

Because the Bible is accepted as the real guide to the development of Christian character, everyone is required to enroll in one Bible class.

Harding recognizes the possibility of christian youth who go out into the world with the Word of God interwoven into the very fiber of their lives.

Brother Armstrong loves his work with the freshmen. He and Brother Baxter teach Matthew, Acts, and Hebrews, which all newcomers are required to take.

In these Bible courses the students receive daily a happy blending of teaching and inspiration from men who have been in this type of work for as many as forty-five years.

Many students take for their junior and senior work classes under Brother Batsell Baxter, who teaches most of the third and fourth year work. This is his third year at Harding, but he is by no means a stranger in the field of Christian education. He has served as president in three of our Christian Colleges. Logical teaching and geniality are blended in his classes.

The Missionary Forum meets each Friday night to study evangelistic methods. Some of the teachers or students who have been on foreign fields often speak. From this group have gone a number of foreign missionaries.

A chairman is selected each quarter who has charge of the program. This year the chairmen were: Harry Fox, Jack Nadeau, and Dale Larsen.

J. N. ARMSTRONG

B. F. RHODES

B. BAXTER

S. A. BELL

J. L. DYKES

Brother B. F. Rhodes is also a veteran in Bible work. Brother S. A. Bell has been teaching Old Testament classes for years and is quite adept at it. Brother J. L. Dykes has devoted most of his attention to young preaching students and has been invaluable in this work.

Chapel provides each school day with a pause for real devotion. Here the students receive ideals that will live after other experiences at Harding are forgotten. Each one is able to do the day's work better after entering wholeheartedly into the song, and quietly engaging in prayer to God.

Another of Harding's religious services is the Wednesday night prayer meeting. It is very beneficial in aiding the young preachers and song leaders. Vespers is one of the last activities of the day, one that leaves your mind in a pleasant state.

Despite all of the limitations brought by the war, the student preachers have continued to make their regular appointments in Arkansas, Tennessee, and Missouri.

Some of their experiences might discourage anyone else, but not these determined young men. Many of them find the greatest hospitality, and learn the meaning of Christian generosity in the southern homes they visit. In some cases the congregations would be without leadership except for these young enthusiasts.

OTIS GATEWOOD

BARNEY MOREHEAD

The Thanksgiving lecture program this year with the theme "World-Wide Evangelism" was considered by many as one of the best in years.

The chief speaker, Brother Otis Gatewood, won the entire student body with his sincerity and simplicity. He has been doing a fruitful work in Salt Lake City. The church there now sponsors a regular radio program with other work. Last summer a number of Christian workers, young preachers and teachers, went to assist him in a great united effort of evangelism. James D. Bales and Dale Larsen were Harding representatives in this work.

Among the speakers, two others have had actual experience in missionary work. Brother George S. Benson, and Brother Barney Morehead.

Other speakers were: Brother J. N. Armstrong, William Medearis, E. W. McMillan, Batsell Baxter, T. B. Thompson, Norvel Young, and J. P. Sanders.
