eaning.

A stylized graphic of tree roots in a dark green color, extending from the bottom left corner upwards and to the right, partially overlapping the word "eaning." The roots are thick and gnarled, with several main branches spreading out.

The 2011 Petit Jean yearbook of Harding University, Volume 87, "Dig Deeper," was printed by Walsworth Printing and Publishing in Marceline, Mo., and was produced on Macintosh computers using Adobe InDesign, Adobe Photoshop, Adobe Illustrator and Walsworth Enhancements.

COVER: The cover is produced on Scf Fre Matte Laminate and is printed on 160 point Graphic FSC Board.

ENDSHEETS: The endsheets were printed on Standard White Endleaf.

THEME: The theme was conceived by Nicole Sullenger, editor in chief.

COLOR: 336 pages were printed in four-color process on Legend Gloss 100# Stock.

TYPOGRAPHY: Opening and closing headlines were set in Contra; Division Pages in Contra; Student Life headlines in Tuffy; People headlines in GeosansLight; Leadership headlines in Florencesans and Florencesans Outline; Academics headlines in Aaargh; Organizations headlines in Atype 1; Social Clubs headlines in Aaargh; and Athletics headlines in ITC Stone Sans Std, 'Bugebol, huomenna' and Minion Pro. All captions were set in 10-point Champagne & Limousines Bold, 10-point Champagne & Limousines Regular. All body copy was set in 9-point Grotesque MT Std Light. All bylines were set in 8-point Champagne & Limousines Bold Italic.

PHOTOGRAPHY: All photographs were taken by Ashel Parsons, Alex Shelton and Abby Kellett. Several photographs were taken by Noah Darnell, university photographer; Caleb Rummel, Bison photographer; and Jon Yoder, Bison photographer. All photographs were taken on digital cameras and were balanced in Photoshop. The portraits in the People section and most staff portraits were taken by Holland Studios of Memphis, Tenn. Most faculty portraits were taken by Noah Darnell and Jeff Montgomery, director of photographic services.

DESIGN: The entire book was designed by Nicole Sullenger, editor in chief, and Brooklyn Sims and Kelly Gemma, layout editors. The cover was designed by Nicole Sullenger and Brooklyn Sims.

APPRECIATION: The 2011 Petit Jean is thankful for the many people who helped make the publication a success. Thank you to Dennis McCarty, administrative assistant, for your willingness to help with the never-ending questions asked of you, your comic relief and for all the advice you gave us through the year. Thank you to Kelly Schumate and Ronnie Dowdy Trucking for their help in the delivery of all the books. Thank you to Walsworth for all your help in the production of this book: Tod Traughber, local representative, and Jill Fowler, in-plant consultant. Thank you so much to Katie Ramirez, director of student publications and Petit Jean adviser, for all the time you spent inside and outside the office talking to us and helping us with anything we asked. And of course, thank you for the pizza on deadline night. It's wonderful to have you back.

The Petit Jean is located on the second floor of the Hammon Student Center in room 211. Any correspondence can be sent to the Petit Jean, Harding University, Box 10812, Searcy, Ark., 72149-0001. The office phone number is (501) 279-4139. The office e-mail address is petitjean@harding.edu. Students who enrolled for 12 credit hours or more both semesters have paid sufficient general fees to cover the $30 cost of the yearbook. Depending on their enrollment status for the year, others are charged full or half price.

The Petit Jean is a member of the Arkansas College Media Association, the Columbia Scholastic Press Association and the Associated Collegiate Press Hall of Fame.

Let me start off by saying that I am not the best at making decisions. I am that friend that will sit on the couch until someone else tells us what we're doing. So, in other words, choosing a theme for the yearbook proved to be quite difficult. I began brainstorming themes at the end of last spring semester, right after I found out I was editor in chief. I looked all over the place for potential ideas — in magazines, television shows, books, commercials and so on. Nothing. Nothing at all. By the beginning of August I had a few ideas, but I still wasn't convinced. Finally, when I had less than a week left before I left for the Student Publications retreat, I thought of the theme, "Dig Deeper." The entire 14-hour drive from Michigan down to Arkansas I tried to figure out what I meant by "Dig Deeper." There were so many different meanings I thought of, and to be honest, it wasn't until about two months into the school year when I realized what I had been thinking all along.

It's too often we sink into this routine of doing the same things, seeing the same people and not branching out. We move into the dorms, make friends, hang out with those same friends 24/7, use all 15 chapel skips, search around for the easiest Bible class, do just 'good enough' in classes and move out for the summer. After this routine is repeated four times, or maybe five, we graduate. The days run together and become pretty monotonous. That is where digging deeper comes in. If we can take the time to think a little bit harder about the things we do, spend more time making our friendships deeper and dig into God's word to find out who He is calling us to be, our lives will become increasingly blessed.

For me, personally, I spend a lot of time dedicated to ensuring that my future will be as successful as possible. My primary focus is on my classes, the yearbook, my resume, etc. Although it is great that I have taken the time to think about those things, I start missing out on both social and spiritual aspects of my life. When I don't take the time to break out from my compartmentalized life, I am missing out on opportunities for God to bless me and for me to bless others. One of the greatest things about Harding is the people it brings together. Whether it's the girl you don't really know in your classes or your roommate who you will stay friends with forever, they each can have an impact in your life. Until you take the time to invest in them, they won't be able to fully invest in you.

That is what digging deeper is all about. It is making that extra effort to figure out exactly why we do the things the we do, and better yet who we are doing them for. Because when we find the answers to those questions, the current priority in our lives becomes pretty clear. If those answers don't lead us to where we want to be, that is when we can reevaluate what we are doing and start focusing more on those things we have been ignoring. Our lives can change drastically when we choose to dig deeper.

The book highlights the ways people on this campus choose to dig deeper. There is Regis Ngaboyisonga, the student from Rwanda who has this love and passion for Jesus that just blows me away. The faculty member this book is dedicated to, Dr. Cheri Smith, who invests in and cares so much about every one of her students. The group who experienced the villa fire and burglary at HUF, yet still found the trip to be one of the biggest blessing in their lives. Then there is Taylor Lively, whose doctor told him that running cross country saved his life. There are so many different ways the people around us can challenge us to grow. It is my hope that as you read the stories of all the people and groups that make up this university, you see the different ways in which we each can dig deeper to find that deeper meaning.
