field of business management. With Lavon Carter as the sponsor, the group worked hard to raise enough funds to send members to the National Conference and Case Competition in Charlottesville, VA. In the fall they held a car wash, a credit card drive and a club watch sale. These events, along with a bowling tournament in the spring, helped SA-M send a team to the competition.

The conference theme was "Managing a Diverse Workforce" and featured speakers on such topics as women and minorities in the workplace. Also included were several sessions on improving campus chapters and sharing ideas.

Although the conference trip was the culmination of the year's work, it was not their only goal. Janelle McFarland, Chapter President for 1991, stated, "I think that students involved in SA-M gain experience in both organizational and personal areas. It is just as important to enter the case competition as it is to excite people about fundraisers."

Another important activity for SA-M was the special speakers. In October, members and other students were invited to hear a Harding graduate (name withheld) speak on "Sexual Harassment in the Work Place." This young woman shared her experiences and offered her advice at a time when all of America was tuning in to the Supreme Court Hearings on nominee Clarence Thomas. The message was timely and informative to all who attended.

In the future, SA-M members hoped to bring in more speakers to relate the working world to all students and they plan to send even more students to the 1993 conference. ♦

— Janelle McFarland

SOCIETY FOR THE ADVANCEMENT OF MANAGEMENT 1st row (l to r): Paula Peebles, Rudolf J. Tabalujan, Janelle McFarland, Iwan H. Luhur, Michelle Rozmarynowycz. 2nd row: Mitzi Smith, Elaina Shearer, Lori Wright, Curt Mickey, Ross Ogburn, and Cheryl Smith.

AMERICAN MARKETING ASSOCIATION 1st row (l to r): Tracy Kibler, Magdalena Coc, Ilesia Flores, Emee Belo. 2nd row: Beverly Oakes, Cecelia Parra, Maria A. Alfaro, Beth Martin. 3rd row: Charles Walker, Brad Matchett, Iwan H. Lubur, Scott Ferguson, Jim Hobby, Chris K. Cash and Barry Baggett.

Photo by Jerry Cushman.

PI GAMMA EPSILON. 1st row (l to r): Karen Wright, Iwan H. Lubar, Josh Losher, Jackie Nichols, Bryan Leep, Keven Keech, Jim McFarland, Murphy Crowson. 2nd row: Dwight Mussleman, Omar Ortiz, John Swolensky, Jeff McGuire, John Arnett, Kenwick Thompson, Jason Pace, Teddy Gonzales, Chico Ford, Tammie Green and Randy McLeod.

Photo by David Hickman.

Photo by David Hickman.

DELTA MU. 1st row (l to r): Tracy Kibler, Sheri Ghent. 2nd row: Anna Conley, Cecelia Parra, Valerie Sleege. 3rd row: Chris Pillay, Allen Plunk, Tom Duncan, Jill Creighton, Mark Pruitt, Victoria Johnnican, Scott Mahigian, George Oliver and Luis Alonzo Castro.

NATIONAL CONVENTION, HERE WE COME. Janelle McFarland and Elaina Shearer spend Saturday washing cars. SA-M conducted the car wash to raise money to attend the national convention.

PI GAMMA PSI. 1st row: (l to r): Lynnette Gipson, Jay King, Valerie Sleege, Jason Stipp. 2nd row: George Kinsey, Anna Conley, Brian Parker, Jill Creighton, Debra Mosert. 3rd row: Forrest Gardner, Scott Nahigian, Doug Tracy, Glen Metheny, John Mark Hays, Sherry Ghent and Sherri Benthall.

Photo by Jerry Cushman.

CHEMISTRY: Chapel, Trips Highlight Activities

The chemistry club received a measure of notoriety this year because of their eye-opening demonstrations during chapel. During chemistry week, they demonstrated to the students how magnesium chips were used in the past as a flash for photographers. They used dry ice (solid carbon dioxide) to hold the chips for the safety of the audience. They also ignited a balloon with a hydrogen/oxygen mix, creating a large fire ball on the stage. These same presentations were made for Harding Academy.

The Chemistry Club also took a field trip to the State Crime Lab. They were able to sit-in on an American Chemical Society meeting and had a chance to talk with professional chemists.

They toured the facilities and were shown how chemistry is used to solve crimes. The group was taught about the machines that were used to test substances and identify the chemicals in them. They were also taught about trace evidence where hairs and fabric are analyzed and chemically evaluated for profiles on criminals and their clothing as well as blood types of criminals and their victims.

Chantelle Becquette, social activities director says that the group is very close. Five of the members make up the physical chemistry class. Classmates share in bringing coffee, doughnuts and muffins to class to enjoy during their highly complex work.

Chemistry club also participated in distributing educational materials to the local elementary schools, giving research papers at the undergraduate research conference at Memphis State University, judging local science fairs, and holding open houses for local high school chemistry students. ♦

— Scott Busby

CHEMISTRY CLUB. 1st row (l to r): Dennis Blake, Kristi Jones, Eric Roth, Edmond Wilson. 2nd row: Francisco Paz, Victor Blanco, Charlotte Drulman, Chantelle Bequette, Sharon Welch, Jamie Ridenour and David Limburg.

PRE-MED. 1st row (l to r): Craig Shaddix, Jim Kennell, Butch Porco, Frank Merritt, Anthony Keele, Eric Roth, Dan Owen, Edmond Wilson. 2nd row: Mark Jones, Patrick Brown, Jamie Ridenour, Tammy Callahan, Charlotte Drulman, Shayla Waters, Dan Pederson, Chris Rone, Dennis Blake and Sharon Welch.

Photo by Jerry Cushman.

DEVITA. 1st row (l to r): Bryce Roberson, Rachel Dye, Randy Carlton, Melissa Wilder, Julian Davis. 2nd row: Luis Tiffer, Matt May, Kerry Burke, Will Arnold, Steve Cooper and Trent Brister.

Photo by David Hickman.

Photo by David Hickman.

HSNA. (l to r): Michelle Warren, Mamie Moore, Kim Hays, Susie Hughes, Julie Huffman, Jennifer Vest, Melissa Smith, Patricia Paulson, Brenda Bryant, Cyndi Sudano, Nona Wise, Faith Howe, Wendy Webster and Natalie Pirtle.

MAD SCIENTIST AT WORK. Chantelle Bequette is mesmerized with her mixing of chemicals during a lab experiment. The Chemistry Club met regularly to share the common interests and goals.

Photo by David Hickman.

SIGMA THETA. 1st row (l to r): David Owen, Mamie Moore, Melissa Smith, Brenda Bryant, Barbara Turner. 2nd row: Melissa Roberson, Julie Huffman, Amy Tess. 3rd row: Karen Salvo, Sonya Curtis, Angie Dawson, Trish Frazer. 4th row: Christy Tucker, Tamara Grigsby, Heather Knox, A.J. Grimes, Tenda Law. 5th row: Richard Smith, Leigh Gross and Jennifer Neal.

ALPHA DELTA MU. 1st row (l to r): Randy Hail, Tracy Petty, Carla Sparks, Kay Hopper, Elaine Chinicci, Jenny Reynolds. 2nd row: Louise Pace, Suzanne Ponds, Kathy Helpenstil, Amy Wiggins and Patrice Busby.

Photo by Jerry Cutshall.

Photo by Jerry Cutshall.

SOCIAL WORK CLUB. 1st row (l to r): Monica Kimbrell, Tracy Petty, Amy Pruitt, Betsy Yurcho, Carla Sparks, Kay Hopper, Elaine Chinicci, Lauren Brooks, Mark Carson. 2nd row: Suzanne Ponds, Hilly Beckford, Pam Clements, Louise Pace, Christy Thurmon, Kathy Helpenstill, Tracy Schmeltzer, Ethel Robinson, Patrice Busby, Amy Wiggins, Sherry Johnson, Jenny Reynolds, Terry Smith, Desmond Peterson, and Randy Hail.

WHAT'S COOKIN'? Jenny Reibling prepares a nutritious meal as part of her dietetics class. Students practiced their cooking skills in lab each week.

AHEA. 1st row (l to r): Jan Milner, Susan Costellaw, Elizabeth Crockett, Christine Langston. 2nd row: Lisa Herndon, Amy Churchill, Karla McNary, Lori Scarborough, Scarlett Grady, Darla Miller, and Loleta Higginbotham.

Photo by David Hickman.

Photo by Jeff Cash.

DIETETICS: Nutrition Promoted On World Food Day

The Dietetics program was based upon the philosophy that optimal nutrition is essential for the health and well-being of every person. The mission of the club was to prepare members with skills and knowledge conducive to helping individuals and society meet their nutritional needs. The club nearly doubled in size this year with the additions of several incoming freshmen and transfers.

The club promoted nutrition and service to the community by sponsoring the collection of food for World Food Day. Canned foods were collected from students, faculty and staff to replenish emptying shelves at His House. Hundreds of cans were donated for this cause. The club's aim was to help people realize that hunger is a growing problem, not only in other countries, but also in the United States and right here in White County.

The highlight of the year was the club's attendance at the annual American Dietetic Association National Convention, held in Dallas, Texas. The trip allowed for new friendships and memories to be formed and also allowed the students to be introduced to dietetics as a professional field and to many current studies being done in the field of nutrition. Club member Shannon Weldon was pleased with her experience at the convention. "I thought that overall it was a good experience because it allowed us to see the new products that will be out on the market, products that we will be using someday."

This year was an exciting one for the Dietetics Club, and it provided the members with opportunities for growth and knowledge about their chosen careers in dietetics and the role nutritionists play in society today. ♦

— by Kristi M. Sibert

DIETETICS. 1st row (l to r): Cheryl Helms. 2nd row: Donna Chapman, Christine Langston, Marcheta Burke, Dodi Samuel, Dana Rottman, Kristi Sibert and Christy Sumpter. 3rd row: Lisa Ritchie, Sherry English, Kristin Weber, Ladena McSpadden, Diadra McGregor, Jennifer Reinert and Michale J. Rasberry.

Photo by Jerry Cushman.

SHRM. 1st row (l to r): George Oliver, Emily Snowden, Kathy Meadows, Marsha Vaughn, Glen Knight, Becky Jones and Kim House. 2nd row: Lisa York, Mary Kaye Mussleman, David Echols, Scott Drumheller and Annette Prior. 3rd row: Alan Burnett, Shari Reaves, Chris Hobby, Jim McFarland, John Morgan, Mark DeYoung, Scott Snowden and Tim Kroeker.

Photo by Jerry Cushman.

FRENCH: Campaigns, Activities Highlight Club's Year

The French club was perhaps one of the most specialized of all the many diverse organizations at Harding.

Its overall purpose was to learn and understand the French language and culture better, a goal which the club seemingly met this past year.

