

THE SOUND OF MUSIC. Roger Cooper, senior, strums his guitar during a Time of Day concert on the lawn during Student Impact. Time of Day performed at many campus functions, as well as many off campus events. -Photo by Brian Lovegrove.

ASLEEP ON THE JOB. Pied Pipers, Harding's improvisational children's theatre troupe, act out their story while "sleeping" during their Homecoming performance on the front lawn. The Pipers, under the direction of Andrew Kronenwetter, travelled to various cities performing for children. — Photo by Sharon Bowles.

Endless Opportunities

Harding was blessed with people possessing many different talents and interests. However diversified the personalities may have been, the ultimate goals remained the same. First and foremost was the glorification of God, with striving to excel academically, and furthering one's personal talents following.

Whether spiritually, musically, or professionally, everyone wanted to learn more and to be better at whatever they did. That was the objective of the organizations at Harding University. Working together, organizations helped us learn to reach out, to be included, to stand up and be counted. From Pre-Med to "Dr. Who", it didn't matter if your area of expertise was artistic, academic, or simply out of the ordinary; there was an opportunity for everyone to join in the activities.

With people coming together in organizations such as the Thundering Herd, JOY, the Crew, Pied Pipers, and American Studies, just to name a few, the opportunities were endless.

-Lilli A. Carlton
Organizations Editor

STRIKE UP THE BAND! John Johnson, senior, gives his all to a Thundering Herd performance. The Thundering Herd played for the football games and helped the crowd cheer for the Bisons. -Photo by Sharon Bowles.

Music Organizations:

Chamber Orchestra, Concert Band, Jazz Band and Pep Band played on and off campus representing Harding

From easy to upbeat sound, Harding's instrumental bands worked to perfect their performances. The Chamber Orchestra, Concert Band, Jazz Band, and Pep Band continued to provide a variety of musical sounds for everyone.

The Chamber Orchestra, directed by Patricia Cox, performed at weddings, banquets, schools, and teas. The orchestra's main performance was in the Homecoming musical, Brigadoon. "For this size college, it is fortunate to have students willing to participate," said Mrs. Cox.

Dr. Warren Casey directed both a forty-six member wind Concert Band and a seventeen piece Jazz Band. The Concert Band's activities consisted of four on-campus performances and a outdoor spring concert directed by students. Dr. Casey reflected, "this year's activities resulted in outstanding musical performances, especially those on our southwest tour."

"The student response in chapel indicates that we're playing the music they want to hear," Dr. Casey said of the Jazz Band. Along with the shows in chapel, the Jazz Band performed in other shows and backed Spring Sing performers. The band is Harding's only year-round group. Dr. Casey also directed the Holiday Band which was a group that played during Christmas time. They performed in chapel, at the Capital in Little Rock, and once in the community.

The Pep Band consisted of about 20 musicians. It was directed by students Mike Howard and Danetta Townsdin. They played popular 60's and 70's and 80's music. They also played during halftime and timeouts at the men's home basketball games. "The Pep Band is most fun because it involves committed musicians that cooperate to perform well and support the team," said director Danetta Townsdin.

— Cayelynn Osbourne

PICCOLO. Michelle Alderson, Concert Band Member, warms up for a performance. The Concert Band had a student-directed spring concert on Harding's campus. — Photo by Sharon Bowles.

PEP BAND. Front row: Scott Shappard, Grady Howell, Melanie Hobbs; Second row: David Senn, Jennifer Brandon, David White, Lee Fowlkes, Kirk Bowman; Third row: Lori Fischer, John Tebo, Robinel Randall, Mike Howard; Back row: Fred Young, Matt Mellor, Doug Tracey. — Photo by Wayne Westerholm.

CHAMBER ORCHESTRA. Front row: Johnna Jones, Shanon Chism, Sally Keller, Lisa Cook, Desiree Rees, Rachel Roberson; Back row: Patricia Cox (sponsor), Julie Weibel, Jeff Rose, Bill Everett, Spencer Ervin. — Photo by Wayne Westerholm.

CONCERT BAND. Front row: Suzanne Perry, Jill Limbrunner, Danetta Townsdin, Amy Hawkins, Lydia Stephans, Michelle Alderson, Melanie Hobbs, Jennifer Brandon; Second row: Beverly Bates, Kirk Bowman, Julie Weibel, Michelle Cox, Becky Harper, Rachel Dye, Kathy Chambers, Amy Smith, Jeff Rose, Robinel Randall; Third row: Doug Tracy, Marc Metz, Lee Fowlkes, David Senn, Keith Moore, Teki Moore, Sheryl Hertter, John Johnson, Mike Howard; Fourth row: Grady Howell, Jimmy Knight, Jeff Hawkins, John Tebo, Lori Fischer, Clif Mims, Shawn Spradley; Back row: Scott Shappard, Alex Blackmon, Matt Mellor, Jeffrey Terwilliger, Scott White, Steve Ritter. — Photo by Sharon Bowles.

JAZZ BAND. Front row: Lori Fischer, Sheryl Hertter, Scottie White, Julie Weibel, Teki Moore, Alan Nesbitt, David Senn, Philip DeYoung; Back row: Eric Bright, Matt Davis, David White, Kirk Bowman, Lee Fowlkes, Jeff Hawkins. — Photo by Jeff Montgomery.

LISTEN TO THE MUSIC. Teki Moore, jazz and concert band member, and Becky Harper explore their feelings, through music during Wellness Week. The bands provided enjoyment for people on campus as well as in other places. — photo by Wayne Westerholm.

TIME OF DAY. Roger Cooper, Cary Stone Spence Smith, Tray Chandler. — Photo by Ken Bissell.

UNIVERSITY SINGERS. Front row: Esther Conkling, Carla Tipton, Ivette Rogers, Teddi Harris, Sandy Lamp, Jan Bonds, Sandra Etheridge, Lynn Tannahill; Second row: Susan Spencer, Michelle Just, Rebecca Farrar, Janine Williams, Dawn Pinner, Shannon Hogan, Jill Limbrunner; Third row: Laura Reagan, Stephanie Lawrence, Christa Reese, Eme Belo, Loana Cooper, Sayang Tan, Marianne Crouch, Amy Horsman; Fourth row: Bekki Snyder, Dirk Westfall, Christopher Robinson, Chuck Roe, Kirk Smith, Mike Arnette, Amy Smith, Shelley Walls; Back row: Jeff Rose, Bruce Bryant, Kirk McEuen, Bob Boaz, Jason Vogal, Rod Bradley, Eric Rainey, Glenn Dallmann, Kyle Golt. — Photo by Ken Bissell.

UNIVERSITY CHORUS. Front row: Ben Boyd, Lori Girdley, Tim O'Neal, Robin Worrell, Dave Adams, Marianne Sassy, Donald Sandlin, Amy Hicks, Jody Wood, Sheryl Hertz, Eric Swenson; Second row: Michelle Crafton, Charles Adams, Kim Jones, Murphy Crowson, Tracy Ramseyer, Jim McCardell, Dawn Cantrell, Matt Mellor, Laura Casey, Jonathan Nail, Shelley Titus, Ryan Gibbons; Third row: Teki Moore, Chuck Roe, Jema Graeter, Keith Moore, Ann Love Gill, Chris Cash, Deanna Taylor, Brian Leep, Gina Shands, Bubba Cook, Lisa Ramseyer, John Folding; Fourth row: Bobby Broughton, Laura Henderson, Greg Needles, Susan VanEaton, Eric Lindsey, Kamlin Martin, David Sproles, Angela Logue, Jim McFarland, Connie Gallo-way, David Henry, Lauren Merritt; Back row: Alan Nesbitt, Rebekah Harding, Sandy Cash, Marisa Thomas, Matt May, Sherry Joyner, Phil Richardson, Kimberly Garner, Paul Richardson, Angie Bain, Chuck Ramseyer. Photo by Ken Bissell.

BELLES AND BEAUX. David White, Angie Bain, Murray Sanderson, Missy Green, Bobby Broughton, Julie Svymbersky, Ben Boyd, Kim Jones, Gilbert Loone, Ann Love Gill. — Photo by Ken Bissell.

YOU DON'T SAY?! Michelle Just, sophomore member of the University Singers, talks with a friend at a mixer. The University Singers had about 45 members. — Photo by Lex Owens.

Music Groups:

Time of Day, University Singers, University Chorus and Belles and Beaux sang their way into the hearts of their audiences

The Time of Day, Belles and Beaux, The University Chorus, and the University Singers provided opportunities for growth and expression through music. One performer commented that the organizations provided a "support group."

Ten performers, Dr. Cliff Ganus III, a manager and a choreographer met three times a week throughout the year to rehearse a "mixture of standards, current hits, show tunes, and comedy," according to Dr. Ganus. Belles and Beaux performed on Homecoming and Spring Sing weekends and in chapel. They also sang for a junior/senior banquet in Tennessee, a Christmas banquet in Benton, A, and gave concerts in Tulsa and at Central Arkansas Christian School.

Returning for the second year, the University Singers was made up of students who enjoyed singing and wanted to learn about choral music. The group performed at area congregations and at the Christian College Choral Festival held at Abilene Christian University, shortly before the second semester began. The forty-five singers, also directed by Dr. Ganus, rehearsed twice weekly.

A group of four male students got together to form the 1988-90 Time of Day. The group traveled throughout the school year to perform for high school students and youth groups. They served as ambassadors for Harding in this way, as well as performing for chapel, Student Impact, and various other activities on Harding's campus. For Trey Chandler, the best part of being involved with Time of Day was "being able to perform for people who enjoy it."

The University Chorus spent most of their performance time at congregations, throughout the United States, performing for lectureships and youth rallies. They also sang for some high school programs, and they planned to tour Europe during the summer of 1990. While traveling extensively, the group established close friendships with each other. The University Chorus was said to be "the best experience any student could have on the Harding campus," by member Ben Boyd.

— Shelley Walls

DRUMMER. Spence Smith, sophomore, keeps up the beat with the other members of the Time of Day. Time of Day was a popular source of entertainment on the Harding campus. — Photo by Brian Lovegrove.

Music Groups:

C-MENC, Student ACDA, Thundering Herd, and Concert Choir educated and entertained students and guests

Future music teachers, music majors, and those just interested in music had many opportunities to pursue and practice their chosen field and interest through the Concert Choir, the Thundering Herd, C-MENC, and the student ACDA.

