FOREWORD

The philosophy of a college makes a strong impact upon the students who imbibe the spirit of their alma mater. For years an increasing emphasis on the pursuit of excellence has characterized the program at Harding College; however, the verbalization of this objective was made by Dr. Clifton L. Ganus, Jr., President of Harding College, in his inaugural address on September 18, 1965. The ultimate goal is that each student may seek to do his best in whatever he undertakes — in the classroom, on the football field, in the A Cappella chorus, on the debate team, in student publications, in student leadership, on the basketball court, in work assignments, in daily living. The “pursuit of excellence” has become a powerful motivating factor in the lives of Harding students. This has been evidenced in the achievements of Harding students and the dedicated lives of service of Harding alumni. In academics, in social activities, in athletics, in dramatics, in forensics, in music, in work, in play, in student teaching, in laboratory, in student work, in service to others, in worship to God, in all facets of life, excellence is the goal — excellence as an achieved reality as well as a motivating ideal.

College years are important years — years of preparation for great achievements in the future and years moreover in which life flows at high tide. Although the central feature of any college is the academic program and intellectual development, an equally important facet of a Christian college is the spiritual emphasis upon the development of Christian character and commitment.

The purpose of this book is to help you recapture the highlights of the 1966-67 school year at Harding College.

Since Harding College is a Christian college,
 Students are encouraged to develop spiritually
 As well as intellectually. Through
 Inspiring worship services of the church
 And private devotional experiences on campus
 Students learn the great power that
 Can come from communing with their Creator.
 They learn the meaning of Christianity and
 Find the peace that passes understanding.

Counseling, registration, and orientation
 Are important activities in the life of every College Student. The faculty of Harding College
 Strive to help each student find the area
 Of life in which he can render his greatest
 Service and to assist him in outlining
 A program of study that will best prepare
 Him for living the abundant life and
 For achieving excellence in his profession.

Harding's environment encourages excellence

In May and June of 1966 the Harding Collegiate Players toured military bases in Iceland, Greenland, Newfoundland, and Labrador Under the auspices of the USO, Presenting "Where's Charley" and a Variety Program to appreciative audiences. This was the fourth overseas tour made by Harding students since 1960, the three previous Tours having been made by the Belles and Beaux.

Enrollment increases of about 20 per cent Each of the last two falls has brought an Increasing need for additional dormitories and Classrooms to accommodate a student body That is increasing in academic quality yearly. The first unit of the new Men's Dormitory Was completed just before the opening of The fall semester and this unit is the First air-conditioned dormitory on campus.

Excellence is fundamental to Harding Heritage

For 29 years Dr. George S. Benson served as president of Harding College, beginning in the fall of 1936 and retiring following the 1965 spring Commencement. Through his untiring efforts he raised the money to clear the indebtedness, build several new buildings, and establish a sizeable endowment. In addition to his effective leadership in Christian education, Dr. Benson was a forceful advocate of the American way of life.

More than a decade ago Dr. Benson began preparing Dr. Clifton L. Ganus, Jr., to succeed him as president. A year's study in college administration at Columbia University and actual experience in various administrative positions prepared President Ganus for the position he most capably fills. A scholar in American history and a dedicated Christian, Dr. Ganus knows the meaning of the "pursuit of excellence."

"Pursuit of excellence" is an attitude that is stressed in all activities of Harding College. This is evident in the achievement of students

In co-curricular activities as well as in Academic pursuits. The Business Management Team in its second year of participation won the 1966 Executive Games conducted by Michigan State University in competition with about 40 Prominent colleges and universities. The Rotating trophy was presented to the team by Michigan's Governor George Romney.

The 1966 football team thrilled fans with its Stellar defensive play and sparkling bursts of Offensive power. Posting a 6-3 record, the Team was in contention for the conference Championship most of the season since the Three AIC co-champions each had two Loses in conference play. Harding received the AIC Football Sportsmanship Award for Sportsmanship of players, coaches, and fans.