"It takes French out of the classroom context and puts it into real life situations and practice," according to Shelley Walls, vice president of the organization. "We gain a different perspective of their way of living."

French club members actively participated in last summer's international campaigns, going to both French-speaking Canada (Sheerbrook, Quebec) and Brussels. "Familiarity with the language undoubtedly made the mission work much easier and more personal," Alonso Castro, club president, said.

The members met together once every two weeks last year to discuss club business and to participate in unusual activities.

For instance, the club had a Christmas party at Dr. Winfred Wright's house, where a native of France spoke to them about her home country and they ate crepes and a French version of apple pie.

Members made it a point to meet for French games, including Meile Bornes, a board game in which players try to reach a destination before their opponents, and French versions of Monopoly and Scrabble. They also watched French movies, including Marie-An-toinette and Au Revoir, Les Enfants ("Goodbye, The Children").

The year culminated with a trip to Little Rock in the spring to see a Moliere play.

Castro summed up the year enthusiastically, "It was a fun year for French!" ♦

- Kevin L. Kee

FRENCH CLUB. 1st row (l to r): Diana Ung, Stacie Evans, Maria Bendana. 2nd row: Luis Alonso Castro, Janelle McFarland, Jennifer Barnes, Lori Wright, Nita Popaesar. 3rd row: Winfred Wright, Robert McAdams, David P. Smith and Donita Schneider.

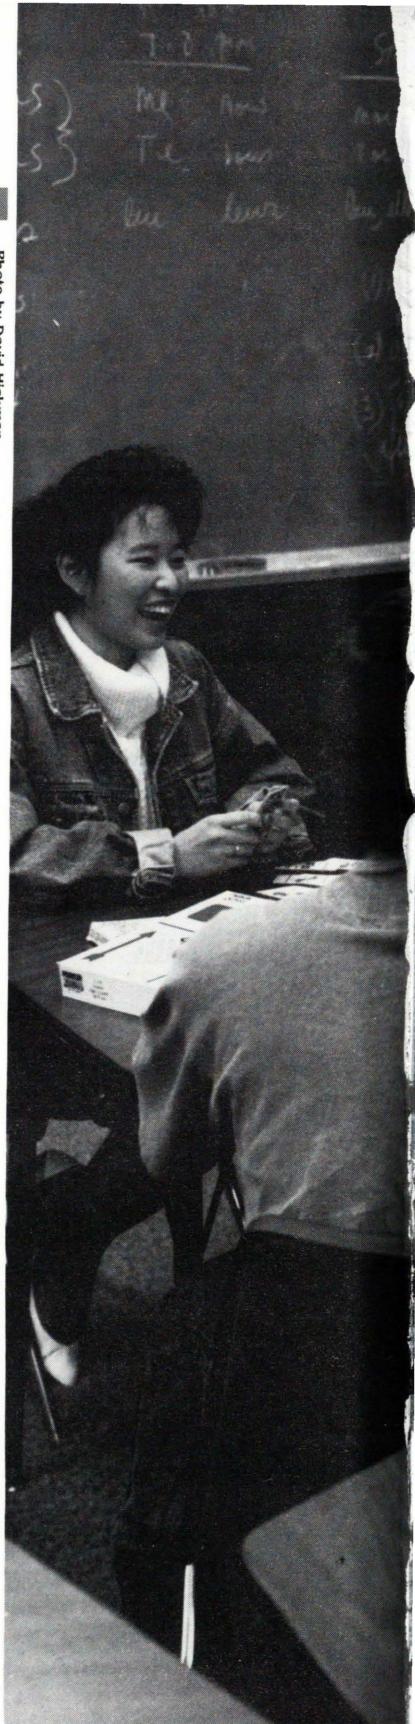

Photo by Jerry Cushtail.

CARDS ANYONE? Maria Bendana watches anxiously as Dr. Winfred Wright plays his hand. The French club attempted to apply their language skills to everyday situations.

Photo by David Hickman.

Photo by David Hickman.

SIGMA TAU DELTA. 1st row (l to r): Shauna Queen, Trina Shaw, Anissa Campbell, Camille Krenz, Desiree Rees, Lynn Tannahill, Faith Seay, Amy Mitchusson, Tasha Moss. 2nd row: Laura Degnan, Laura Rice, Craig Carrington, Richard Bankhead, Michael Latimore, Tom Wroblewski, Sondra Smith and Charles Adams.

Photo by Jerry Cushman.

Photo by Jerry Cushman.

SKOTIA. 1st row (l to r): Lena Barnett, Jennifer Isonguyo, Charlotte Ward, Sheri Banks, Bridget Rhymes. 2nd row: Tracie West, Becki Harper, Naabrytt Hatchee, Ayanna Evans, Missy Green. 3rd row: John Alverson, Terry Truehart, Raymond Richardson, Robert Guy, Dianna Washington, and Jimmy Hadnot.

PARLEZ VOUS FRANCAIS? Students and teachers enjoy playing games in French. The group often gathered for fun activities which helped them to learn more French.

Photo by Kristy Dalton.

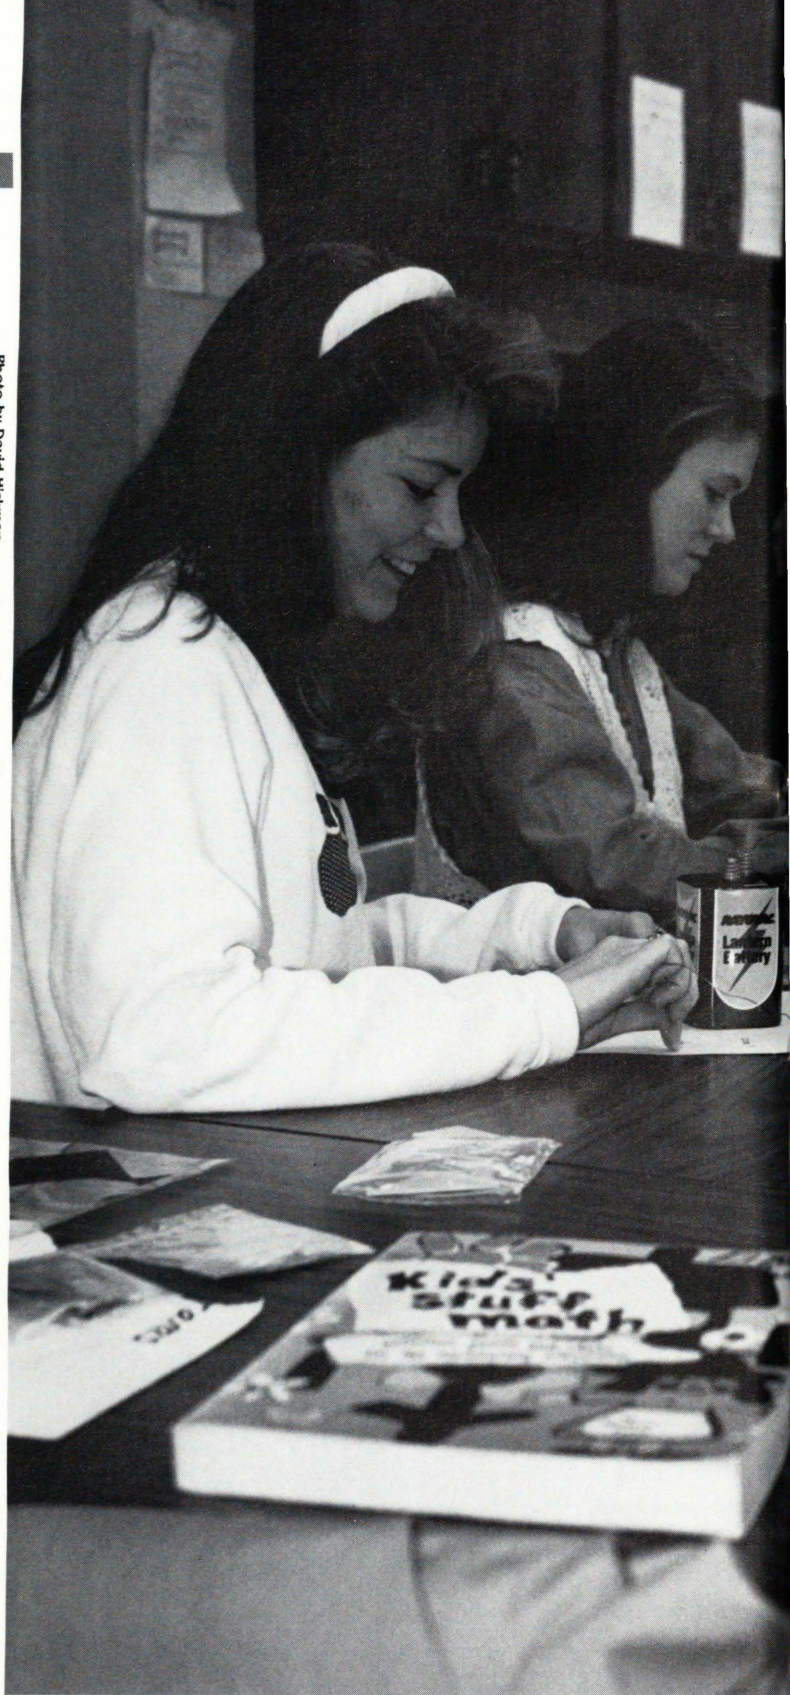

SPANISH CLUB. 1st row (l to r): Clint Delaplane, Manuel Centro, Alma Lee, Bert Parker, Bob Higbee. 2nd row: Tamara Paden, Natalia Valle, Jill Fehling, Donna Wallace, Fernando Vgalde. 3rd row: Julio Cruz, Ava Conley, Leigh Ann Parks, Bill Conley, Luis Allen, Selenia Quintero, Dagoberto Martinez, Michelle Ponder, Anissa Campbell, Ricardo Sanchez, Juan Dominguez and Tracy Falwell.

SCIENCE FOR KIDS. Lisa Gootee, Stephanie Bailey and Melissa Pickens prepare projects for science in the elementary school. Kappa Delta Pi members worked to earn high grades for the education honor society.

Photo by David Hickman.

TEACH. 1st row (l to r): Carol Riddle, Allisha Alderson, Stacey McFarland, Becky Ragle, Callie Moore. 2nd row: Shawn Hull, Janice Hull, Beth Howard, Cheryl Weaver and Stacy Beck.

GOOD NEWS. 1st row (l to r): Suzanne Perry, Anna Pettit, Angie Bain, John Boles. 2nd row: Bobby Broughton, Tony Woods, Jim Kennel and Bryan Leep.

Photo by Jerry Cutshall.

EDUCATION: Honor Society Prepares Teachers

As a college community, we heard of many Greek letter groups and clubs. Most of us may associate Greek letters with social clubs, but there are other groups as well which possess Greek letter names. These include various academic-related honor societies.