The Concert Choir sang for many Churches of Christ. In the fall, they attended an all night "Sing Song" at a Church in Texarkana and the Abilene Christian Choral Festival. They also sang at a "Clean-Up Day" in Heber Springs. In the spring, they visited St. Louis, singing at various locations along the way. They also sang in Memphis. The Concert Choir was under the direction of Dr. Arthur Shearin.

The Thundering Herd supported the Bisons during the football games; and the band, led by Drum Major, Johnny Scott entertained the fans during halftime at the games. The members enjoyed being together and rooting for the Bisons. Percussionist, Jennifer Brandon said, "It's a great way to make a lot of friends - we get real close."

C-MENC, the student affiliation of the professional organization for music teachers, attended workshops in Little Rock and Pine Bluff. They served the music department by providing refreshments at music auditions and keeping those auditioning occupied while they waited. The organization was co-sponsored by Dr. George Baggett and Dr. Warren Casey.

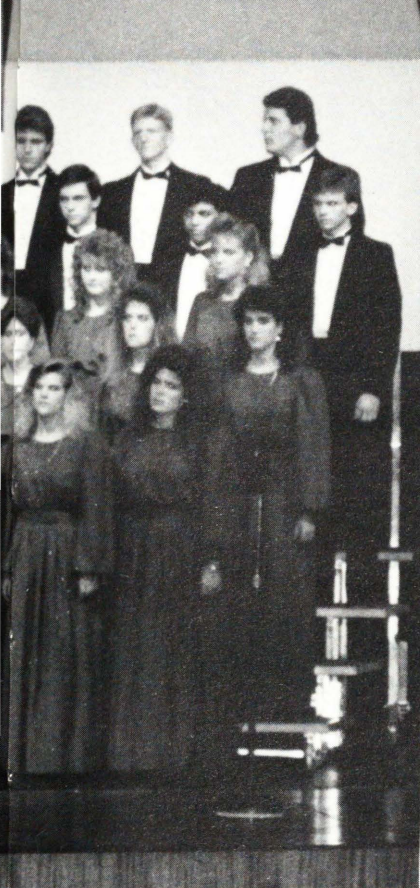

The Harding chapter of the American Choral Directors Association was an organization for students interested in choral directing. They attended a regional convention in Little Rock and assisted with an all-state audition workshop on campus, among other activities. The organization was sponsored by Dr. Cliff Ganus III.

— Lilli Carlton

OUR NEXT SELECTION. Dr. Arthur Shearin directs the Concert Choir in a performance during Lectureship. The choir performed for Churches of Christ and other functions. — Photo by Sharon Bowles.

PERCUSSION. Jennifer Brandon a Thundering Herd member, plays the band's percussions. The Thundering Herd entertained fans at football games. — Photo by Sharon Bowles.

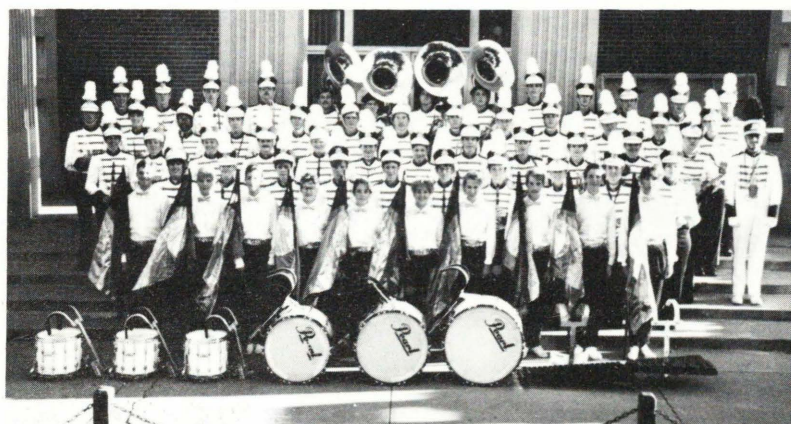

C-MENC. Front row: Matt Mellor, Amy Bowman, Robinel Randall, Warren Casey (co-sponsor); Second row: Julie Weibel, Lori Fischer, Sheryl Hertter, Leanne Baker, Danetta Townsdin; Third row: John Scott, Marisa Thomas, Melanie Hobbs, Bob Boaz, Holly Hughes; Back row: Jody Wood, Lara Qualls, Trey Gossett, G.E. Baggett (co-sponsor). — Photo by Jeff Montgomery.

STUDENT ACDA. Front row: Teki Moore, Amy Bowman, Amy Hunter, Holly Hughes; Back row: Cliff Ganus III (sponsor), Lara Qualls, Sharon Anderson, Keith Moore. — Photo by Jeff Montgomery.

THUNDERING HERD. The Thundering Herd, under the direction of Dr. Warren Casey, performed at halftime and supported the Bisons during the football games. — Photo by Ken Bissell.

CONCERT CHOIR. The Concert Choir, under the direction of Dr. Artheur Shearin, performed in Churches of Christ in many states and at a "Clean-up Day" in Heber Springs. — Photo by Ken Bissell.

CATCHING UP. Julie Weibel, member of C-MENC, takes some time to catch up with Tracy Ramseyer after the summer break. C-MENC was the student affiliation for the professional music teachers' organization. — Photo by Sharon Bowles.

CAMPUS PLAYERS. Front Row: Jema Grater; Second Row: Morris Ellis, Ann Love Gill, Bob Boaz, Elaine Fletcher; Third Row: Marisa Thomas, John Folding, Lori Westbrook. — Photo by Sharon Bowles

PIED PIPERS. Front row: Stacy Harris; Second row: Dave Adams, Christy Myers, Duane Jones; Third row: Sue Spencer, Kristen Ford; Back row: Ashley Cosby, Malinda Moses, Andy Kronenwetter, Angie Treat, Eric Swenson. — Photo by Connie Clutter.

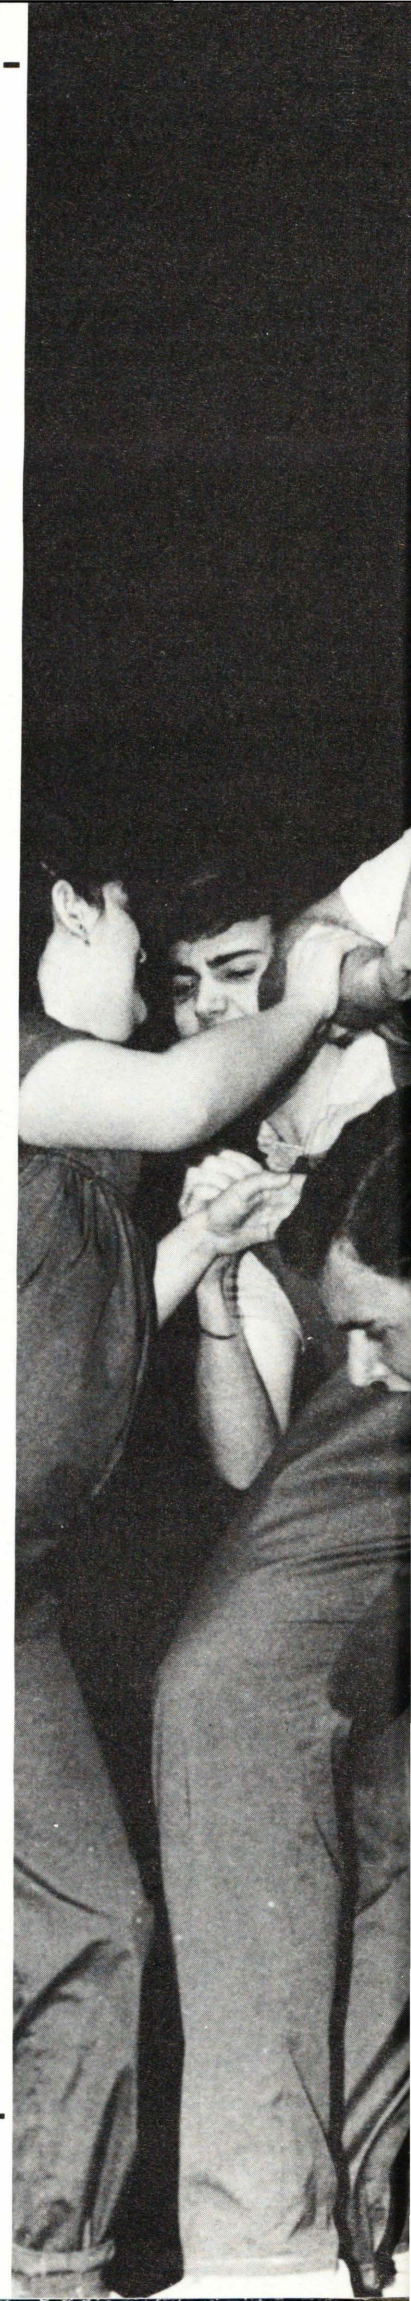

THETA SIGMA. Front row: Jim Schiefelbein, Steven Bynum, Michael May, David Porter, Joe Daniel, Karen Wendt; Back row: Butch Louderback, Robert Helsten, Brian Speer, Michael Bennett, Effie Stallings, Kern Bruner, James Thomas, Melissa Strader, Graham Leighton. — Photo by Sharon Bowles.

SKOTIA. Front Row: Missy Greene, Claudia Azile; Second Row: Sheri Banks, Diana Jenkins, Tracy Shaunice, LaMima Gilbert, Corey Lorenzo; Third Row: John Iverson, Chico Ford, Alvin Henry, Wayne Shorter, Ivan Hollins, Dedric Cathey, Kenwick Thompson, Becky Harper; Back Row: Errica Walker. — Photo by Sharon Bowles

HELLO?! Jimbo Carr; Marisa Thomas, Campus Players member; and Lance Clark enjoy one of Harding's pleasures: the new phone system. Campus Players supported and were involved in all of Harding's theatrical productions. — Photo by Wayne Westerholm.

Theatre & Other Groups:

Campus Players, Pied Pipers, Skotia and

Theta Sigma encouraged involvement in special interest groups on campus

Although interests were diverse, there were plenty of opportunities to express yourself at Harding. Campus Players, Pied Pipers, Skotia, and Theta Sigma represented the students involved in acting and special interests.