Excellence and time march on

Graduation day brings mingled emotions to Seniors who have reached this important Milestone in life. The diploma presented to Each senior by President Ganus symbolizes Significant achievement. More than 40 of the Graduates in 1966 received fellowships and Assistantships for graduate study, more than 100 Completed the NCATE-approved teacher education Program, and ten entered medical school.

Key building is monumental of Harding's drive for excellence

Dedicated on June 2, 1965, the John Mabee Alumni-American Heritage Building, built at a cost of about 1.5 million dollars, has become one of the most extensively used buildings on campus. The beautiful dining room on special occasions accommodates more than 600 guests at banquets in addition to its use as one of the regular cafeterias. The three floors of hotel-style rooms provide facilities for alumni at homecomings, guests at lectureships, and conferees at workshops. This year it has also served as a dormitory for 50 boys. Its four seminar rooms provided excellent classrooms badly needed when the college enrollment swelled to 1,741.

The lounge of the Heritage Center
Is a popular place with students, especially
On Saturday afternoons when nationally
Televised sports events can be viewed on
The large color television set.
Various student groups use the large lobby
For receptions and the Heritage Room and
Trophy Room provide facilities for banquets,
Dinner meetings, and informal gatherings.

Headquarters for the Alumni Association
 Are located in the American Heritage Center
 And alumni find the facilities of this Building ideally suited for them when they
 Return to campus for homecoming, lectureship,
 Or a casual week-end visit.
 The facilities are frequently used by
 Parents of students and prospective students,
 And by many educational and civic groups.

ROBERT T. CLARK, JR., PhD
1916 - 1966

Dr. Robert T. Clark gave three years of outstanding service to Harding College as Vice-President in Charge of Research, joining the Harding faculty in September, 1963. A 1939 alumnus of Harding and the recipient of the 1961 Distinguished Alumnus Award, he completed the Ph.D. degree in physiology at the University of Rochester in 1949 and subsequently became internationally famous for his research. He died suddenly on the afternoon of July 7, 1966, from cardio-vascular problems of long standing. Even his closest friends did not know that he had been "running for his life" for more than a decade, but physicians performing the autopsy agreed that running had prolonged his life.

Born on a farm near Union City, Tennessee, on December 3, 1916, Dr. Clark received in his youth the discipline of farm life. He achieved an excellent academic record in college and also became recognized as a top collegiate sprinter. He was an outstanding teacher who "kindled the flame" of his students. He was a dynamic track coach who got superior effort from his team. He was a humble, dedicated Christian who enjoyed preaching for rural congregations. He was a devoted husband and father and the hospitality of his home was enjoyed by scores of students and colleagues. He loved people, especially college students, and his life was lived in service to others.

IN MEMORIAM

*Resplendent with the energy he showed,
 Our friend with eager effervescence glowed;
 But came the sudden setting of his sun
 Ere eventide of life was scarce begun:
 Removed from earth to join a better clime,
 To live again, beyond the reach of time.
 The message he would leave for us is, "Run!
 Continue 'til the race is fully won;
 Let nothing stop before you've done your best
 And wait until you're through to take a rest,
 Relenting not a bit, but keep your pace;
 Keep on with all you've got and win the race!"*

DEDICATION

LLOYD CLINE SEARS, PhD

With honor we dedicate the 1967 Petit Jean

THROUGH willing sacrifices and unselfish dedication to Christian education, Dr. Sears strives always for the advancement of excellence.

In each generation only a few men stand out because of the great service they render. The person to whom the senior class dedicated the 1967 Petit Jean is the epitomy of the spirit of Harding College. He has played a major role for 42 years in building the institution and in directing her academic destiny. A brilliant student of literature, he has thrilled hundreds of students in his Shakespeare and Chaucer classes. His chapel talks and sermons have given Christianity relevance in the lives of thousands of alumni. To you, Dr. Lloyd Cline Sears, Professor of English and Dean Emeritus of Harding College, the 1967 Petit Jean is respectfully dedicated.

Shakespeare's literature becomes alive as Dr. L. C. Sears provides background information on the life and times of the poet to students.