One such honor society which has been at Harding for a number of years was Kappa Delta Pi national honor society for education. There are certain requirements which must be met before being invited to become a member. These included declaring the intention of becoming a teacher, and having completed 60 hours with a 3.0 GPA or better.

Kappa Delta Pi participated in numerous activities on local, regional and national levels. In April, the sponsor Dr. Wyatt Jones took a few of the officers to the 1992 national convention in Memphis, TN. The members were able to listen to lectures given by nationally known speakers in education.

On the local level, the society held mock interviews to help prepare students for the process of job searches after they graduate. The spring service project included taking goodies to a teachers' lounge in the local area. "This was just to show our appreciation for teachers, many of whom have trained our student teachers," said Jones.

Whether the Harding chapter of Kappa Delta Pi was engaging in projects locally, regionally or nationally, the opportunities and experiences were endless. The main goals for the society was best said by Jones, "Our chapter has offered opportunities for leadership. This can be a springboard for their professional careers." ♦

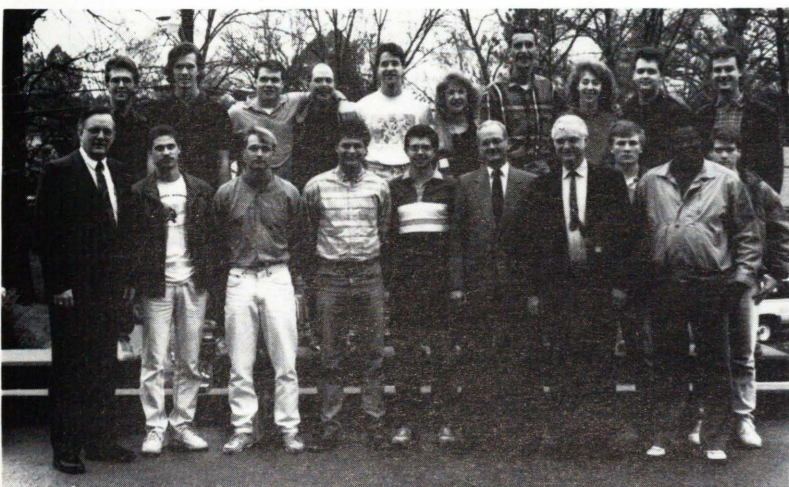

— Julie C. Carey

KAPPA DELTA PI. 1st row (l to r): Sara Keichline, Diana Goad, Wendy Waite, Mandy Dodson, Lisa Hemdon, Traci McMennamy, Lisa Gootee, Cara Orr. 2nd row: Laura York, Patti Vaughan, and Ryan Richardson.

TIMOTHY CLUB. 1st row (l to r): Don Shackleford, Jonathan Byrd, Steve Horne, Jason Dodson, Edwin Slack, Jack McKinney, Carl Mitchell, Jared Dockery, Nkansah Y.B., Michael D. Humber. 2nd row: Shane Gage, Shannon Simmons, Sam Barrington, Wade Osburn, Scott Genry, Cathy Cline, Ricardo Maia, Faith Ort, William Diederich and Mark Thiesen

Photo by David Hickman.

SAM ADAMS SOCIETY. 1st row (l to r): Brian Cose, David Blankenship, David Porter, Shelly Hughes, Janet McGregor, Jon Holmes, Mark Elrod. 2nd row: Tom Howard, Lindon Hulse, Mark A. Pate, Allen Gill, Todd Huff, Kristina Smith, Rebecca Wimpy, Dana Deree, Becky McKinnon. 3rd row: Bryon Barnhill, Fred Jewell and Dale Gilliland.

Photo by Jerry Cuthall.

Photo by David Hickman.

PI SIGMA ALPHA. 1st row (l to r): Malia Reddick, Amy Harrell, Willie Martin, David Blankenship. 2nd row: Mark Elrod, Fred Jewell, Tom Howard and Lindow Hulse.

SEARCY'S MAYOR VISITS DEMOCRATS. Mayor David Evans speaks to the Young Democrats. The club promoted the Democratic party as they prepared for a crucial election year.

BARRISTERS. (l to r): Ray Muncy, Brad Sipe, David Blankenship, Shelly Hughes, David Porter, Wendy Ward, Clinton C. Blair, Tim Brown, Bryon Barnhill, Christy Coonts, Todd Huff and Karen Martin.

Photo by Jerry Cuthall.

REPUBLICANS: Students Work, Promote Party

College Republicans finished the year with an increased membership and several successes.

Under the leadership of senior Allen Busby from West Memphis, Ark., the group functioned to inform students about the Republican platform and to encourage students to become more involved in a political party of their choice.

Other officers were Michael Latimore, vice-chairman; Duane Barron, treasurer; Malia Reddick, secretary. Dr. Jim Carr was the group's sponsor.

Harding's chapter of the national organization had 78 members, making it one of the largest chapters in the state, along with two other strong chapters at UALR and ASU in Jonesboro.

Busby reflected, "We took huge steps forward to become a more active group than in recent years."

Barron wanted the College Republicans to help the students, a goal he felt the group accomplished. "We were able to get the students involved in politics," he said. "It is important to get involved in the things that affect us."

This year the club represented Harding on the state level of the College Republicans, a first for the chapter. Busby was elected first vice-chairman and Barron was elected state treasurer at the November 2 state convention.

Busby said, "The elections this year at the state convention helped pave the way for Harding students in years to come for representation on the state level."

COLLEGE REPUBLICANS. 1st row (l to r): Paul Pruitt, Michael Latimore, Allen Busby. 2nd row: Duane Barron, Allyn Walker, Kevin Kee, Matt Day, Chris Phillips. 3rd row: Jennifer Kendrick, Tracy Kibler, Sherry Beathall, and Sarah Folkerts.

Photo by Jerry Cutshall.

With such success in a non-election year, the Harding chapter of College Republicans set the pace for years and members to come. ♦

— Kevin L. Kee

YOU MEAN WE GET A T-SHIRT? Allen Busby, president of College Republicans, distributes t-shirts to club members, Scott Busby and Kevin Kee. College Republicans were actively involved with the political events during the year.

Photo by David Hickman.

CONQUERORS: Group Performs Skits To Promote Christ

Conquerors were a visible tool for the cause of Christ and Christian living on the Harding campus. Although sometimes used in conjunction with admissions, the group was not designed to promote Harding, but to promote Christ through their skits.

Several times a year Conquerors were asked to perform skits in chapel. They were always thrilled at the chance to perform for a captive audience. "It's different performing for your peers than performing for kids. It gets the message across from a different angle," explained Tibor Siklosi. Conquerors practiced a few hours each week in updating old skits and creating new ones. Conquerors had over 60 different skits in their repertoire. Although many were borrowed from other skit groups (like Soul Concern from York and Ambassadors from N.C.J.C.), about half of them were original to Conquerors. Practices were a time for fun and fellowship, but the relaxed atmosphere didn't inhibit their ability to keep up with their work load.

About 4 or 5 times each semester the group traveled to various places doing retreats, youth rallies and area-wide devotionals. Conquerors were often on a tight schedule while on the road, which kept them from being able to interact with the kids as much as they would have liked. Explained Conqueror member Chris Gonzales, "When we go on a trip and only do skits and have to leave right away, I feel cheated because I feel like my job is half done. I like to do skits for 45 minutes and get to know the kids the rest of the weekend."

Conquerors did not see themselves as actors, but as Christians who were trying to get across an important message through a unique medium. ♦

— Stacy Gaskin

CONQUERORS. 1st row (l to r): Tibor Siklosi, Amber Brown. 2nd row: Mamie Moore, Josh Cooper, Darren Bonham, Robin Rose, Mark Merchant. 3rd row: Chris Gonzales, Shelley Brazell and Steve Valentine.

Photo by Jeff Cash.

YOUTH CORP. 1st row (l to r): John Loshier, Shane Gage, Deryk Pritchard, Dan Stockstill, David A. Green, Desmond Peterson, Wade Shepard, Jason Thomas, Zale Dowlen. 2nd row: Bobby Tankersley, Carolyn Holmes, Brad Westmoreland, Robin Corner, Sharon Tankersley, Loana Cooper, Dan Bartley, Trent Arnold, Mark Hogan. 3rd row: Phillip Jones, Tquan S. Moore, Mike Miller, Bob T. Lawrence, Chris Hendrix, Cody Sipe, Tim Moore, Tim Westbrook, Mark Prior and Bobby Oglethorpe.

Photo by David Hickman.

Photo by Jeff Cash.

CAMPUS MINISTRY. 1st row (l to r): Kent Baker, Teresa Garner, Troy Foster, Beth Martin. 2nd row: Wade Osburn, Wendy Blades, Jan Harbin, Jim Kenneth, Elaine Shearer, Scott Genry, Charlotte Drulman, Clint Davis, Chris Phillips. 3rd row: Dwight Smith, Barby Smith, Christy Coonts, Rich Little, John Spivey, Joe Dugger, Candace Ware and Renee Rose.

Photo by Jerry Cushman.

Photo by Anissa Campbell.

JOY. 1st row (l to r): Katrina Deys, Faith Seay, Jan Harbin. 2nd row: Greta Ritchie, Sondra Smith, Ramona Reaves and Amy Pruitt.

WHAT'S THE POINT? Darren Bonham and Tibor Siklosi practice a scene from one of the skits. The Conquerors performed often in chapel and in the Peak of the Week Bible class.

WOMEN'S CLASSES. Students enjoy the opportunity to hear women's lectures during the annual student lectureship. Classes for women were conducted twice each day.

Photo by Jerry Cushman.

BELLES & BEAUX: Entertainment Specialists

Anyone who had the pleasure of seeing Belles and Beaux perform would tell you that it's an experience that shouldn't be missed. These entertainers kept audiences tapping, clapping and smiling all through each performance.

Belles and Beaux was a group of singers and instrumentalists under the direction of Dr. Cliff Ganus III. Members were accepted by audition only and trained extensively for each show. The group traveled and performed various pop selections including "Stand By Me," "On Broadway," and "Love in Any Language." Their presentations of singing, playing and choreography were enjoyed thoroughly by people of all ages.

Belles and Beaux provided great public relations for Harding Admissions by encouraging future music majors. It also offered excellent opportunities for its members. Aside from the experience gained, Harding provided a scholarship to the students and participation could also open many doors for these entertainers. David Slater, a former member, went on to win a round of Star Search and completed two albums. Belles and Beaux also has boasted such members as Dean Priest and Dr. Dennis Organ.

Belles and Beaux have refocused their style since their conception in 1958, but they have never stopped entertaining. The group traveled throughout the nation in states such as Florida, Louisiana, Missouri, and Texas. They've even put on shows at Disney World and Disneyland.