Campus Players was "Harding's drama club," said member Marisa Thomas. The club supported all of Harding's theatrical productions. They had a mixer at the beginning of the year for anyone interested in acting. Then, by earning fifty points by acting in or working backstage on productions in two semesters, members were chosen and inducted. The club had induction ceremonies annually. They took road trips to see other universities' productions and to view Broadway plays in Memphis and Little Rock.

Pied Pipers strove to "bring joy into the lives of children," said member Christy Myers. They were a children's theater troupe who performed stories, poems, nursery rhymes, and rhythm sections for children in various places. They performed at the North Little Rock Pediatric Center, at Homecoming, during Christmas, and at the College Church's Tuesday/Thursday School. They were featured on TV 19's show, "Word Windows" giving public service announcements and stories. They traveled to Memphis, Mountain Home, and to Florida in the spring. Christy Myers thought that the troupe was wonderful and said, "we enjoy it as much as the children."

The purpose for Skotia was to share its black culture with others, as well as motivate black students to achieve their very best in all things. The club had approximately twenty members and met every Tuesday night. As a service project, they visited the nursing homes on a regular basis. Their central activity was the Gospel Explosion. It was held during February, which was Black History Month.

Theta Sigma, Harding's own Dr. Who fan club, used this year to get more organized. The group got together each week to view some of the 699 episodes of Dr. Who that have been produced over the last twenty years. Theta Sigma's main goal was to use a common interest to build friendships and to try to convince the local PBS station to put the show back on the air.

— Lilli Carlton

CAPTURE. The Pied Pipers try to hold Andy Kronenwetter in place during one of their skits. The Pied Pipers performed stories, skits and poems for children. — Photo by Jonathan Nail

Business Organizations:

AMA, Society for the Advancement of Management, Economics Team and Pi Gamma Psi promoted business awareness on campus

Pi Gamma Psi, The Economics Team, SAM, and AMA were designed to accommodate today's young business person.

Pi Gamma Psi strove to keep accounting majors aware of happenings in their field. It helped prepare them for getting a job by having mock interviews. They had meetings with guest speakers and held an ethics seminar.

Dr. Don Diffine sponsored one of the "winningest" Economics Teams to date. They placed first 6 times. They participated in "formal intercollegiate competition to design and implement free enterprise programs for campus and community use," said Dr. Diffine. They maintained that each person is "free" to be whatever he wants, if he has the "enterprise" to be it.

The Society for the Advancement of Management was an organization for the general manager. They strove to improve the quality of their knowledge, performance, and leadership ability through communication and interaction with other management professionals. They had monthly chapter meetings and received publications on improving management skills.

According to its president, Lorin Bristow, the "American Marketing Association was designed to promote marketing as a field." The organization kept marketing majors up to date on what was happening in their major. AMH had its annual conference in New Orleans in the spring. They also held a case study competition. Harding's AMA team took second place in the nation for their case study of the marketing plan for the 1990 census. The organization also produced a magazine called Marketing News.

— Lilli Carlton

TAKING THE LEAD. Anna Conley, Pi Gamma Psi member, sings a solo in the Harding production of "Brigadoon." Pi Gamma Psi kept accounting majors aware of happenings in their field.

SING IT LIKE YOU MEAN IT! Julie Svymbersky, AMA member, and a couple of friends really sing out in a Spring Sing performance. AMA catered to marketing majors. — photo by Sharon Bowles

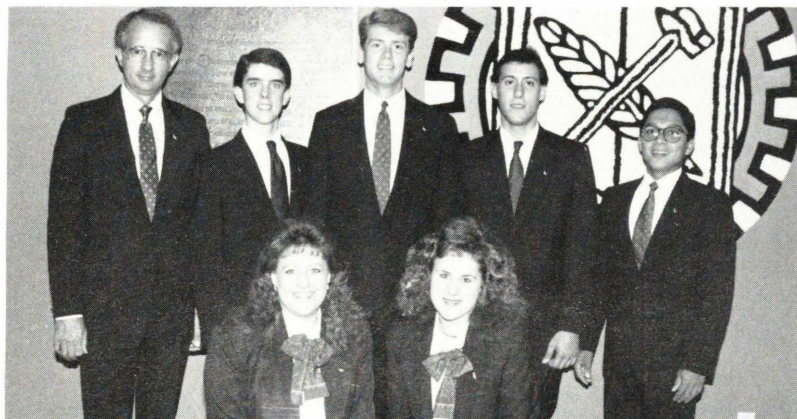

SAM. Front row: Robin Pruitt, Lisa Spence, Tetsuji Mikami, Tim Gerber, Linda Gordon, Carol Elliot, Kara Sanders, Jackie Mendez, Melisa Moss, Lucile Hoy, Lynette Stow, Lori Kemp, Beth Kerr, Murphy Crowson, Margaret Byrd, Paula White, Randy McLeod; second row: Gerry Perrett, Andy Kinser, Ronny Wido, Tom Gerber, Jeff Felzien, Leigh Anne Luttrell, Alice Gay, Kelly Scott, Cynthia Merchant, Cindy Nichols, Kimberley Garner, Ed White, Chris McHan; Third row: Ernst Susanto, Drue DeMatteis, Randall Long, David Dobson, David Farmer, Philip Lester, Matt House, Carl Johnson, Dwight Musselmen, Brent Carr, Keith Kemp, Tibor Siklosi, John Corpuz, Greg Cannady; Back row: Harold Butler, Chris Cash, Albert Wright, Steve Haight, Jaime Martinez, Harold Moore. — Photo by Sharon Bowles.

AMA. Front row: Julie Svymbersky, Joanna Walker, Yukiko Kodaka, Sonia Krampitz, Lesty Soehendra, Emee Belo, Linda Gordon, Catharine Frey; Second row: Susan Richardson, Ingrid Cho, Tetsuji Mikami, Ronny Wido, Cheryl Vick, Carla Madar; Third row: Charles Walker, Lorin Bristow, Handojo Har-tojo, Mark Wartens, Matt Kilgore, Michael Rodgers, Chris Cash, Gerry Perrett. — Photo by Sharon Bowles.

ECONOMICS TEAM. Front row: Karen Norwood, Susan Isom; Back row: Don Diffine, Jason Pace, Jim Hull, Drew DeMatteis, Lee Mackey. — Photo by Ken Bissel.

PI GAMMA PSI. Front row: Jerome Green, Lori Woodson, Lisa Lovegrove, Jan Kelley, Kim Hurt, Sandra Etheridge, Kalai Reddick, Bonnie Dunn, Malinda Petree, Donna Vick, Mike Emerson (sponsor); Back row: Bryan Jackson, Jennie Overman, Ellen Guilick, Katie Bell, Lee Bell, Stephan, Mark Vaughn, Carlos Castillo, Michelle Collins, Ian Hong Ng, Tonya Brown, Murray Sanderson. — Photo by Sharon Boyles.

SILENT SUPPORT. Robin Pruitt and Lisa Spence, members of SAM pay close attention to a club volleyball game. SAM emphasized the viewpoint of the general manager. — Photo by Sharon Bowles.

DPMA. Doug Goodpasture, Werner Louderback! Alycee Wagner, Charles Harlan, Kerry Jenkins. — Photo By Sharon Bowles.

INTERCOLLEGIATE BUSINESS TEAM. Front row: Curtis Clements, Anna Conley, Quendy Gibbons, Mark Pruitt; Back row: Nicole Dawkins, Margaret Byrd, Bonnie Dunn. — Photo by Sharon Bowles.

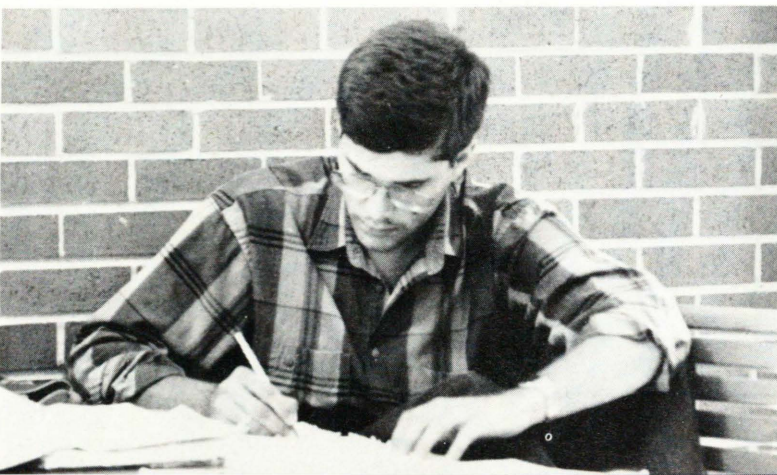

AMERICAN STUDIES. Front row: Crain, Cho, Hurt, McGaha, Reddick, Guthrie, Fannin, Martinez; Second row: Richey, Conley, Mote, Smith, Thompson, Hull, Hartono, Edmunson; Third row: Davis, Greer, Holland, LaRue, Castillo, Dismuke, Ritter, Baril; Fourth row: Musick, Suit, Holmes, Wright, Nichols, Thomas, Kelley, Crane; Fifth row: Green, Brown, Roggendorff, Noland, Galloway, Toms, Gill, Parker; Back row: Krampitz, Hulse, Harris, Luarca, Friberg, Tandy, Moorner. — Photo by Jeff Montgomery.

AMERICAN STUDIES: Front row: Rottman, Koch, Ponds, West, Bond, Lovegrove, Kyle, Reddick, Rainey; Second row: Johnson, Vaughn, Dillard, Schaffer, De Matteis, Anthony, Bell, Harland, Moreno-Lazo, Calderon, Third row: Moss, Smith, Quigley, Keele, Picklesimer, McMurtry, Black, Bolls, Mackey; Fourth row: Burte, Johnson, Mitchell, Buzard, Jones; Fifth row: Thomas, Johnson, Leek, Shands, Worrell, Farrar, Bagley, Hill, Bowman; Back row: Young, Kesler, Thomas, Killingsworth, Rose. — Photo by Jeff Montgomery.

STUDY BREAK. Chris Harlan, a member of the DPMA, takes time out of his busy schedule to study for a test. The DPMA gave computer science majors a chance to experience professional software and data processing. — Photo by Wayne Westerholm.