LLOYD CLINE SEARS was born May 13, 1895, in Odon, Indiana. He enrolled in the academy of Cordell Christian College in 1908 and graduated from the College with the B.A. degree in 1915. He subsequently attended the University of Oklahoma, the University of Kansas, and the University of Chicago, receiving the Ph.D. degree in English from Chicago in 1935. At Cordell he was greatly influenced by J. N. Armstrong, who subsequently became his father-in-law, to devote his life to Christian education. His two sons, Dr. Jack Wood Sears, Chairman of the Department of Biological Science at Harding College, and Dr. James Kern Sears, a research chemist for Monsanto Chemical Co., are alumni of Harding College.

When Harding College was organized as a senior college in 1924, he was appointed Dean by President Armstrong and he served continuously as the academic leader of the College until his retirement as Dean on June 1, 1960. Under his leadership the institutional studies were made that led to the accreditation of the College by the North Central Association in 1954. He has served on many educational and civic committees and throughout the state of Arkansas he is recognized as a scholar, a superior teacher, a capable administrator, and a dedicated Christian. In 1966 he received the Distinguished Alumnus Award presented by the Harding Alumni Association. He is currently writing biographies of James A. Harding and J. N. Armstrong — two great men who hold important places in the history of Harding College.

FOLLOWING many years of active dedicated service, Dr. Sears was the guest of honor at a dinner on May 31, 1960 when he officially retired.

ADMINISTRATION

Guiding the destiny of the College,
 Providing needed physical facilities,
 Planning the academic program,
 Leading in the search for truth,
 Directing us into creative activities,
 Opening new intellectual vistas,
 Challenging us to lives of service,
 The administration, faculty, and staff
 Exemplify the "pursuit of excellence."

ADMINISTRATION

Harding's leader pursues his designs of excellence in '67

DR. CLIFTON L. GANUS, JR., began his second year as President of Harding College on June 3, 1966. In his inaugural address President Ganus had outlined a "decade of development" and the 1966-67 school year saw the completion of some of the developments projected — the new science building and the new men's dormitory. Under his guidance the President's Development Council reached a membership of 100 and the Associated Women for Harding enrolled 700 women in 13 chapters.

President Ganus also served effectively as President of the Arkansas Foundation of Associated Colleges and he is in constant demand as a speaker for important educational and civic meetings. His wisdom, tact, understanding, humility, and dedication command the respect of faculty and student body alike and enable him to channel the resources of the college into achieving outstanding objectives.

PRESIDENT Ganus pauses to speak to ushers at Graduation ceremonies as he prepares to present diplomas, one of his dignitary duties.

HOLDING a pre-school faculty conference is one of the duties of President Ganus as he confers with Bob Gilliam and Jack Wood Sears.

ANOTHER striker! Dr. Ganus finds enjoyment and relaxation in his bowling ball. He is a frequent visitor to the College Bowl.

To Carl Moore,
In appreciation for his friendship,
his interest in Harding College and his helpfulness

Cliff Ganus

PRESIDENT OF THE COLLEGE

CLIFTON L. GANUS, PhD

JOSEPH E. PRYOR, PhD

DEAN OF THE COLLEGE

Dr. Pryor mixes administrative and extracurricular activities

DR. JOSEPH E. PRYOR has served Harding College as a teacher of chemistry, physics and mathematics for 23 years and as academic dean for seven years. His keen interest in students, his dedication to the aims and objectives of Christian education, and his capacity for sustained hard work enable him to render valuable service to the College.

During the past year Dean Pryor served as President of the Arkansas Department of Higher Education, Secretary-Treasurer of Region II of Alpha Chi, Vice-President of the Arkansas Intercollegiate Athletic Conference and a Coordinator in the North Central Association.

DR. Joe Pryor comments to J. D. Bales on the outcome of Harding in a cross country race as both faculty members support the team.

VIRGIL LAWYER, MA

DEAN OF STUDENTS

Dean Lawyer ably administers all student personnel services

VIRGIL H. LAWYER has the heavy responsibilities of both Dean of Students and Director of Admissions. Under his supervision is the student recruitment program ably conducted by Eddie Campbell. The registration of 1,741 college students for the fall semester, an increase of 18 per cent over that of the previous fall, reveals the effective work of the Admissions Office. With dormitories filled to the limit, Dean Lawyer capably administered the Student Personnel Services so that students were happy in spite of being crowded.