The Belles and Beaux continued to share the spirit of Harding with every performance. Because of their flexibility, the group proved that they were destined to be a part of Harding for a long time to come. ♦

— Stacy Gaskin

BELLES & BEAUX. 1st row (l to r): Daryl Amy, Kris Falwell, Kim House, Jema McCardell, Robert Guy. 2nd row: Shannan Horner, Chuck Roe, Kevin Curtis, Kacy Underwood, Chris Nuthak, Jonathan Vest, Kaci Bolls. 3rd row: David White.

Photo by Jeff Cash.

FOUR-PART HARMONY. Kevin Curtis, Shannan Horner, Kacy Underwood and Chuck Roe harmonize with other members of Belles and Beaux. The group provided variety entertainment for the student body during Homecoming festivities.

Photo by Anissa Campbell.

Photo by Anissa Campbell.

CONCERT CHOIR. 1st row (l to r): Lepper, Brock, Whittle, Peterson, Clements, Moses, Western, Nuthak, German, Vincent, Selbe, Pickens, B. Smith, Stroud, Perry, Robertson, Conley. 2nd row: Wright, Rushing, Drewett, Moss, Horner, Dunn, Tien, Swendoll, Cantrell, Clark, Qualls, Carroll, Shephard, Clark, Evans, Adams. 3rd row: Williams, Davis, Anderson, Bolls, Tucker, Conner, Shapard, Simpson, Livingston, Richie, Homer, Alley, Rice, McGlaughlin, Tyree, Robertson, Wright. 4th row: Rubio, Chitty, Reddick, Milburn, Hewitt, Hunt, Brown, Langdon, Chrisman, Short, Priest, Conner, Baker, Nuthak, Lawyer, Woods. 5th row: Stephenson, Carper, Clark, Coffman, Tate, Wagley, Harris, Davis, Vest, Brooks, Henderson, Burcham, Jewell, Shapard, White, Rodriquez, and Clements.

Photo by Jerry Cutchall.

Photo by Jeff Montgomery.

UNIVERSITY CHORUS. 1st row (l to r): Line, Morkassel, Gardner, Adams, Atkinson, Allen, O'Neal, Adams, Cheek, Sandlin, Rembleski, Gibbons, Vaughn, Daugherty, Amy, Needels, Mellor, Reeves. 2nd row: Crowson, Sassi, Warpula, Mitchell, Baker, Black, Ritzel, Girdley, Roe, Dickey, McCracken, Gibbons, Pulley, Terlisner, Shirel, Tracy, Cook, Roe. 3rd row: Grant, Moreland, Bellico, Needels, Richardson, Camp, Burkhalter, Cash, Randall, Bruno, Smith, DeYoung, Adams, Tomlinson, Tucker, Killins, Amy, Leep, Richardson. 4th row: Terwilliger, Cothren, Lewis, Ramseyer, Hollis, Casey, Christian, Creasy, Neal, Pate, Bradley, Adamson, Tracy, Hill, McDuffie, Swangel, Shivel, McInnes. 5th row: Sacchar, Hogan, McCarrell, Senn, McDowell, Guy, Kilgsporn, Wolf, Walls, Senn, Swingell, McFarland, Cox, Henry, Simpson and Lee.

KACY AND KACI. Kacy Underwood and Kaci Bolls entertain the chapel audience as a part of Belles and Beaux troupe. The group traveled and sang for a variety of audiences throughout the year.

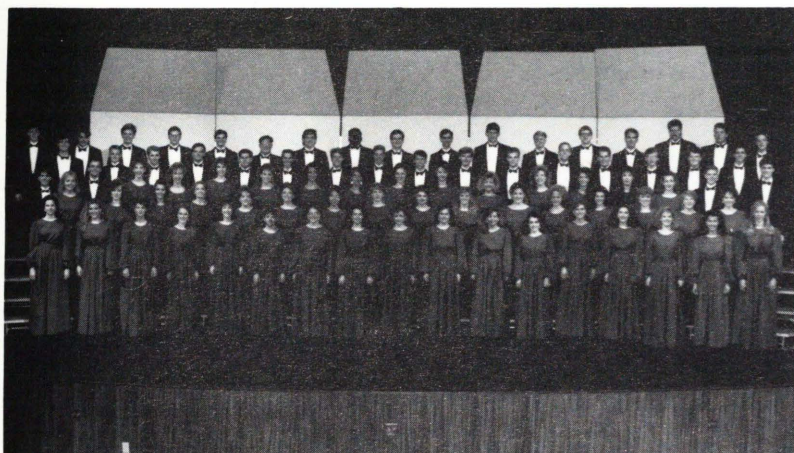

Photo by Jeff Montgomery.

UNIVERSITY SINGERS. 1st row (l to r): Krute, Clark, Jen, Rankin, Matthews, Peek, Sallee, Hawkins, Brown, Reeves, McLeod. 2nd row: Petraszko, Haley, Paden, Dungan, Vincent, Grant, McCormick, Madeley, Stuart, Kurakazu. 3rd row: Rich, Prior, Lee, Moore, Hartman, McInnes, Petrich, Stegall, Hogan, Osborne. 4th row: Sato, Mellor, Hall, Bond, Smith, Corpuz, Smith, Morse, Swilley. 5th row: McDuffie, Lundner, Doddington, Humber, Call, Young, Robinson and Leonard.

BAND: The Thundering Herd Marches, Practices And Plays

Pride. Determination. Precision. These words characterized the attitude and work ethic of this year's marching band. Dr. Warren Casey, director of bands, was an integral force in the success of the program.

In order to prepare for the performances scheduled for the fall semester, the band rehearsed anywhere from five to 10 hours a week. These rehearsals began in mid-August and continued until the final home football game. On top of the actual music, the learning of the marching drill required much time and patience. Every member had to learn his or her own positions in order to create the smooth and clear "pictures" of the drill.

The marching band consisted of 80 members — the highest number of members in years for the "Thundering Herd."

"The band had more members this year than any previous year that I have been involved. We had so many members that we ran out of uniforms!" exclaimed Marc Metz, a veteran herd member. Along with more members, from all over the world, came the wealth of talent acquired from years of practice. The performance schedule for this year's season kept the ensemble quite busy. The White County parade offered a change of pace from the typical marching drill. A core group of band members also traveled to away games to lend support to our teams.

Amanda Clark spoke for the whole band when she stated, "I've been in several different bands, but this is by far the best. I was amazed at how much we got done in such a short time." ♦

— Scott Shappard

THE THUNDERING HERD. The marching band poses for a photo before a home football game. The Herd performed at home games and parades during the fall semester.

Photo by Jeff Montgomery.

STRIKE UP THE BAND. The 80 member Thundering Herd performs during halftime. Their precision drills provided entertainment during games at alumni field.

Photo by Jeff Montgomery.

Photo by Jerry Cushman.

JAZZ BAND. 1st row (l to r): Brian Snow, Doug Davis, Lee Fowlkes, Colby Canterbury, Carol Reeves, Jennifer Adamson, Matt Smith, Lewis Short. 2nd row: Jonathan Vest, Eric Bright, Spence Smith, John Pulley, David Senn, David White, Jonathan Sterling, Christian Suttle and Steve Bennett.

Photo by Jerry Cushman.

Photo by David Hickman.

CONCERT BAND. 1st row (l to r): Stuart Bennett, Rick Warpula, Anna Clements, Jeffry Rose, Nancy Bellcock, Laura Richardson. 2nd row: Melanie Hobbs, Michelle Cox, Lisa Madeley, Sherrine Henry, Teresa Amy, Amy Hawkins, Lyndi Grubbs, Kathy Chambers, Leah Barber, Caroline Fielder, Heather McLaughlin, Misty McDowell, Jessica Clark, Kim Ashby. 3rd row: Vickie Richardson, Grady Howell, Steve Williams, Jill Traylor, Jenny Adamson, Debbie Hawkins, Christian Suttle, Jonathan Sterling, Stephanie Vincent, Amy Jo Smith, Robinell Randall. 4th row: Jonathan Byrd, Lyn Williams, Carol Reeves, Colby Canterbury, David Senn, Allen Nesbitt, Steve Bennett, Jeff Terwilliger, Lewis Short, John Johnson, Matt Mellor, Doug Davis. 5th row: Jennifer Brandon, Heather Ellis, Scott Shapard, Marc Metz, Desiree Rees and Jimmy Knight.

THE BAND PLAYS ON. Lynn Williams uses his sousaphone to stir school spirit during a football game. The band contributed to crowd participation in victories over AIC opponents.

PEP BAND. 1st row (l to r): Susan Lepper, Carolyn Fielder, Lyndi Grubbs, Lanna Leach, Amy Hawkins, Moe Owens, Carol Reeves. 2nd row: Colby Canterbury, Ben Wiles, Jennifer Adamson, Vickie Richardson, Lewis Short, Steve Bennett. 3rd row: Mike Jones, Jonathan Sterling, Lynn Williams, Jimmy Knight and Doug Tracy.

Photo by Scott Busby.

CHAMBER ORCHESTRA. Kneeling (l to r): Misty McDowell, Jeffrey Rose. Standing: Jennifer Abunassar, Lisa Madeley, Lynn Hunt, Desiree Rees, Lisa Cook, Carol Reeves, Johnna Jones, Patricia Cox, Sara Healy, Lynn Tannahill and Michelle Wroblewski.

Photo by Jerry Cuthall.