Business Organizations:

Intercollegiate Business Team, DPMA

and American Studies served the student body with various campus programs

Three organizations that catered to business majors were American Studies, Data Processing Management Association, and the Intercollegiate Business Team.

The purpose of the American Studies program was to help the members in their academic career by providing a sound understanding of the business and government institutions and our values and ideas toward liberty and democracy. This year's speakers were Denis Waitly, Frank Carlucci, John Akins, and Tommy Robinson.

WHAT DO YOU THINK? Leanne Black, a member of American Studies, gets some advice from Dr. Finley. American Studies strove to help its members in their academic careers by giving them a sound understanding of business and government. — Photo by Sharon Bowles.

The Data Processing Management Association, according to sponsor, Jimmy Behel, "provided computer science majors with the opportunity to experience professional organization software development and data processing." The group made trips to Federal Express in Memphis and to Dillards in Little Rock.

The Intercollegiate Business Team allowed its members to use their instincts to help them survive an imaginary business competition ordeal. These "made-up" competitions provided a way for business-related majors to deal with problems that might occur in their working field. Each member was assigned a business problem that required a solution at the end of the semester.

—Carmelita Bandy

Intercollegiate Business Team,
DPMA, American Studies.

Bible & Service:

The Crew, Conquerors, Timothy Club and Good News Singers provided
Spiritual leadership and service

The Good News Singers, Conquerors, the Crew, and the Timothy Club provided inspiration and service to each other and students throughout the year.

The Timothy Club strove to "promote comradere among majors in the College of Bible and Religion" and to "provide direction and encouragement in the various areas of ministry," according to the club's president, Gene Jones. They had a fall retreat highlighting their 1989 theme, "The Heart of Ministry." This was a time of fellowship, reflection, and challenge. Their October meeting, "Ministry and Missions," featured Bill Searcy, Harding's visiting Professor of Missions. In November, John Dale from Murray, Ky. spoke on "Staying in Ministry," and in December, faculty members from the Harding Graduate School of Religion spoke on the effectiveness of study on long-term ministry.

The Good News Singers served as representatives for the Bible department. They sang in chapel and for various youth group activities. Their goal was to glorify God and to communicate emotions to people in a way that nothing but singing can. The group had eight members and was started in the fall of 1985.

Conquerors performed for many youth groups in Arkansas and many other states. Their goal was to give "spiritual messages through skits," said member Debbie Bitting. Their skits were uplifting and most of them were Conquerors' originals.

The Crew was a service organization that had about 600 members. They divided up into teams of fifteen and about four teams worked each Saturday. They helped people with anything they needed help with. They advertised their services, last summer, by sending fliers to older or sick members of the community. Some of the people needed help with yard work, house cleaning, or getting their house ready for the winter. Most of the people they helped were not members of the Church.

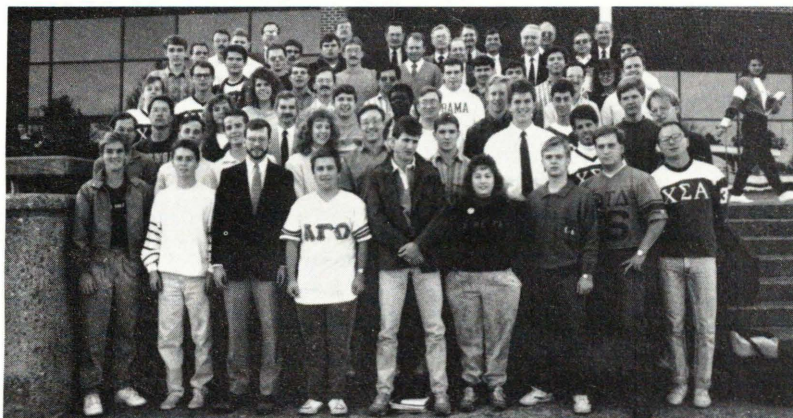

— Lilli Carlton

GETTING TO KNOW YOU. Mr. Tom Alexander talks with a Timothy club member after a meeting. The Timothy club was designed to provide encouragement and direction to majors in the College of Bible and Religion. — Photo by Jeff Montgomery.

THE CREW: Front row: Richard Shannon, Pat Odum, Tammy Dickinson, Rose Norman; Back row: Michael May, Steve Martin, Cyndi Sudano, Ken Kyle. — Photo by Jeff Montgomery

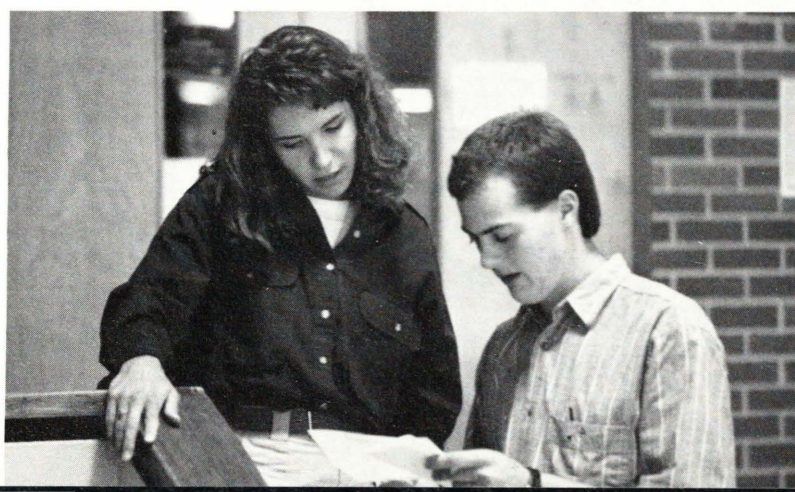

TIMOTHY CLUB. Front row: Brad Pistole, Brian Frazier, Robert Conner, Roger Witty, Wes Payne, Nona Wise, Kevin Keach, Tom Wroblewski; Second row: David Buskirk, Harry Debenedictis, Jason, King, Lisa Ort, Scott Harris, Brian Hoover, John Ogren, Pat Odum, Michael May; Third row: John Tebo, Paul Lamb, Al Holte, Glenn Dahlman, Samuel Clark; Fourth row: Duane Worthington, Jeff Tucker, Kelly Jeffries, Anthony Wood, Sixto Rivera, John Nerswick, Scott Bonk; Fifth row: Kenneth Shackelford, Adrian Harris, Todd Kempton, Ben Franklin, Dale McCorkle, Danny Simmons, Scott Scharfenberg, Holly Lock; Sixth row: Gene Jones, Bruce Bates, Chad Massey, Ross Cochran, Ed Sanders, Carl Mitchell, Van Tate; Back row: James Walters, Tom Alexander, Bill Searcy, Allan Isom, Ken Miller, Bill Lambert, Joe Jones, Jack McKinney. — Photo by Sharon Bowles.

GOODNEWS SINGERS. Front row: John Boles, Tammy Spencer, Robinell Randell, Kim Thompson; Back row: Jay Baker, Bryan Leep, John Scott, Errica Walker. — Photo by

CONQUERORS. Front row: John Barton, Mark Moore; Back row: Susan Vaughn, Debbie Bitting, Frank Brunner, Jeff Holland, Amber Brown, Kate Chastain. — Photo by Jeff Montgomery.

MAIL! Jeff Holland, a performer with Conquerors, shares a letter from home with Brenda Greer. Conquerors told the message of Christ through uplifting skits. — Photo by

PRE-MED CLUB. Front row: Cherinet Temtemie, Jeff Evans, Joey Tilton, Don Alan Frost, Tim Diles; Back row: Jana Middleton, Shari DeLoach, Daniel Steffins, Randy Carlton, Bob Friberg, Shannon Armstrong. — Photo by Johnathan Nail.

CHEMISTRY CLUB. Front row: Jeannie Lawrenson, Lisa Bailey, Sharon Welch, Joey Tilton, Nancy Adams, Suzette LaRoche, Julie Jones; Back row: Don Alan Frost, Pedro Velasquez, Bob Friberg, Scott White, Cherinet Temtemie, Henry Alegria, Ed Wilson (sponsor). — Photo by Sharon Bowles.

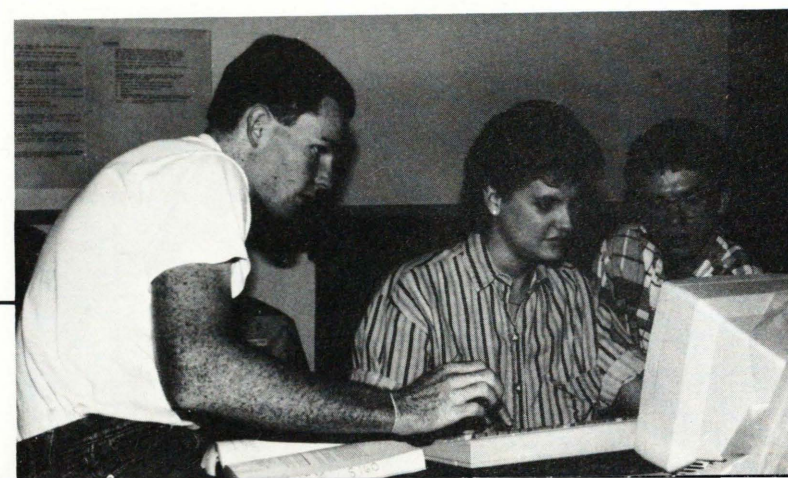

DEVITA. Front row: Sophonia Roe, Shannon Roggendorf, Shannon Armstrong, Sharon Scudder, Andrew Reda, Leigh Traisci, Bryce Roberson (sponsor); Second row: Tim Diles, Bob Friberg, Brady Almon; Back row: Ron Doran (sponsor), Randy Carlton, John Paul Warnock, Pam Peachey, Becky Saunders. — Photo by Jeff Montgomery.

HSNA. Front row: Audrey Gonguez, Christy Golden, Gail Beard; Second row: Jenna Shipman, Yvonne Francois, Debbie Hendon; Third row: Sandra Peachey, Stacy Faires, Miriam Cardin, Taran Menge; Fourth row: Ken Rabon, Kami Smith, Lori Watson, Bryan Forsythe; Back row: Jill Tackett, Louise Bradford (sponsor), Valerie Carr. — Photo by Jeff Montgomery.

