Endless Names

Meeting new people is one of the greatest opportunities at Harding, but we never truly realized just how many potential friends there were until that first day in chapel when three thousand faces surrounded us. We could never hope to meet everyone, and wondered if we would meet anyone! Seeing the size of our first New Testament class wasn't encouraging either. Who could possibly hope to make friendships in a class of over a hundred people seated alphabetically? Then, all too quickly, the first club mixers began, and total strangers tried to persuade us to join their particular club.

We spent many nights wandering through crowded rooms, shaking hands, and concentrating on the name tags in front of us until we were struggling to remember our own names. Trying to keep track of even a few people from those clubs with the bizarre Greek names was surprisingly difficult. They all said "hello" in the cafeteria, so we pretended to know who they were.

It wasn't until much later that we came to know them as brothers and sisters in Christ. Only then could we begin to recall even a few of the endless names.

GOBLINES AND GOULIES. A little Searcian excitedly accepts candy in the Pattie Cobb women's dorm lobby on Halloween night in October. The night provided a chance for community and college to come together for the children of the town, as all the women's dorms opened to allow local children a safe way to trick-or-treat. — Photo by Sharon Bowles.

Volume 66 of the Harding University Petit Jean, "The Possibilities are Endless," was published by a core student staff of eleven and over 60 contributors helping with copy, pictures, design and indexing.

Printing of the 3,500 copies was done by Josten's Printing and Publishing Division of Visalia, California. Richard Tristao served as our inplant consultant and Dean Bawcom of Searcy served as our representative. Paste-ups were done by Josten's, who also set most of the type. The index was typeset by the Harding Press.

The theme and division page design were conceived by Jennifer R. Terry; cover designed by Phillip Tucker and Jennifer R. Terry on a napkin in TCBY. The cover was a caftline embossed leather tone in Basin #517 with Cordova grain and raised lettering and artwork. Applied colors were Silver Foil #381 and Blue-Green #343. Endsheets were Silver Sterling #420 paper stock with Medium Blue #285 the applied color. The book consisted of 332 pages of 80 lbs. high gloss enamel stock, 9"x12". Color pages used Pantone

Paper in varying shades and colors.

Most headlines were typeset by Josten's, with a few set using the Apple Macintosh and LaserWriter. Text ranged from 6 point Century Schoolbook and in 8 point century schoolbook bold. Drop letters were in 36 point Century Schoolbook.

Most photographs were student taken and printed in the Petit Jean darkroom. Nearly 200 rolls of black and white film were processed. Color photographs were printed by Magna IV in Little Rock. Portraits were taken by John Baker Photography in Searcy.

The Petit Jean office is located in the Myra Lou Tyer suite on the second floor of the Hammon Student Center. Address any correspondence to Box 812, Station A, Searcy, AR 72143. The office can be reached by phone at (501) 279-4275.

The cost for a Petit Jean was included in student registration fees and totaled $18 for the year.

The Petit Jean is a member of the Arkansas College Publications Association and the Associated Collegiate Press.

In Memoriam

Steve Churchill will always be remembered because of his humble spirit that gave him the power to serve and encourage those around him. To many friends he was a great listener who could empathize at all times.

He was disciplined in his relationship to God and in his studies, and worked enthusiastically with his club. Steve also knew how to have a good time whether it was wearing a rallybag at a football game or a garter belt at a wedding. At his funeral was read the scripture that probably best fit Steve: "Blessed are the poor in spirit, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven."

Someone once said that Steve lived his life like he was already there.

Jerome Green, Steve and Bruce Richardson talk together after church one Sunday morning. The three friends were members of Beta Phi Kappa social club. Steve had been elected vice president of the club last spring.

Steve and his date, Cindy Canada, smile for the camera at the Beta Phi banquet last spring. Steve was appreciated by all those with whom he associated, and was known by his friends for his good-hearted sense of humor.

Endless Hours!!!

Well guys, it's finally over. The "1990 Petit Jean" phase of our lives has come to pass. It passes with feelings of relief, accomplishment, and a touch of remorse.

We have all added a piece of ourselves to this project. This cover holds much more than words and photos for those of us who spent so many hours on its production; it holds countless memories. I pray that your memories of being on the staff are cherished as a part of your life at Harding.

My dearest Kimberly, I couldn't have asked for a better assistant. You have stuck by me when the days were long and the nights were short. I admire you for your diligence and self-esteem.

Sharon, thank you for teaching me so much about year-books and editorship. I know that this has been a tough year for you.

Jeff, Thanks for the assistance that you gave the photo department. You had a tough job and you did it very well. I wish you and Julie all the best as you begin your lives together in May.

Lilli, I know this has been one of the busiest years of your life; thank you for sharing part of it with me. You have been a splendid roommate and a good friend. Thank you for having patience with me when things got so hectic in both of our schedules. I know that you will be an excellent teacher someday!

Melydia, you have been one of my greatest encouragements. I could always count on you to make me feel better about myself and my work. Thank you for being there for me as an editor and as a friend.

Janelle, I know this has been a busy year for you. I appreciate the dedication you had to the biggest section of the book. You have been an asset to the book for two years; they will miss you next year.

Shawn, I know you got yourself into more than you bargained for this year. Thank you for sticking to your commitment with the book.

Shannon, you have made me laugh so many times this year. Our bulletin boards would not have been nearly as interesting without you. I wish you all the best as you make decisions about your future.

Randy, you too, have made me laugh. My "music vocabulary" has never been this complete. Thank you for your own bits of "student life" that you added to the office.

Brian, thank you for catching our mistakes. You were the perfect person for the index. Thank you for being so precise.

Jack, you have been such an important part of my education at Harding. Thank you for helping me through my many "crises." You are a wonderful teacher and a good friend.

Phillip, perhaps most of all, I thank you for our friendship. You have had to be both an editor and a therapist; you have filled both roles well. Thank you for always being there for me when I needed you the most.

Mom and Dad, it was your love and encouragement that ultimately got me through this "project." Mom, thank you for making you family your career. I feel so fortunate to have had a "full time" mom who was always there to build me up. Dad, thank you for your wisdom and perspective when I let my priorities get out of order. I love you both.

In this office, we have laughed, we have cried, we have learned about ourselves and each other, we have made memories. I wish all of you happiness as you discover your "endless possibilities."

I love you all,
Jennifer