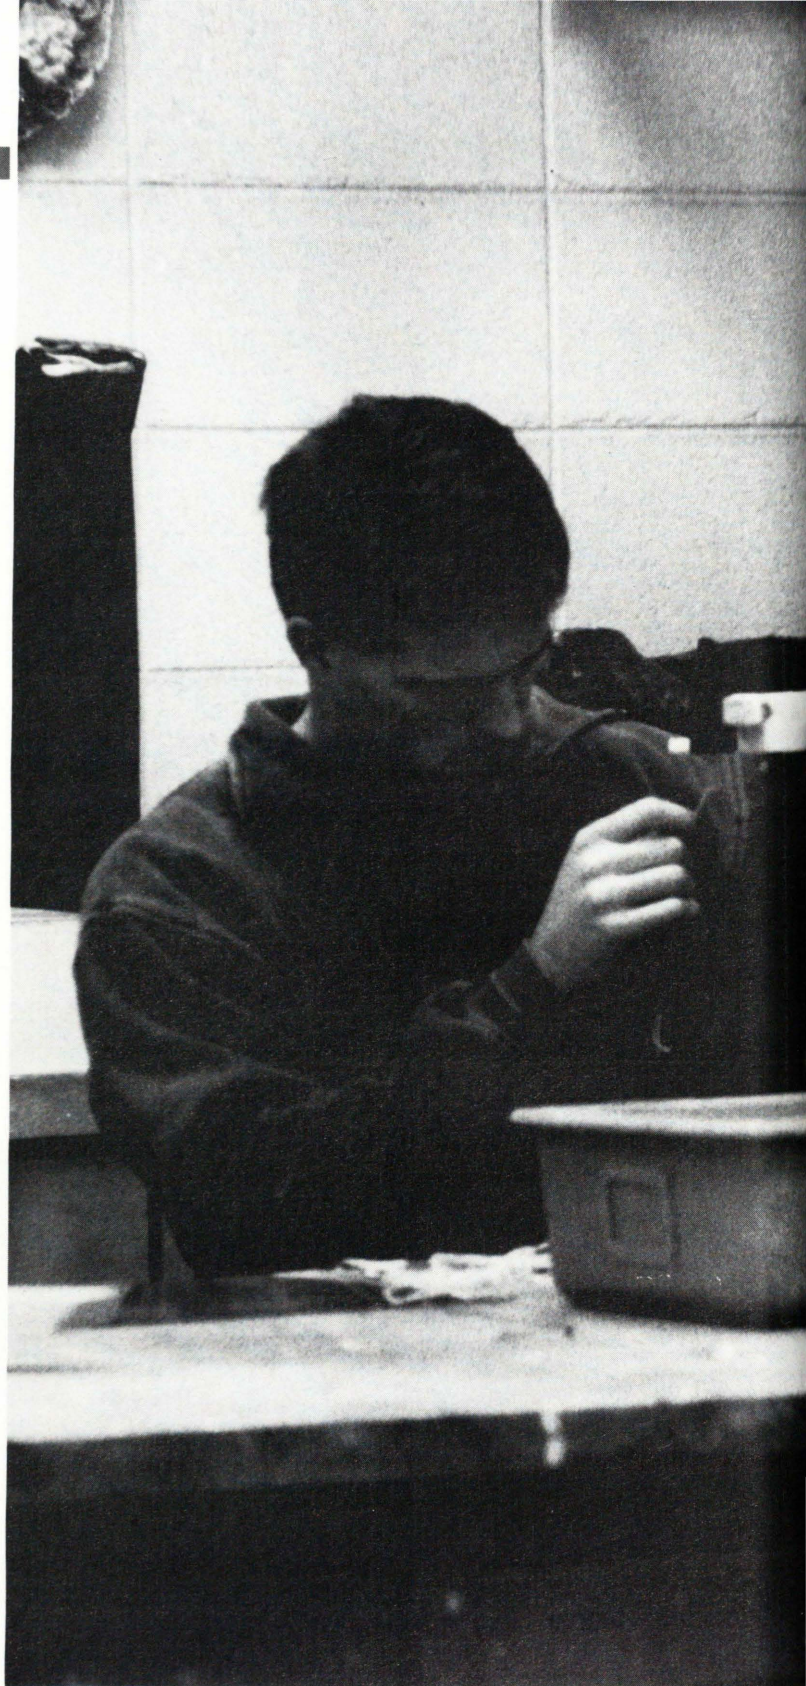

Photo by David Hickman.

AMERICAN CHORAL DIRECTORS ASSOCIATION. 1st row (l to r): Tammy Sallee, Amy Grant, Sharon Cheek, Chris Cash. 2nd row: Nancy Bellcock, Beth Hill, Tracy Ramseyer, Amy Showen. 3rd row: Misty McDowell, Denise Anderson, Robinel Randall, Jonathan Vest. 4th row: Chris Wagley, Joe Meador, Matt Mellor and Cliff Ganus.

TEDIOUS WORK. Matt Miller works on a project for his textiles class. Many art students were members of Kappa Pi honor society.

COLLEGE MUSIC EDUCATORS NATIONAL CONFERENCE. 1st row (l to r): Tammy Sallee, Amy Grant, Sharon Cheek. 2nd row: Nancy Bellcock, Denise Anderson, Jenny Adamson, Tracy Ramseyer. 3rd row: Warren Casey, Steve Bennet, John Scott. 4th row: G. E. Baggett, Lynn Williams and Matt Mellor.

Photo by David Hickman.

Photo by Jeff Cash.

KAPPA PI: Art Fraternity Enjoys Activities

The Epsilon Iota chapter of Kappa Pi national art fraternity carried the prestige earned through excellence in art. Seven inductees joined in the fall initiation to establish an active membership of 17.

At the initiation banquet in the Stevens Art Gallery, the fraternity colors, purple and gold, were pointed out as representing truth and sincerity. These colors were also found in the official flower, the purple iris, signifying excellence.

These ideal qualities were emulated by the chapter during the year and were recognized in others. Local school talent was also rewarded in the annual White County Art Exhibit. Generally, members "promoted the artistic achievement of others, encouraged one another and most importantly, praised God as the great artist (Col. 3:17)," said Diane Roof, a senior member of the organization.

Eligibility in Kappa Pi required that a student hold a 2.5 or higher GPA overall, and a minimum of a 3.0 in their art classes.

Each candidate must be a junior or senior with 15 hours of art class credits. "It was a great honor because it is so selective," said Jennifer Fly a senior from San Antonio, TX. "Not everyone could be in it. This was the select few," she added.

The summation of the purpose of Kappa Pi was shown by the organization's motto: "Art colors life and enriches living." ♦

— Katrina Shaw

KAPPA PI. 1st row (l to r): Anthony Guice, Greg Needles, Ronnie Ashlock, Jennifer Fly, Kathy Thompson, Faye Doran, Amy Thornton. 2nd row: Diane Roof, Beth Miller, John Bingaman, Jennifer Meyer, Laura Ngai and Janie Giles.

Photo by David Hickman.

AN ARTIST AT WORK. Patti Parrish puts the finishing touches on her paper-base sculpture. Art students spent many hours on projects to complete requirements for their classes.

Photo by David Hickman.

PIED PIPERS: Theatre Group Entertains

Most people wish at some point in their lives that they could be young again. The Pied Pipers get that wish granted again and again as they travel to schools and churches sharing love and laughter with the young and the young at heart. The Pied Pipers were an improvisational theatre troupe who sang and performed skits with a basic moral message. Children's eyes lit up with excitement through the performances and even adults in the audience could be caught getting with the spirit.

Piper Stacy Harris said, "During a show it's hard to believe that we are actually 11 mature college students, but we have so much fun on a children's level that we get caught up in it."

Piper Angie Treat added, "Pied Pipers allows us to do what Jesus said about becoming like a child. Looking at the world through a child's eyes is so wonderful. It puts everything in perspective."

Piper Malinda Moses said, "I like Pied Pipers because it lets us share the love that God has given us with children." An example of that special role Pipers play in the lives of many children is the story of one young boy. He laughed along with the other kids and spent time talking with one of the Pipers afterwards. As they were leaving, a teacher came running up to tell them that the little boy had been quiet and depressed since the divorce of his parents. The Pipers had helped to bring him out of his shell and he had begun to open up to his teachers. The Pipers say that situations like this made the long hours of work and travel worth every minute.

This unique group also continued to follow the advice of a special five-year-old friend: "Y'all keep sharing those hugs now, y'hear?" ♦

— Stacy Gaskin

PIPERS AT HOMECOMING. The Pied Pipers intrigue even the college students during a performance at Homecoming. They traveled to many schools and churches with their skits.

Photo by Jerry Cuthall.

IN A TRANCE. Allen Elrod son of Mark and Tish Elrod, is entranced by the Pipers performance. He was one of many children who enjoyed their shows.

Photo by Jerry Cuthall.

Photo by David Hickman.

CAMPUS PLAYERS. 1st row (l to r): Duane Jones, Sue Cash, Charles Adams, Christine Creasy, Eric Swenson. 2nd row: Jason Hewett, Jonathan Picklesimer, Jema McCardell, Morris Ellis, Robin Miller, Diane Roof and Matt Birch.

Photo by Jerry Cushman.

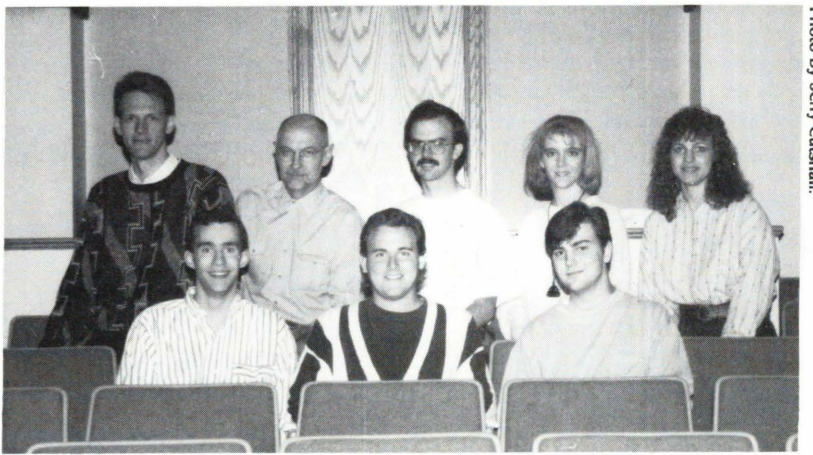

Photo by Jerry Cushman.

ALPHA PSI OMEGA. 1st row (l to r): Charles Adams, Eric Swenson, Duane Jones. 2nd row: Robin Miller, Morris Ellis, Jonathan Picklesimer, Jema McCardell and Sue Cash.

PIED PIPERS. 1st row (l to r): Michelle Evins, Amy Mitchusson. 2nd row: Malinda Moses, Jennifer Woods, Angie Treat, Donald Sandlin. 3rd row: Jim Layton, Charles Adams, Sue Cash and Stacy Harris.

Photo by Jeff Montgomery.

SOUND OF MUSIC. Chris Nuthak, David Rubio and Christine Creasy present roles in the Homecoming musical. They were active in musical and theatrical presentations throughout the year.

FORENSICS: Debaters Compete In Meets

There is a standard that most people set for themselves, and for the forensics squad this standard was excellence. Under the guidance of Dr. Patrick Garner, the squad was truly able to come closer to meeting their goals. The success of the debate team as well as the individual competitors created an atmosphere of cohesiveness between members which furthered their abilities to compete well against other schools.

Over the past several years several members have come and gone that have had an influence on this successful program. These include Kevin Keech, Lisa Cleaver, Jennifer Folding, Jason Foster, John Orum, and Tanya Tennyson.

In this current season, there were several important contributors. Of the individual participants, Steven Yates had an excellent senior year at his level of competition in the particular events he was involved with. Yates' dramatic duo partner, Tracy White, also had a terrific season competing alongside Yates as well as in her own events. Their major goal for this year was to qualify and compete well at the Individual Events National Tournaments.