COMPUTER/LIFESAVER. Don Alan Frost, Suzette LaRoche, and Joey Tilton work on a science program for the computer. They are members of the chemistry and pre-med clubs.

Science and Medical:

Pre-Med Club, Chemistry Club, DeVita and HSNA gave students more practical experience in their chosen field of study

Students majoring in science or medicine were given opportunities to explore their chosen fields through the Chemistry club, DeVita, HSNA, and the Pre-med club.

The Chemistry club was sponsored by Ed Wilson and had approximately fifteen members. They were involved with High School Day demonstrations and judging high school science fairs. They were also in charge of the chemistry booth during Wellness Week. They took several field trips. One of them was to the University of Arkansas Medical Center. The club's objective was to promote chemistry.

The Society of Life Sciences (DeVita) had as its objective promoting intellectual and social interaction among biology majors, and students and faculty. The thirty-member club was sponsored by Bryce Roberson and Ron Doran. They attended seminars with students and faculty and guest speakers. They took field trips and had a cook-out.

The Harding Student Nurses Association was sponsored by Louise Bradford. The club's president, Yvonne Francois said that the objective was "to help in our goal of professionalism as nurses." The club kept the students clued in on the rights and responsibilities of nurses. They participated in community health projects and a nursing convention in October. They also had guest speakers, in the health field, at their meetings.

The Pre-med club was sponsored by Ed Wilson. The objective of the club was to "inform prospective medical students of the opportunities in medicine," Wilson said. The club also helped those students with filling out applications for medical school. They had guest speakers at their meetings and, in the spring, they had a meeting in which the members were given applications for medical school.

— Lilli Carlton

WORDS OF LOVE. Kami Smith, a junior member of HSNA, speaks to the women of Harding University. HSNA provided student nurses with information about the field of nursing. — Photo by Sharon Bowles.

Education & Language:

Physical Education Majors and Minors,
Student Arkansas Education Association,
Spanish Club and French Club

Education majors and foreign language students had many opportunities for growth through the SAEA, PEMM, the French Club, and the Spanish Club.

The Student Arkansas Education Association was designed to "familiarize education majors with a professional organization," said the sponsor, Mrs. Jeanine Peck. They were involved with a service project in which they helped raise money to send books to a school in Jamaica. They put up boxes in various locations around campus and encouraged people to put their aluminum cans in them. Then they sold the cans and used the money to buy the books. They also attended workshops and professional meetings and had an outing in the fall.

The Physical Education Majors and Minors club strove to promote professionalism among those interested in physical education. They had a cookout, a racquetball, pickleball, and badminton tournament, and participated in the American Alliance for Physical Education. They had about forty-five members and were sponsored by Coaches Ronnie Huckaba and Randy Tribble.

Promotion and enjoyment of the French language was the major objective of the French Club. The club was open to anyone interested in French, although most of the members were in a French class. They visited a French exhibit in Memphis, Tennessee, saw a French play by Moliere, in North Little Rock, and had a booth for the World Mission Workshop. They also had a Christmas party. The club was sponsored by Dr. Winfred Wright.

The goal of the Spanish Club was interaction of the Central American students with North American students. The club was comprised of both and was open to anyone interested. They got together each week and spoke Spanish and learned more about the Central American culture. They worshipped together each Wednesday evening in Spanish.

-Lilli Carlton

LAUGHTER, THE BEST MEDICINE. Trina Shaw, French club member, gets a good laugh from a club sister. The French club was open to anyone interested in the French language. — Photo by Sharon Bowles.

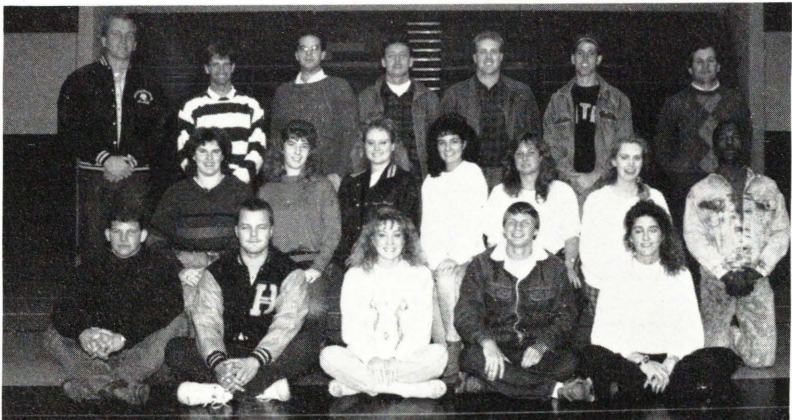

SPANISH CLUB. Front row: Norberto Otero, Virginia Vasquez, Benjamin Calderon, Dean Morkassel; Second row: Ramon Osejo, Eva Gongalez, Ingrid Cho, Loida Cruz, Amy Pruitt, Emily Gibson, Anissa Campbell, Tammy Johnson, Ayna Blanco; Back row: Brian Mitchell, Sheryl Prato, Gustavo Prato, Phil Rhoads, Mrs. Ava Conley (sponsor), Martha Valle, Michelle Ponds, David Buskirk, Dago-berto Martinez, Veronica Rodriguez, David Stephens. — Photo by Chris Harlan.

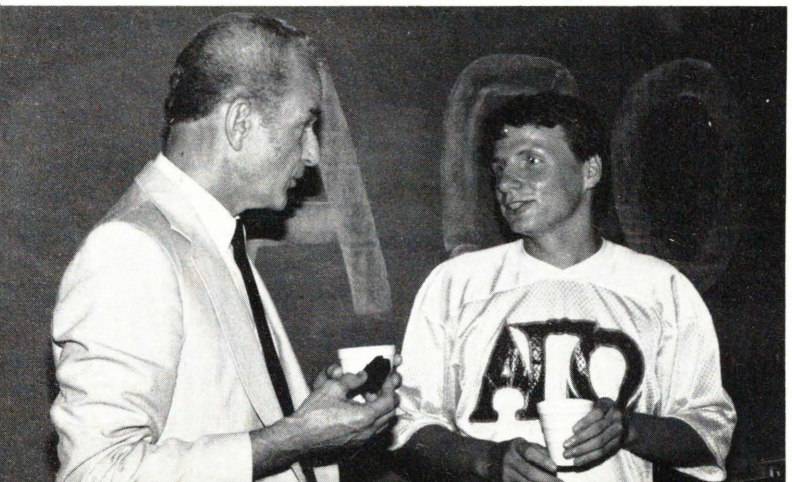

FRENCH CLUB. Front row: Robert McDams, Samantha Farrar, Vene Rodriguez, Carla DiBennardo, Lesley Thomas; Second row: April Legg, Patty Alvarenga, Beth Heffington, Stacie Evans, Martha Valle, Trina Shaw, Stephanie Sandberg, Janelle McFarland; Back row: Christopher Robinson, Tami White, Robby Schaffer, Scott Harris, Tony Van Buren, Luis Castro, Winfred Wright (sponsor). — Photo by Brian Lovegrove.

PEMM. Front row: Stephan Peck, Christine Myers, Kevin Yaws, Becky Jones; Second row: Elaine Fletcher, Wendi Scott, Carolee Musick, Tonya Honaker, Deniece Edwards, Mica Bryan, Jimmy Sloan; Back row: Ronnie Huckaba (sponsor), Ken Turley, Blake Edwards, Shane Drollinger, Pat McGaha, Randy Tribble (sponsor). — Photo by Sharon Bowles.

SAEA. Front row: Ann Rawe, Rhoda Lanier, Jackie Jordan, Nancy Adams, Ceci Bitting, Zelda McMurtry; Second row: Sherry Peck, Jeanie Schraeble, Ingrid Thompson, Rexanne Chambers, Deniece Golden, Sara Perry, Sharon Jordan, Jeanine Peck (sponsor); Back row: Candy Skipworth, Kim Wise, Matt Davis, Jennifer Davis, Kelly Young, Delany Brown, Robin Cranford, Jan Kesler, Marilee Coker (sponsor). — Photo by Jeff Montgomery.

SMALL TALK. Kevin Yaws, a member of the PEMM club, chats with Jack McKinney at a social club mixer. The PEMM club promoted fun and professionalism among Physical Education majors. — Photo by Brian Lovegrove.

DIETETICS CLUB: Front row: Brenda Smith, Christie King, Christine MacDonald; Back row: Marcheta Churchill, Christine Langston, Ann Thomas, Vivian Richardson, Elizabeth Wilson. - Photo by Jeff Montgomery.

AHEA: Front row: Teresa Morrow; Second row: Kelly Bolls, Christine Langston, Cassandra Jackson, Esther Pipkin, Jill Tate, Virginia Vasquez; Back row: Elisabeth Crockett, Shannon Deffenbaugh, Julia Doan, Teddy Hubbs, Georgia Cox, Niki Grisham, Loleta Higginbotham (sponsor). — Photo by Jeff Montgomery.