Because of his enthusiasm for all sports — but distance running in particular — he accepted the added assignment of coach of the cross-country team following the death of Dr. R. T. Clark. Coach Lawyer guided the Harding harriers to a decisive victory in the 1966 AIC cross-country meet.

Dean Lawyer is an avid student of history and spends many evenings reading definitive historical treatises. He also maintains a keen interest in mission work with particular emphasis on Japan, since he served five years in Japan as a missionary.

DIRECTOR OF RESEARCH

Director of Research is added responsibility of Harry Olree

DR. HARRY D. OLREE is completing a decade of service at Harding College this year, but he is beginning his responsibilities as Director of Research. Having served effectively as Associate Director of Research for the three years that the College has conducted an extensive program of research on the scientific evaluation of physical fitness levels, Dr. Olree was the logical person to direct the program following the death of Dr. R. T. Clark.

Dr. Olree continues to serve as Chairman of the Department of Physical Education and Health and as Athletic Director, assisted by Bob Knight and Carl Allison, respectively. He has served in many capacities in the physical education and intercollegiate athletic program during his tenure of service and the excellent program Harding has in these areas reflects his administrative ability. He has also gained national recognition through his publications.

HARRY OLREE, EdD

DEAN OF MEN

Allison serves as counselor, advisor in Dean of Men role

CARL LEE ALLISON handles his many responsibilities as Dean of Men with firmness, understanding, and dignity. His outstanding record as an all-time football great at the University of Oklahoma and his experience as a football coach give him excellent rapport with the students. Dean Allison served five years as head football coach at Harding before returning to the University of Oklahoma for two years as assistant football coach. He returned to Harding on January 1, 1966. Dean Allison also serves as assistant athletic director and baseball coach and he coordinates the use of Camp Tahkudah for groups using the camp facilities.

LOTT TUCKER, BA

BUSINESS MANAGER

Lott Tucker completes decade of service as Business Manager

LOTT R. TUCKER has completed a decade of service as Business Manager of Harding College. The magnitude of his job is indicated by the fact that he is directly responsible for administering a budget of $4,500,000 for the 1966-67 school year. This budget covers the auxiliary enterprises of the college as well as the academic programs under the control of the Board of Trustees.

He is also responsible for supervising the construction of new buildings, maintenance of both the Searcy and Memphis campuses, and the employment of all non-academic personnel. The tremendous expansion that has taken place on the Harding campuses during the past decade bespeak his excellent financial judgment and leadership.

Mr. Tucker is a leader in the Searcy Kiwanis Club, the Searcy Chamber of Commerce, and other civic groups. He finds relaxation during the summer coaching a Little League baseball team.

VIRGIL BECKETT, BA

REGISTRAR

Registrar Beckett assumes the control of new IBM equipment

VIRGIL M. BECKETT has stream-lined his work as Registrar through the use of IBM equipment. He supervised the installation of the IBM room in the basement of the Administration Building during the past summer and he has designed the various circuits that enable the machines to report grades and to make statistical calculations. The IBM equipment has speeded up the work of the Registrar's office and has greatly expanded the scope of service that this office can provide.

Mr. Beckett checks the degree plan of all seniors to see that they will meet graduation requirements on schedule and he counsels with students on plans for graduate study. He is a member of the state and national association of collegiate Registrars. He finds relaxation from his duties through fishing, playing a round of golf, or beautifying his lawn.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES

Harding's Board of Trustees provides guideline for growth

Ultimate control of Harding College resides in the BOARD OF TRUSTEES, a self-perpetuating body. Meeting twice each year in regular session, the Board establishes the policies of the College and advises the President on various administrative and financial problems.

Spiritual growth, development is offered by Bible Department

Since each student at Harding College is enrolled in a Bible class each semester, the Division of Bible has an important role in the academic program of the College. Majors are provided in both Bible and Biblical Languages. Special seminars, lectureships, and workshops supplement regular classes. A three-year graduate program is offered at the Graduate School of Religion in Memphis.