Regarding the debate team, this season featured Craig

Lair, a senior, who had been a very successful component of this squad. Bryon Barnhill, a junior, as well as Roger Clayton a sophomore, had fine seasons as well. The rest of the team consisted of novices who seemed to be very promising. The major goal of the debate team was to place at the Ceda National Debate Tournament. With the level of commitment that both aspects of the program are displaying, this 1991-1992 season was one with victory written all over it. ♦

— Bryon Barnhill

FORENSICS. 1st row (l to r): Tami Billings, Stephanie Gengenbach, Karen Banks, Julie Anderson, Tracy White. 2nd row: Steven Yates, Roger Clayton, Craig Lair, Patrick Garner, Matt Shirel and Kenny Lyons.

Photo by Jerry Cushman.

PI KAPPA DELTA. 1st row (l to r): Tracy White, Stephanie Gengenbach, Tami Billings. 2nd row: Craig Lair, Julie Anderson, Matt Shirel, Karen Banks, Roger Clayton, Patrick Garner, Steven Yates and Kenny Lyons.

Photo by Jerry Cushman.

Photo by Jerry Cushman.

DACTYLOLOGY CLUB. 1st row (l to r): Carla Timms, Chamelia Branch, Rachel Branch, Mica Timms, Chris Ann McMurry, Tianna Hobby, Shannon Starks. 2nd row: Kristine Paskavich, Sara Hughes, Kari Heidecker, Karen Warren, Tracy Sharp, Julie Gardner, Stacy Gaskin, Tonya Lee, Tammy Sallee, Kerry Young, Linda Thompson. 3rd row: Zelda Mcurtry, Ramona Bankhead, Laura Rice, Lee Paden, Lisa DeYoung, Kristi Cash, Christy Sandlin, Ellen Hart, Faron Huggens and Orbray Hill.

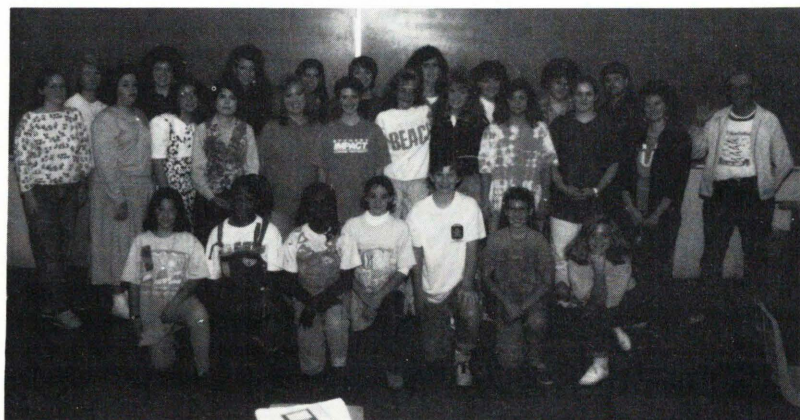

Photo by Jerry Cushman.

Photo by Jerry Cushman.

SSHA. 1st row (l to r): Carla Tipton, Shannon Black, Tammy Austin. 2nd row: Dena Harrell, Leslie Hammond, Lesli Ferguson, Chrysta Ferguson, Robert Hale. 3rd row: Jennifer Alexander, Steve Skaleski, Daniel C. Tullos, Rebecca Weaver and Trent Baker.

GETTING DOWN TO DETAILS. Roger Clayton and Bryan Barnhill rehearse their readings before a tournament. The forensics and debate teams competed successfully throughout the year.

Photo by Anissa Campbell.

COLLEGE BOWL. (l to r): Kevin West, George Pitcher, Stephanie Craven and Andrew Craven.

ON THE AIR. Karla Lopez operates the switcher while Barry Baggett checks the sound board. Students worked with live broadcasts to prepare for careers.

Photo by Dale Gaskin.

EQUIPMENT CHECK. Rick Trujillo adjusts the camera lens to prepare for a shoot. A graduate student, he won a national award at the annual convention.

KHCA. 1st row (l to r): Jill Cooper, Sandy Wallace, Melanie Whitehurst, Scott Lacey. 2nd row: Lou Butterfield, Jim Adcock and Darren Ellis.

Photo by Jerry Cuthall.

AERHO: National, Local Chapters Travel And Compete

Alpha Epsilon Rho was the National Honors Broadcasting Society. AERho has a national and local chapter at Harding. The national chapter was considered the honors chapter, and was sponsored by Dr. Louis Butterfield. Butterfield was also the state coordinator. The sponsor for the local chapter was Steven Frye.

Each Spring semester the chapter traveled to the national convention. Last year they spent five days in Hollywood, Calif., learning from the top broadcasting people in the nation. They heard talks from anchors, actors, and producers including Vin Di Bona, producer of America's Funniest Home Videos and America's Funniest People.

Students also had the chance to receive interview tips, have their resume's reviewed, and get advice on making it to the top. They also attended the tapings of America's Funniest Home Videos and Johnny Carson Show to see how the shows are put together and taped for broadcast.

AERho members could compete each year in regional and national conventions. They sent in various video footage of sports, talk shows, and entertainment, in both audio and visual competition. Competition also included Public Service Announcements and music videos. Students competed for awards, recognition and scholarships. Members who won scholarships were honored at an awards ceremony at the national convention. Scholarships were awarded based on grade point average, AERho participation and accomplishment.

AERHO. 1st row (l to r): Karla Lopez, Holly Fannin, Ashley Womack, Melanie Whitehurst. 2nd row: Rick Trujillo, Darren Irby, Nicole Beam, Judy Noguiera, Barry Baggett and Leslie Holland.

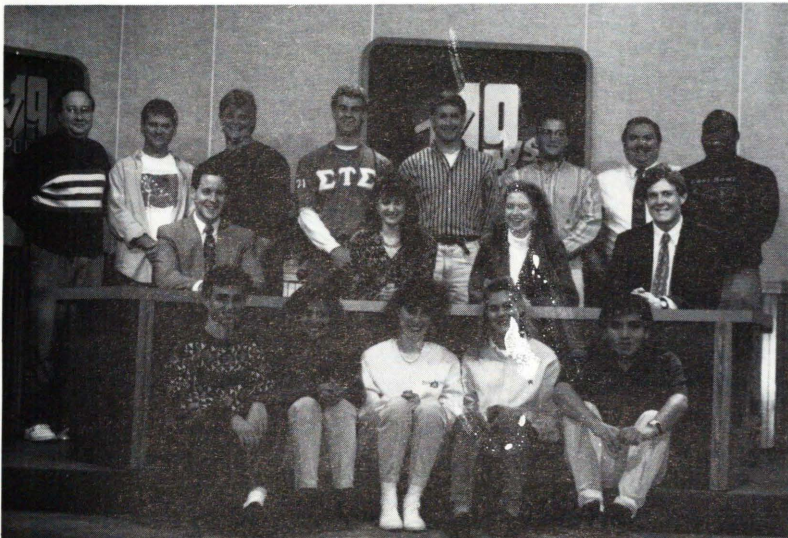

Photo by Dale Gaskin.

Harding brought home many awards including a Grand Prize for Mark Hodges' PSA against drug use. ♦

— Stacy Gaskin

TV-19. 1st row (l to r): Lee Hankins, Karla Lopez, Jane Ann Norton, LeAnn Pierce, Alex Martinez. 2nd row: Bart Roberts, Stephanie Johnson, Tracey Johnson, Steve Martin. 3rd row: Steven Frye, Russ Poteet, Fred Wiley, David White, Marlin Williams, Jeff Goodson, Lou Butterfield and Marcus Grayson.

Photo by David Hickman.

BISON STAFF. 1st row (l to r): Sherry Bryant, Laurence Kaasa, David Hickman, Ashley Cosby, Jan Bonds, Andrea Winget. 2nd row: Craig Lair, Kevin Kee, Melanie Johnson, Archie Shelton, Carmelita Bandy, Allen Busby, and Drew Rouhana.

Photo by Jeff Cash.

Photo by Anissa Campbell.