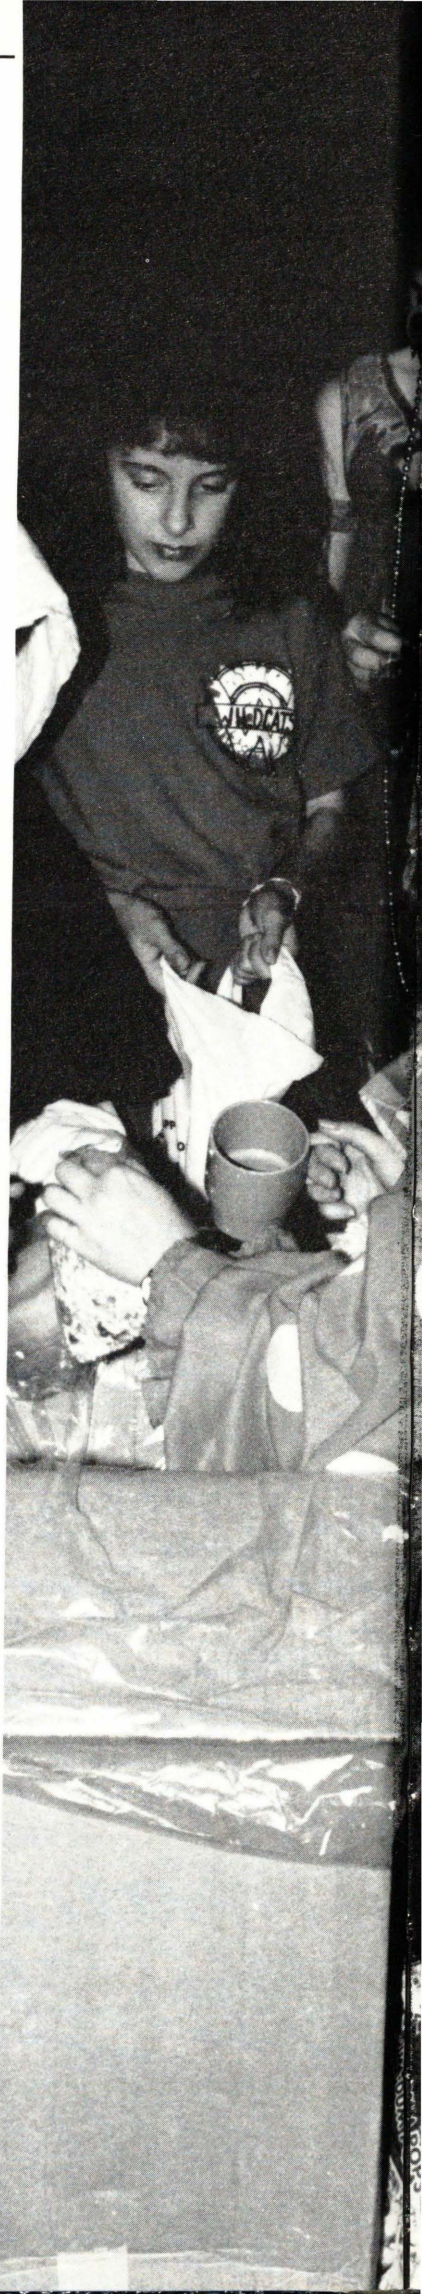

PSYCHOLOGY CLUB: Front row: Mark Blue, Beverly Fowler, Bernadette Mayberry, Terri Sutherland, Shannon Hogan, Marty McKee; Second row: Robert Buckles, Emily Gibson, Julie Owen, Natalie Johnson, Tammie Kempton, Jon Dugger; Back row: J.P. Capps, Ty Phillips, Sharon Moreland, Shawn Frye, Sheri Jennings, Lisa Schoer, Dana Durigan, Kerry Burke, Stacia Morris. - Photo by Sharon Bowles.

SOCIAL WORK CLUB. Front row: Kristi Thurman, Suzanne Ponds, Louise Pace (sponsor), Patrice Busby, Donann Cummings, Susan Bonner; Back row: Jolyon Hall, Desmond Peterson, Kim Hickerson. — Photo by Jeff Montgomery

ADVICE. Robert Buckles, a member of the Psychology Club, gets a word of wisdom from Dr. Walter Porter. Dr. Porter was the sponsor for the Psychology Club. — Photo by Sharon Bowles.

Psychology, Social Work & Home Ec:

Psychology Club, Social Work Club, AHEA and the Dietetics Club got students more involved in their major field of study

The Psychology Club, the Social Work Club, AHEA, and the Dietetics Club all worked to get students involved with each other and the community by uniting them in their fields of interest.

The Psychology Club united psychology majors and minors and gave them a forum in which to learn more about their field. The organization's president, Jon Dugger, described it as a means "... to explore the variety of fields related to psychology and a chance to get to know other students and discuss our career goals." They had meetings with graduate schools, and sponsored a seminar on human resources.

Social Work Students in Action was one of the more visible clubs on campus. The group sponsored "Resident of the Month" and "Blue Ribbon Day" in chapel. The organization's president, Jim LaRue, said that it was very fulfilling because it "really gave us an opportunity to help those who can't help themselves, like the kids."

The Dietetics Club, sponsored by Elizabeth Wilson, worked to "promote the importance of good nutrition to the student body and to the community," according to their president, Vivian Richardson. They had monthly meetings, and sponsored "Wellness Week," World Food Day, and "Learn It Lunches."

The American Home Economics Association had meetings that provided an opportunity for home economics majors to look at some specific topics that related to every aspect of the home Economics department. They had a service project, attended the state convention with the professional section of the Arkansas Home Economics Association.

— Trina Shaw

HAPPY HALLOWEEN. Donann Cummings, a member of Social Work Students in Action, distributes candy to children on Halloween. Social Work Students in Action worked to serve the community in various ways. — Photo by Sharon Bowles.

Political Science and Law:

College Republicans, Sam Adams Society, Amnesty International and Barristers provided a political voice on campus

College Republicans, the Sam Adams Society, Amnesty International, and Barristers provided opportunities for growth in the areas of law and politics.

The Samuel Adams Political Science Society was an organization for social science, political science, and public administration majors and minors. The major objective was promoting political and social activities for its members. This year's activities included participation in the 1989 Arkansas Model United Nations at UCA in Conway, and a spring seminar, at Harding, to discuss the government's anti-drug policies. The organization had about 50 members and was sponsored by Dr. Tom Howard and Mark Elrod.

Amnesty International worked to promote human rights issues in the global community. They had about 50 members and were sponsored by Mark Elrod and Dr. Duane McCampbell. They were asked to write letters to heads of state of nations that violate the human rights of their citizens. The club wanted to increase campus awareness of the use of torture, inhumane treatment of prisoners, arrests for political crimes, and the death penalty. They participated in regional and national meetings and several petition drives, and held a rally to promote Human Rights Day (December 10).

Barristers was an organization for pre-law students. The objective, according to the club's president, Kevin Wright, was preparing "undergraduate students for the demands of law school" and "becoming more familiar with the law profession in general." They held a cook-out, and visited a law school each semester. Barristers had about 20 members and was sponsored by Dr. Ray Muncy.

Area governmental candidates received help in their campaigns by the College Republicans. This year, they campaigned for Ron Fuller and then they helped with the gubernatorial campaigns. The organization's main objective was to "assist in the Republican party and in the Arkansas Federation of Republicans," said the organization's president, Wendy Simpkins. The organization strove to keep its 300 members informed and involved in political campaigns.

WILL YOU SIGN ...? Dr. Tom Howard, sponsor for the Sam Adams Society, talks with a JuGoJu pledge after chapel. Dr. Howard was a co-sponsor with Mark Elrod. — Photo by Sharon Bowles

COLLEGE REPUBLICANS. Front row: Cindy Nichols, Wendy Simpkins, Anna Conley, Paula Tibbets, Tama Ellis; Second row: Dennis Dyes, Sharon Coleman, Scott Barber, Kevin Wright, Kimberly Garner; Back row: Brent Carr, Todd Hook, Noland Atkins. — Photo by Jeff Montgomery.

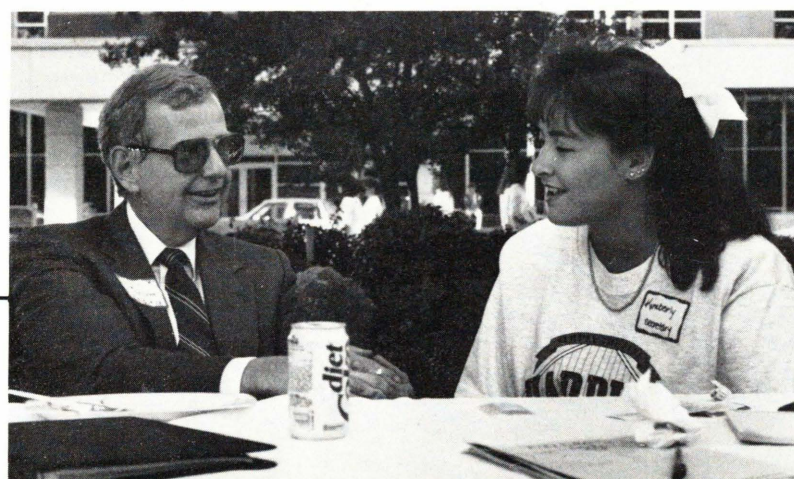

AMNESTY INTERNATIONAL. Front row: Art Markart, David Porter, Joel Armstrong; Second row: Natalie Johnson, Tammie Kempton, Joan Suit, Lori Rose, Robbe Counts, Debbie Woten, Mark Elrod; Back row: David Ruble, Sonja Nelson, Tonya Guinto, Alonso Castro, Terry Benney, Stan Rose. — Photo by Sharon Bowles.

SAM ADAMS SOCIETY. Front row: Natalie Johnson, Tammy Kempton, Cynthia Musick, Suzanne Dunlap, Debbie Wooten, Dave Porter, Terri Benney; Second row: Tom Howard, Robbe Counts, Joan Suit, Malia Reddick, Stan Rose, Mike West, Mark Elrod; Back row: Tonya Guinto, Joel Armstrong, David Ruble, Ken Kyle, Sonja Nelson, Michael Hunt. — Photo by Sharon Bowles.

BARRISTERS. Front row: Kevin Wright; Back row: Joan Suit, Cynthia Musick, David Blankenship, John Orum, Amy Harrell, Todd Huff, Laura Degnan. — Photo by Brian Lovegrove.

POLITICAL TALK. Junior Kimberly Garner talks with a guest at the College Republican barbeque. College Republicans helped many area candidates in their campaigns. — Photo by Sharon Bowles.

DACTYLOLOGY. The dactylology club provided free sign language classes for anyone interested. They also signed for the deaf members of the College Church of Christ. — Photo by Sharon Bowles.

SSHA. Front row: Charlotte Terry, Jacqueline Thomas, Shelley O'Cull, Julie Long, Lisa Jackson, Mandy Smith, Melissa Renfrow; Second row: Contessa Cockrell, Allison Jones, Shannon Plaster, Jenny Kwa, Karen Holmes, Patty Slack; Third row: Dianne Lacy, Lisa Brown, Stefanie Jones, Carol Seeley, Renee Matthews, Kelly Carringer, Tracy Boyd; Fourth row: Tavia Dempsey, Nancy Wilkins, Sayang Tan, Stacey Alexander, Susanna Jenkins, Kristie Williamson, Julie Ryan; Back row: Ed Grant, Jay Johnson, Rebecca Weaver, Daniel Tullos, Terry Clay. — Photo by Sharon Bowles.