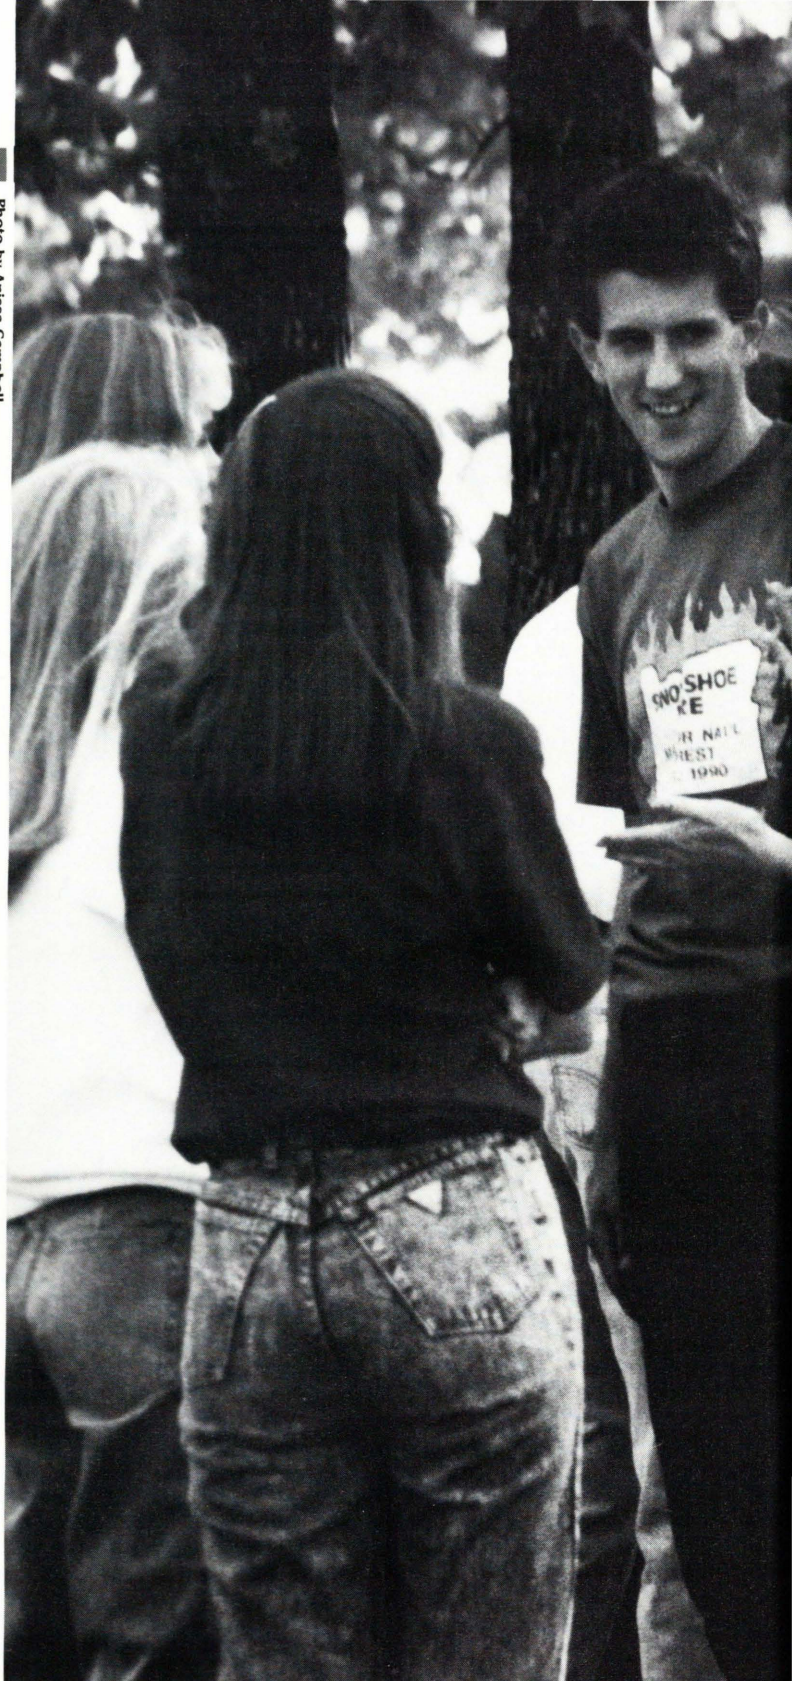

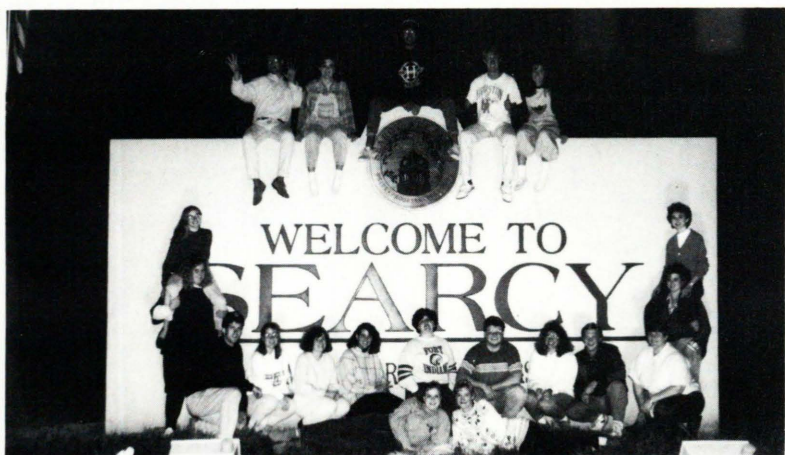

Photo by Jeff Cash.

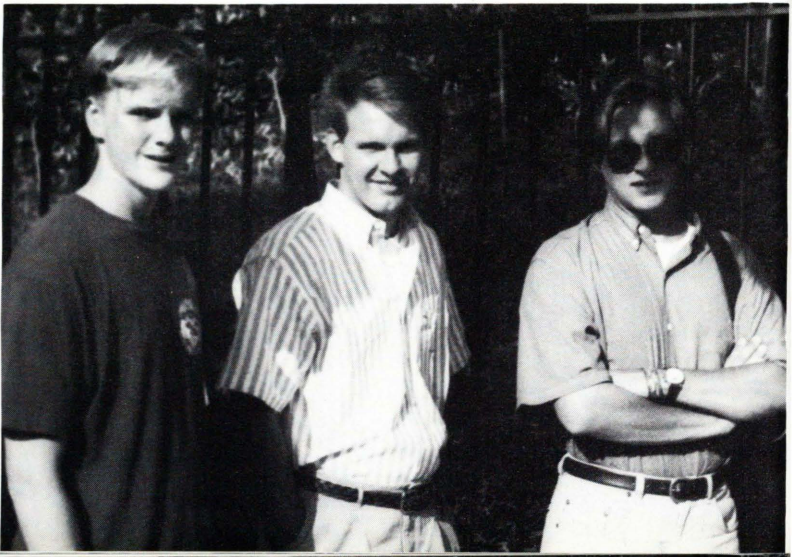

PETIT JEAN STAFF. 1st row (l to r): Lori Saari, Stacey Gaskin. 2nd row: Jeff Cash, Holly Wilkerson, Trina Shaw, Laura McFarland, Angela Anderson, Scott Baine, Vicki Jackson, Eric French, Kay Gowen (Adviser). 3rd row: Kristy Dalton, Anissa Campbell. 4th row: Laurie Simmons, Amy Johnson. 5th row: Scott Busby, Juanita Campbell, Robert McMullen, Jerry Cutshall, and Leah Mangrum.

SHARING THE WARMTH. Jeff and Kristi Cash from Gresham, Oregon, talk to prospective students during West Coast Weekend. VISA helped organize the weekend for high school students to visit Harding from the West Coast.

MEETING OF THE MINDS. Bison editor Craig Lair, Assistant Editor Kevin Kee, and Business Manager Allen Busby wait in line for a tour of the White House. Bison and Petit Jean editors visited Washington D.C. this summer for an annual student publications conference.

Photo by Anissa Campbell.

VISA: Students Take Charge Of Campus Promotions

Volunteers in Support of Admissions is an organization of the Admissions office which assists in recruiting students through letters, phone calls and campus visits. VISA participated in High School Days and High School Bowl in the fall and Youth Forum and Spring Sing Weekend in the spring semester. VISA enabled prospective students to see Harding as more than just buildings and programs, but as people.

Mark Moore, sponsor of VISA, believed that this organization developed a rapport with prospective students that recruiters couldn't. Moore explained "VISA members aren't paid to write letters or make calls. They do it because they want to." VISA members tried to make prospective students feel right at home with students and faculty."

One of the most successful activities that VISA assisted with was the West Coast Weekend. VISA members took part in the housing of and tours for visiting high school students. The prospective students arrived on a Friday and began the weekend with a traditional lily pool Devotional. Saturday was filled with activities that ranged from a picnic and campus tours to an Academic Fair. That evening they attended a student talent show and, afterwards, made a trip to Frozen D's.

Freshman Amanda Epton from Anchorage, Alaska hosted two students from the West Coast for the weekend. She said, "I feel that weekend was a great success because they were able to stay with students from their home state. I really feel that they enjoyed the weekend, because when Sunday rolled around they both said they wanted to stay and start school now." ♦

— Scott Busby

VISA. 1st row (l to r): Rob Mellilo, Murphy Crowson, Dana Deree, Eric Swenson, Todd Hook, Kevin Kee, Keith Malek, Ben Wiles, Eric French. 2nd row: Beth Howard, Meredith McAfee, Tessa Brock, Farah Mackey, Jill Wood, Kim Beach, Beth Martin, Cara Orr, Holly Robertson, Sara Hughes, April Lemon, Amanda Epton, Paula Silbernagel, Linda McMullen, Christine Richhart, Annette Prior. 3rd row: Scott Baine, Kimberly Shidiskis, Ayanna Evans, Kaci Bolls, Vena Rushing, Kristy Dawdy, Monica Kimbrell, Lisa Livingston, Melissa Dennison, Sarah Harper, Glen Metheny, Amy Moore, and Shane Lank.

Photo by Jeff Cash.

Harding Hosts. 1st row (l to r): Melissa Roberson, Lisa York, Karen DeWoody, Christy Campbell, Roxi Toms, Leah Barber, Janelle McFarland. 2nd row: Mandy Prosser, Terry Davis, Anna Conley, Kathy Meadows, Shelley Walls, Terry Davis, Laura Rice, and Lisa Tacker.

Photo by Jeff Cash.

WHO'S WHO: Sixty-Three Selected

Sixty-three Harding students were listed in the 1992 edition of Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges. Since 1934, the publication has honored students nationwide who have been selected annually as outstanding campus leaders.

Campus nominating committees and the annual directory included these students based on their academic achievement, service to the community, leadership in extracurricular activities and potential for continued success. More than 1400 institutions of higher learning were represented.

Selections were made from a large number of students who had completed at least 90 hours with a cumulative grade point average of 2.50 or higher. All candidates were nominated by faculty members and were active in campus organizations. "We try to honor students who are representative of the mission and philosophy of Harding University," said Dr. Jerome M. Barnes, Vice President of Student Affairs and Chairman of the nominating committee. ♦

— Kay Gowen

Photo by Anissa Campbell.

Photo by Jerry Cuthall.

WHO'S WHO. (l to r): Malia Reddick, Wendy Ward, Shelley Walls, Lori West, Marsha Vaughn, Diane Roof, and Chuck Roe.

WHO'S WHO. (l to r): Kris Citty, Julie Ryan, Kevin West, Russell Moody, Steve Martin, Kris Collins, Anna Conley and Dean Priest Jr.

Photo by Jerry Cuthall.

CONGRATULATIONS. Seniors Lee Fowlkes and Ashley Cosby share a special moment. Both were selected for inclusion in Who's Who Among College and University Students.

WHO'S WHO. (l to r): Tim Gerber, Jennifer McMullen, Bill Oldham, Michelle Rozmarynowycz, Shari Reaves and Emily Snowden.
Photo by Jerry Cushman.

WHO'S WHO. (l to r): Arlene Gibson, Julie Huffman, Craig Lair, Susan Humphry, Kevin Keech and Tracy Boyd.
Photo by Jerry Cushman.

WHO'S WHO. (l to r): Jim Hobby, Suzanne Dunlap, Scott Genry, Amy Gibbons, John Folding and Tom Gerber.
Photo by Jerry Cushman.

WHO'S WHO. (l to r): Lee Fowlkes, Ashley Cosby, Joe Dugger, Katie Bell, Tom Duncan and David Bell.
Photo by Jerry Cushman.

ALPHA CHI. 1st row (l to r): Melissa Smith, Sondra Smith, Michelle Ponds, Karen Martin, Beth Martin. 2nd row: Laura Qualls, Shannon Black, Dave Adams, Brian Speer, Steve Martin, Lee Fowlkes, Ashley Cosby and Lisa Cunningham.

Photo by David Hickman.

Photo by David Hickman.

ALPHA CHI. 1st row (l to r): Wendy Waite, Mariane Sassi, Renee Webb, Jennifer Swinea, Brenda Bryant, Jennifer Beverly. 2nd row: Alan Martin, Jill Cooper, Ray Anderson, Steve Tate, George Pitcher, Charles Adams, David Stephens and Kristi Dawdy.

SLICING AND DICING. Senior Katie Bell volunteered to help the Alpha Chi officers prepare the reception for the induction ceremony. Parents, as well as all students on academic scholarships, were invited to attend.