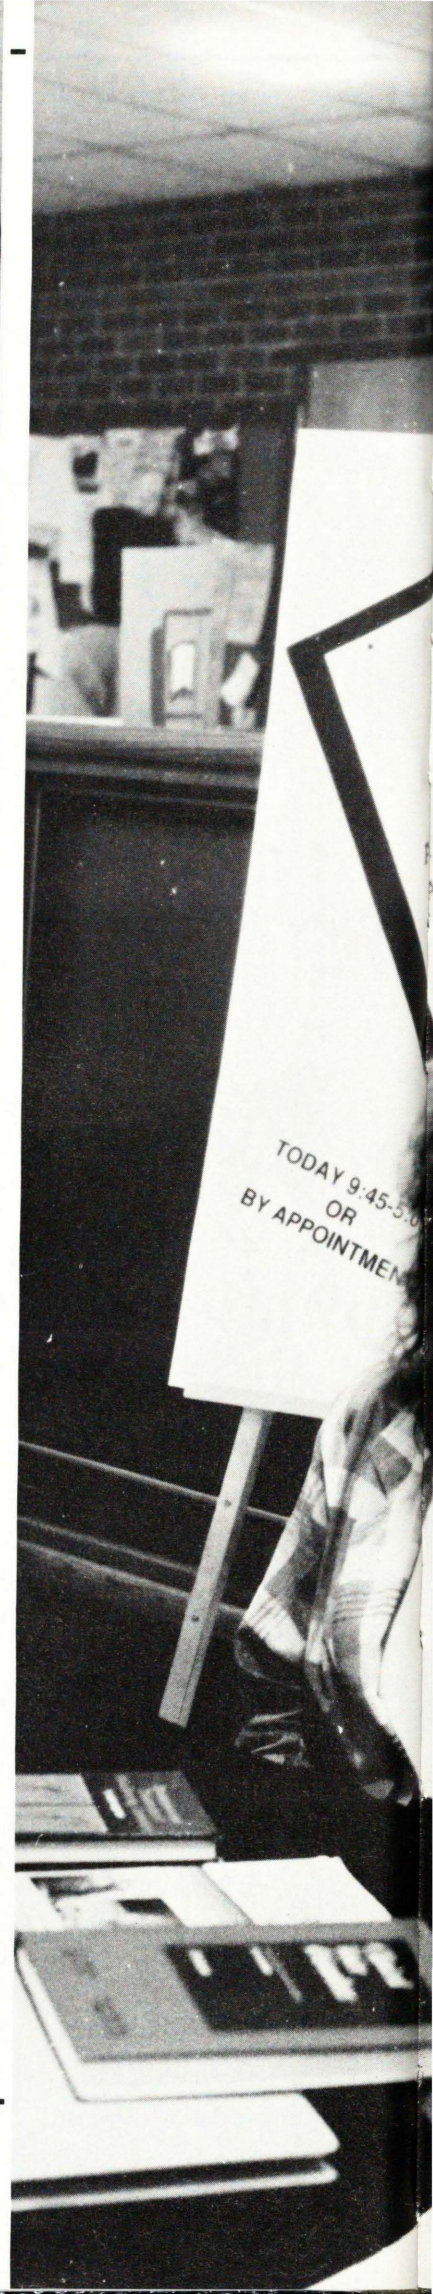

FORENSICS. Pat Garner (sponsor), Jason Foster, Sam Barringer, Jennifer Folding, Steve Yates, Craig Laird, Tanya Tennyson. — Photo by Dena Fritcher.

COLLEGE BOWL. Front Row: Nancy Adams, Bryce Carrell, Dan Shill; Back Row: Fred Jewell, Bob Fribery, Kevin West, Denis Organ. — Photo by Sharon Bowles

DEAF, DEAF WORLD. Robin Cranford explains a little about the dactylology club, at their booth during Wellness Week. The dactylology club offered free beginner and advanced sign language classes. — Photo by Wayne Westerholm.

Speech and Hearing:

Forensics, College Bowl, Dactylology Club and SSHA served to further promote knowledge and communication

Four organizations on campus worked toward giving people a better understanding of speech and hearing. The Dactylology Club, Student Speech and Hearing Association, the College Bowl, and the Forensics Team helped the campus and the community in this area.

The Dactylology Club offered free sign language classes for beginners and people who already knew the basics every week. They helped the College Church of Christ by providing "signers" for the deaf members at every service. They also took two trips to the Sylvan Hills Church of Christ, in Little Rock, to be a part of their deaf ministry.

The Student Speech and Hearing Association worked to "promote professional knowledge about speech and language pathology and audiology," according to the organization's sponsor, Rebecca Weaver. They had a booth during Wellness Week. They also attended the American Speech and Hearing Association National Convention in St. Louis in November. They provided clinical services for people with speech problems and speech and hearing screenings for the Academy preschool, the Teacher Education program, Tuesday/Thursday School, and the Child Development Lab. This year they received a charter for the National Organization for Speech and Hearing.

The College Bowl was sponsored by Dr. Dennis Organ. The four-member teams met, practiced, and challenged each other to competitions in which they had to correctly answer difficult questions. After several brackets had competed, the winner from each bracket competed in chapel. The winner from that competition represented Harding in the regional competition.

Members of the Forensics Team competed in several tournaments. The categories of the tournaments were poetry, prose, and dramatic interpretation. Some of the members participated in impromptu public speaking, communication analysis, informative speeches, and extemporaneous speeches. They were also involved in debates about contemporary topics. The team was sponsored by Dr. Patrick Garner and included twelve members. They traveled to the University of Missouri-St. Louis and Southern University in Baton Rouge. In late February the team traveled with Jack Shock to the Air Force Academy in Colorado Springs for a debate and individual events tournament.

— Lilli Carlton

HEARING IS PRECIOUS. Kristy Williams and Melissa Renfrow, members of the SSHA, offer free hearing screenings during Wellness Week. The SSHA was involved in many programs designed to make the campus and the community more aware of speech and hearing disorders. — Photo by Wayne Westerholm.

Mass Communication:

TV 19, KHCA, Bison, Petit Jean and PRSSA provided broadcasts, publications and public relations awareness on campus

Communication students received many hours of practical experience by being involved with the PRSSA, the Petit Jean, the Bison, KHCA, and TV 19.

Public Relations Student Society of America "provides students the opportunity to work and benefit others in the field of public relations," said member, Jennifer Terry. They served the community by editing the Searcy Chamber of Commerce Newsletter.

The Petit Jean staff strove to produce a quality yearbook for Harding students. It was edited by Jennifer Terry. Sharon Bowles served as head photographer. Kimberly Nunn was the assistant editor. Lilli Carlton, Melydia Clewell, Janelle McFarland, Shawn Morgan, Shannon Romine, Brian Speer, Phillip Tucker, and Randy Williams served as section editors.

The Bison staff continued the student newspaper tradition at Harding. They produced a weekly edition. Angie Haley served as editor and Mark Hodges as assistant editor. The format for the Bison was similar to that of USA Today and proved popular with the student body.

KHCA, Harding's own AM 56, was broadcast on campus. The station was student operated. Dr. Lou Butterfield was the executive producer and Scott Fossey was the student director. They provided news and hit songs for Harding students.

TV19 had two reappearances this year: Lou Butterfield, with a doctorate, and Big 'D' TV. Steve Frye also new to the station, served as co-executive producer with Dr. Butterfield. The station proved popular with such shows as Arkansas Live (an Arkansas travel show), the Game Clock (a sports show), and Cooking With Kern.

- The Petit Jean Staff

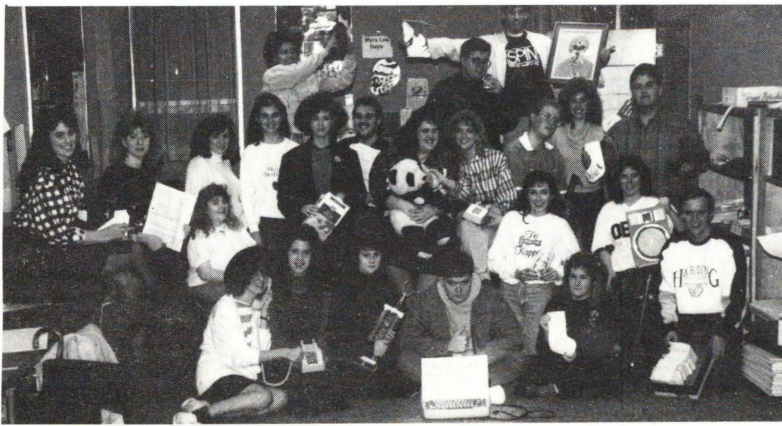

SERENITY. Jennifer Terry, Petit Jean editor, and Phillip Tucker, section editor, enjoy the peace of Petit Jean Mountain. The staff took a yearly hike down the mountain. — Photo by Sharon Bowles.

TUNES. Kern Bruner, on-air coordinator for KHCA, and Connie Clutter, DJ, play some hits for Harding students. The radio station was student operated and broadcasted for the campus. — Photo by Jeff Montgomery.

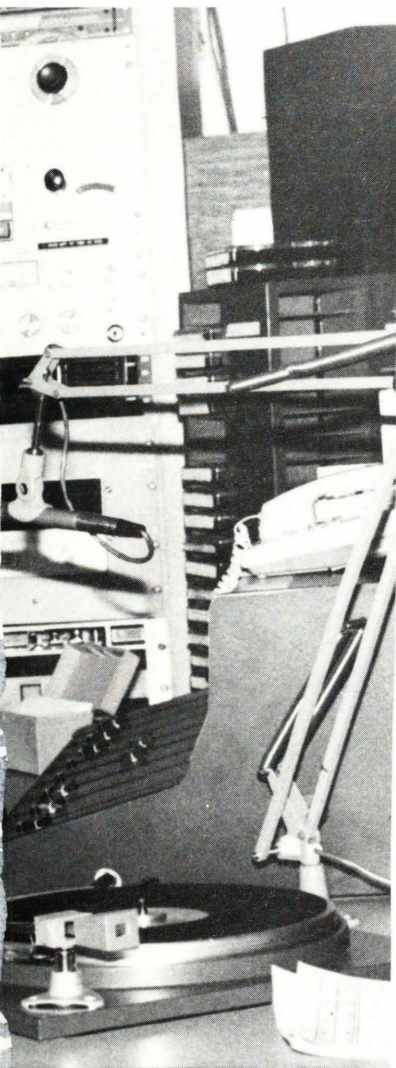

PRSSA. Front row: Phillip Tucker, Jennifer Terry, Shawn Morgan, Caroline Pillay; Back row: Jack Shock (sponsor), Joe Cranford, Patricia Shanklin, Aven Humphreys, Monica Bagley, Shelia McCall, Lori Rose, Mark Hodges, Darren Bonham, Elaina Dean. — Photo by Jeff Montgomery.

PETIT JEAN. Front row: Dena Fritcher, Mary McWilliams, Kate Barnes, Shannon Romine, Tanya Atkinson, Jeff Montgomery; Second row: Cayelynn Osborne, Melydia Clewell, Jennifer Terry, Kimberly Nunn, Kathleen Eyman, Janelle McFarland; Third row: Lori Rose, Myra Lou Tyer, Trina Shaw, Lilli Carlton, Phillip Tucker, Brian Speer, Kristen Webb, Eric Carter; Back row: Ronnie Biggs, Shawn Morgan, Randy Williams. — Photo by Jeff Montgomery.

BISON: Front row: Craig Cheatham, Joe Larsen, Jill Jordan, Carmelita Bandy, Angie Haley, Kathleen Eyman, Carylee Parker, Stacey Stacey, Mark Hodges; Second row: Faith Seay, Joe Cranford, Todd White, Dennis Mann, Ryan Gjovia; Third row: Ronnie Ashlock, Eric Morgan, Rick Butler, Jeff Moore, Anita Chadwell, Back row: Mark Haynes, Wayne Westerholm, Mark Beshirs. — Photo by Jeff Montgomery.

KHCA. Front row: Ryan Gibbons, Ginger Blackstone; Second row: Robin Butterfield, Lou Butterfield (sponsor), Jim Adcock, Connie Clutter, Scott Fossey; Back row: Kern Bruner, Nolan Atkins. — Photo by Jeff Montgomery.

TV19. Front row: Julie Svymbersky, Ryan Gibbons, Theo Marshall, Paul Greenhagen, Julie Burge; Second row: Rick Trujillo, Tim Jernigan, Crystal Stevens, Steve Martin, Kristen Webb, Sandy Jones; Back row: Lou Butterfield (sponsor), Melydia Clewell, Dan Shill, Eric Dunlap, Tiffany Baker, Joe Cranford, Jim Cranford, Jim Gassiot, Cole Warren, David Gaskin, Anne-Marie Miles, Dale Gaskin. — Photo by Sharon Bowles.

FACT. Front row: Quendy Gibbins, Margaret Byrd, Jan Kesler, Sharon Coleman, Becky Boaz; Second row: Suzette Koch, Susan Duncan, Monya Martin, Julie Svymsersky, Angie Mote, Debbie Hendon; Back row: Ryan Gibbons, Brad Altman, Robbie Schaeffer, Jay Lightfoot, Stephan Alexander. — Photo by Sharon Bowles.

ICC. Front row: Lilli Carlton, Paul Brooks, Tammy Johnson, Karen DeWoody, Pedro Velasquez, Darlene Sellers; Second row: Suzette Koch, Laura Blount, Lydia Stephens, Lori Fischer, Arthur Markart, Sandy Lamp, Debbie Berberian, Celeste Selby; Third row: Perry Eppes, Philip Lester, Rocky Dodson, Angie Blackburn, Samantha Farrar, Laurie Lyon, Laura Degnan, William Glade, LeAnn Perry, Michelle Morgan, Stan King, Alvin Henry; Fourth row: Eddie Jones, Beth Babb, Steve Taylor, Tim Kroeker, D.J. McPerson, Chuck Ramseyer, Stefanie Jones, Shannon Woody, Clint Dobbs, Melissa Smith, Christy Howard; Back row: Rexann Chambers, Tracy Petty, Lisa Kirk, John Sharp, David Earnhart, Tonya Hollis, Melinda McCall, Lance Clark, Stephen Bynum, Wade Wheeler, Heath Pickering, Carol Coffey, Abraham Quesada. — Photo by Sharon Bowles.

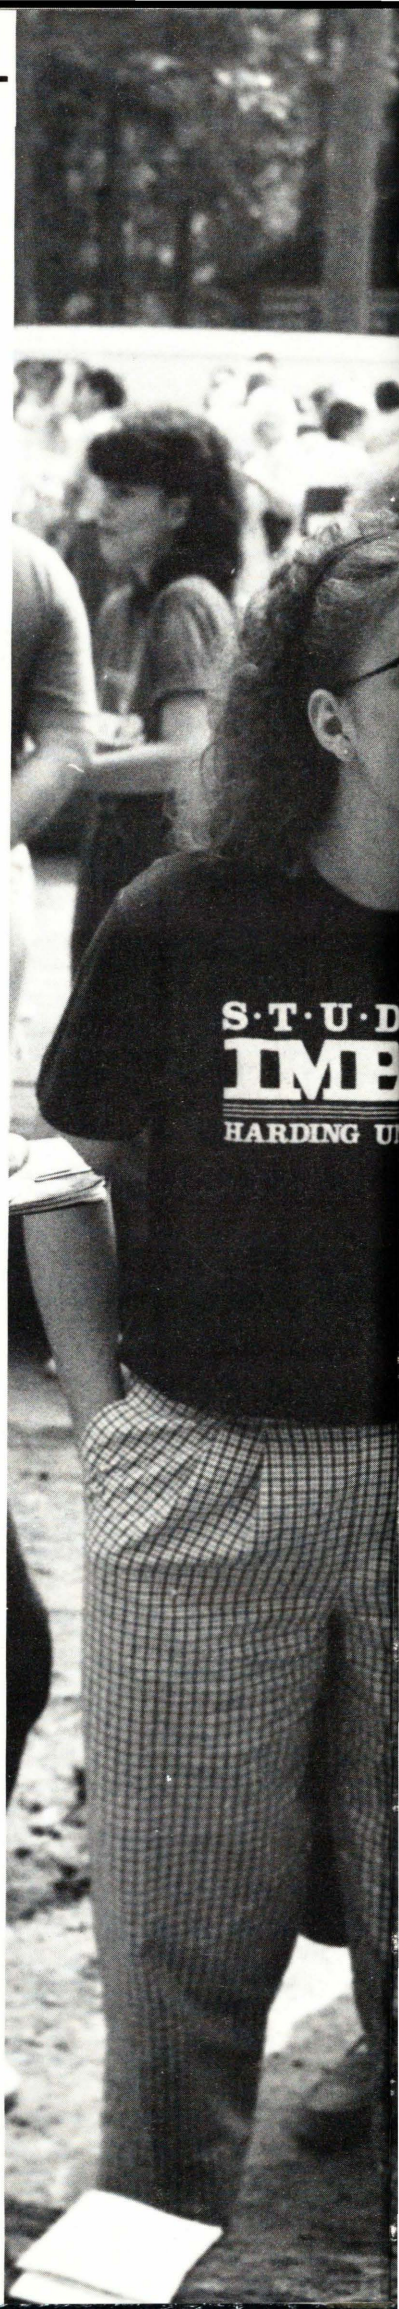

SA. Front row: Ann Thomas, Dana Cash, Susan Vaughn; Second row: Sara Gaston, Jennifer Fly, Mary Pat Miller, Jason King; Back row: Jim Hobby, Chad Massey, Jim Hull, Darren Bonham, Craig Cheatham. — Photo by Sharon Bowles.

JOY. Front row: Teresa Morrow, Brenda Lundy, Sara Gaston, Christy Sudano; Second row: Cheryl Garner, Louise Tucker, Faith Seay, Kelly Scott; Back row: Kalai Reddick, Susan Vaughn, Michelle Barbeau, Julie Huffman. — Photo by Barbie Smith.

VISA. Front row: Kelly Livingston, Kalai Reddick, Suzette Koch, Shawn Bond, Angie Butler, Carol Coffey; Second row: Mary Pat Miller, Tama Ellis, Julie Crosswhite, Cindy Nichols, Kimberly Garner, Trish Shanklin, Shari Purdom, Kim Beach; Back row: Tony Hill, Dennis Mann, Hunter Ray, Charles Adams, Trent Williamson, Don Starks. — Photo by Wayne Westerholm.

Student Services:

VISA, FACT, The Student Association, JOY and ICC provided students the opportunity to serve each other and the university

There were five service organizations found on Harding's campus: the Student Association, FACT, JOY, ICC, and VISA.

The Student Association, led by President Craig Cheatham, represented the student body in various activity planning decisions. They brought to the campus, movies, concerts, and comedians. Some of the big hits were Charles Green (magician-comedian), Craig Anton, Dan Mendez (Juggler-comedian), and the ever-popular singing group, The Oak Ridge Boys. Once again, the SA was responsible for the campus Christmas lights.

Future Alumni Communication Team, in conjunction with the Alumni office, helped plan various activities for Harding alumni. They were the intermediary between former students, the University, and present students. Their activities included Parent's Weekend, Homecoming, and the Black and Gold Banquet.

The purpose for Volunteers in Support of Admissions was to recruit new students. They gave tours to perspective students and informed them of certain campus activities. They also played a big part in Spring Sing/Youth Forum weekend and High School Days.

JOY was a service organization that was very well known on the Harding campus. Their motto was: Jesus first, others second, and yourself last. The members formed committees. Some of them included the children's committee, with the big brother/big sister program; the elderly committee, with the adopt-a-grandparent program; the Literacy committee; and the correspondence committee, which put members in contact with Christians in other countries. They were also involved with the student lectureship, which was held in January and they held devotionals for the women of Harding.

The Inter-Club Council, which acted as a liaison between the social clubs and the administration, discussed the new policies for pledgework, and added three new clubs. Each club had a representative who attended each meeting and, in turn, reported the meeting's topic to his or her club members. Celeste Selby, representative, felt that the ICC was something to be proud of because "it's a core group of people coming together; instead of a larger, unorganized group."

— Carmelita Bandy

OFF TO A GOOD START. Louise Tucker, president of JOY, visits with Tom Alexander at the Tahkoda faculty retreat in August. JOY participated in many service-oriented activities. — Photo by Ken Bissell.