ALPHA CHI. 1st row (l to r): Melanie Johnson, Amy Johnson, Shari Reaves, Kelli Kubala, Wendy Ward. 2nd row: Omar Silvestre Ortiz, C. Lindon Hulse, David Blankenship, Craig Lair and David Bell.

Photo by David Hickman.

ALPHA CHI: Arkansas Eta Chapter Inducts 155 Members

Alpha Chi is a national honor society of college and university students in the top 10 percent of their classes. Harding's Arkansas Eta chapter inducted 84 members during the fall semester and 71 in the spring. Total membership for the 1991-92 academic year was 247.

Eligibility for membership required that a student have at least a 3.55 grade point average on 104 credit hours or a 3.75 gpa on 80 credit hours.

Inductees in the fall were Darrell Amy, Dave Adams, Melvin Anderson, Braden Ash, Shannon Black, Tracy Boyd, Mark Burt, Bonnie Chandler, Karalyn Christy, Samuel Clark, Lisa Cook, Andrew Craven, Jill Creighton, Laura Degnan, Karen DeWoody, Don Dillard, Greg Downum, Mark Drum, Scott Drumheller, Matt Eastman, Shari Edmunson, Paul Finley, David Flores, Jennifer Fly, Joel Henderson, Amy

Hicks, Steve Horne, Amy Horsman and Julie Huffman.

Also inducted were Tracy Jennings, Amy Johnson, Stefanie Jones, Kevin Keech, Anthony Keele, Gail Kellems, JoAnne Kellems, JoAnne King, Jenny Kwa, Stacy Kymes, Kelly Livingston, Malinda Lucky, Russ Maile, Alan Martin, Beth Martin, Karen Martin, Robert McAdams, Sharon Middleton, Carolyn Miller, Brian Mitchell, Jason Nier, Ernest Oest Jr., Daniel Owen, Sherry Pace, Cheryl Page, Cecilia Parra, Chris Pillay, Desiree Rees, Jennifer Reynolds, Samantha Rice and Ryan Richardson.

Others were Sophonia Roe, Michelle Rozmarynowyca, Marianne Sassi, Scott Shappard, Jay Shipman, Kirk Smith, Kristi Smith, Kristina Smith, Sondra Smith, Bekki Snyder, Carla Sparks, Michelle Stein, David Stephens, Barbara Turner, Alcides Viquez, Wendy

Waite, Sandra Wallace, Shelley Walls, Thomas Watson, Kevin West, Melissa Wilder, Laura York, Kris Ann Collins, Carrie Tallant and Renee Webb.

During the spring induction, the organization added Laura Adams, Richard Bankhead, Stacy Beck, Ana Bonilla, Sandra Bouchareb, Tracy Brothers, Amber Brown, Stephen Burks, Philip Chafin, Jill Cooper, Donald Coriell, Ashley Cosby, Dana Crane, Sonya Curtis, Tyler Cutshall, Brenda Davidson, Julian Davis, Kristy Dawdy, Denise Ferguson, Eric French, Arlene Gibson, Diana Goad, Deana Gregor, Ellen Gullick, Vicki Hobby, Kim House, Nathan Howard and Kelsie Hutchison.

Also inducted were Dave Jacobs, Melanie Johnson, Tammy Kodatt, Shawn Kell, Tracy Kibler, Jason King, Jay King, Chandra Latimer, Pat Massey, Andrew Mawdsley, Jay Miller, Frankie Mitchell, Scott Nahigian, Jennifer Neal, Jacqueline Nichols, Bill Oldham Jr., Marsha Osborne, Tim Page, Shanna Philips, Allen Plunk, Nuria Portabella, Laura Pronia, Lara Qualls, Chris Ann Quigley and Tracy Ramseyer.

Others were Leigh Reaves, Veronica Reulbach, Christopher Robinson, Chris Rone, Dodi Samuel, Amy Showen, Kristi Sibert, David Smith, Jennifer Swinea, Amy Tess, Matt Thompson, DeLayne Throckmorton, Johnny Tollett, Christy Tucker, Brent Vaughan, Shayla Waters, Heather Wells and Lori Woodson. ♦

INDUCTION CEREMONY. Karen DeWoody and Don Dillard proudly hold their induction candles as they watch the rest of their peers participate in the ceremony. Eighty-four members were inducted during the fall semester.

Photo by Kristy Dalton.

ALPHA CHI: 1st row (l to r): Nuria Portabella, Jennifer Neal, Shayla Waters, Tracy Kibler, Dodi Samuel. 2nd row: Pat Massey, Anissa Campbell, Shelley Walls, Amy Tess, Christy Tucker, Shelley O'Cull, Amy Showen, Veronica Newbach and Shawn Kell.

Photo by David Hickman.

ALPHA CHI: Officers Direct Convention Plans

Alpha Chi membership was a national honor recognizing students who excelled academically. The organization maintained a local chapter which focused its attention on induction of new members and preparation of presenters for the regional convention.

Anna Conley, a senior accounting major from Searcy, served as president of the Arkansas Eta chapter. A senior art major from White Bear Lake, Mich., Diane Roof was vice president of the organization.

Anissa Campbell, a senior English and Spanish major from Texarkana, Ark., served as secretary of Alpha Chi while Nichols, Iowa native, Mark Pruitt, a senior accounting major, served as treasurer. Chantelle Bequette, a senior chemistry major from Russellville, Ark., was the student representative at the national meetings.

Approximately fifteen sponsors, officers, and members attended the regional Alpha Chi convention at Centenary in Shreveport, La., in April. A part of Region II, which includes part of Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, and Louisiana, Harding's chapter had four representatives who presented academic papers at the convention.

"The convention is the main event for Alpha Chi each year," said Dr. Don England. "The students present papers, much like graduate school papers. It is an excellent opportunity for students to develop professionally," he said.

In addition, Alpha Chi officers in association with their sponsors, worked with the College Bowl program, an extra-curricular activity that involves sending a quiz team to compete with other universities and colleges in a current events/basic knowledge contest. Alpha Chi sponsored the activity in an attempt to better support scholarship and knowledge acquisition at Harding.

— Kay Gowen

ALPHA CHI OFFICERS. (l to r): Mark Pruitt, Treasurer; Diane Roof, Vice President; Chantelle Bequette, Student Representative; Anissa Campbell, Secretary; and Anna Conley, President.

ALPHA CHI. 1st row (l to r): Frankie Mitchell, Carrie Tallant, Samantha Rice, Myleea Hill, Ana Bonilla, Shannon Owen. 2nd row: Ryan Richardson, Mark Vaughn, Arden Miller, Darrell Amy, Anthony Keele and Matt Davis.

Photo by Anissa Campbell.

Photo by Kristy Dalton.

Photo by David Hickman.

ALPHA CHI. 1st row (l to r): Desiree Rees, Lori Woodson, Vicki Hobby, Laura Pronia and Leigh Reaves. 2nd row: Robert McAdam, Dave Jacobs, Lisa Cook, Dana Crane and Laura Adams.

Photo by David Hickman.

Photo by David Hickman.

ALPHA CHI. 1st row (l to r): Ellen Gullick, Shanna Phillips and Sonya Curtis. 2nd row: Matt Thompson, Stacy Beck and Brent Vaughan.

DOMESTIC AT HEART. Chantelle Becquette and Anna Conley prepare the hor d'vours for the Alpha Chi induction reception. The ceremony was held during Parents' weekend so visitors could attend.

Photo by Kristy Dalton.

WAITING IN LINE. Shannon Black and Tracy Boyd await the announcement of their names for induction into Alpha Chi. The two were among 84 students who gained membership in the fall.

ALPHA CHI. 1st row (l to r): Julie Huffman, Chris Ann Quigley, Jennifer Fly, Kristina Smith. 2nd row: Russell Moody, Tyler Cutshall, Tom Duncan and Scott Sheppard.

Photo by David Hickman.

Photo by David Hickman.

ALPHA CHI. 1st row (l to r): Melissa Wilder, Faith Seay, Arlene Gibson, Jill Creighton. 2nd row: Jason King, Julian Davis, Lanier Tucker, Allen Plunk, Bill Oldham Jr. and Scott Nahigian.

FINISHING UP. Katie Bell and Diane Roof finish preparing an appetizer. Both assisted Patty Barrett in coordinating the Alpha Chi reception in the Olen Hendrix building.

ALPHA CHI. 1st row (l to r): Patricia Salman, Diane Roof, Anna Conley, Maria Alfaro, Christopher Robinson. 2nd row: Richard Bankhead, Brian Mitchell, Luis Alonso Castro, David Flores and Alcides Viquez.

Photo by David Hickman.

Photo by Anissa Campbell.

ALPHA CHI: Sponsors Promote Organization

The Arkansas Eta chapter of Alpha Chi was sponsored by six faculty and/or administrators during 1991-92. They were Dr. Don England, distinguished professor of chemistry; Dr. Dennis Organ and Dr. Larry Long, professors of English; Dr. Arthur Shearin, professor of music; Patty Barrett, director of housing; and Dr. Neale Pryor, vice president for academic affairs.

England, the head sponsor of the Harding chapter, was appointed to the position by Dr. David Burks, university president. As coordinator for the group's membership and club activities, England worked with the university in scheduling, sending invitations for membership and distributing information to members. He also corresponded with the national organization.

Organ and Long were student-elected assistant sponsors for Alpha Chi at Harding. Organ was responsible for coordinating the election of officers for the chapter and for assisting in preparation for the regional convention. Long focused his attention on selection of nominees for and publicity of the Nolle scholarship and Benedict fellowship awards.

Pryor, Shearin and Barrett were assistant sponsors appointed by England. Pryor's role was largely in connection with his regular duties as academic vice president of the university. Shearin was responsible for planning, coordinating and executing induction ceremonies and officer installations. Barrett worked with the organization in planning social functions and in proper recognition of honorees at graduation exercises.

In addition, Dr. Joseph E. Pryor, although retired from his teaching position at Harding, still functioned as the Executive Director of Alpha Chi nationally. Organ also, in addition to his other obligations to the Arkansas Eta chapter, served as the Editor-in-Chief of The Recorder, a journal of undergraduate scholarship of Alpha Chi members as well as a record of the business of the society. The national home office of Alpha Chi is also based at Harding University, Searcy, Ark. ♦

— Kay Gowen

ALPHA CHI SPONSORS: (l to r): Arthur Shearin, Patty Barrett, Don England and Larry Long.

Photo by David Hickman.

ALPHA CHI. 1st row (l to r): Kimberly House, Tracy Ramseyer, Laura Deckard, Laura York, Sherry Pace. 2nd row: Jim Hobby, Michele Rozmarzynowycz, Kevin Keech, Elizabeth Crockett and Gail Kellems.

Photo by David Hickman.