Dr. William Joe Hacker, Jr., divisional chairman, returned in August after a two-year leave to complete the D.R.E. degree. New additions to the faculty are Dr. James K. Zink, who has an excellent background in archaeology, Jerry Lee Jones, and Allan Isom. Neale Pryor, who is on leave to work toward the doctorate, was named the outstanding young teacher of the College for 1965-66.

EDUCATION

NCATE re evaluates teacher education program

Preparation for re-evaluation of the teacher education program by the National Council for the Accreditation of Teacher Education was the major activity of the Division of Education during the fall semester. Addition of physical education as one of the fields in the Master of Arts in Teaching degree was the major expansion.

Dr. Edward G. Sewell serves as divisional chairman and also as Chairman of the Arkansas TEPS Commission. Gene Talbert left for doctoral study.

FINE ARTS

Harding students gain culture from the Fine Arts curriculum

All college students have contact with the Division of Fine Arts through courses in art appreciation and music appreciation required as part of the general education program. Majors are offered in art, art education, music, music education, voice, piano, and violin.

Dr. Erle T. Moore serves as divisional chairman. New members of the division are Don D. Robinson in art and William W. Hollaway in piano. Dr. Kenneth Davis, director of the A Cappella Chorus, completed the Doctor of Music degree in 1966. Vernal Richardson served as Concert Master of the Arkansas Symphony. The Music Department presented the opera, "Brigadoon," in the spring.

COMMERCIAL artist Stan Green teaches classes as well as working with the publicity office in designing posters, and brochures.

HUMANITIES

Curriculum trains all students in communications arts, offers specialization in English, speech, journalism

Acquaintance with effective techniques of oral and written communication and with the world's great literature is provided every student through required general education courses in composition, literature, and speech. Majors are offered in English, journalism, and speech.

Dr. Evan Ulrey serves as divisional chairman. New members of the Department of English are James E. Arnold, Karen Arnold, Jo Cleveland, Jon Farris, and James Edward Williams. Dr. Winfred Wright was added to the faculty as assistant professor of French.

Dr. Doyle Ward returned from a two-year leave to complete the doctorate in speech correction.

Dr. Ulrey served as Third Vice-President of the Southern Speech Association and as Governor of the Lower Mississippi Province of Pi Kappa Delta. Dr. Richard Walker was President of the Arkansas Speech and Hearing Association. Neil B. Cope completed a second tour of duty as Sponsor of the Arkansas College Publications Association.

NATURAL SCIENCE

Study of Natural Sciences will be aided with new Science Hall

The highlight for the Division of Natural Science was the completion early in the spring semester of the million dollar Science Building which provides excellent facilities for teaching and research. The division suffered a keen loss in the death of Dr. R. T. Clark on July 7, 1966.

Dr. Jack Wood Sears serves as chairman of the division. Kenneth L. Perrin, Chairman of the Department of Mathematics, returned from a two-year leave for doctoral study. George Woodruff in biology and Lynn England and Bula Moudy in home economics are new faculty members.

SOCIAL SCIENCE

Social Sciences reveal growth by adding a new department

Winning the national executive games at Michigan State University in the Spring of 1966 was a major achievement of this division which was enlarged in the fall by the addition of the new Department of Psychology and Sociology. A significant activity of the division continues to be the American Studies Program.

Dr. James A. Hedrick is chairman of the division. On leave for doctoral study are Ray Muncy and Jerry Starr. New members are Joel Anderson, Robert Camp, Tony Cook, George Cooper, Gerald Stephenson, and Shirley Williams.

Staff keeps campus beautiful, offices efficient

Although the strength of any college depends upon the quality of its faculty, the effective functioning of the faculty depends upon staff members who perform a multitude of services. The smooth functioning of the college results from the dedicated work of these men and women.

They operate the auxiliary enterprises, plan and prepare the meals, keep the buildings and grounds in good condition, do the secretarial work, keep the records, maintain the health of students, and tell the Harding story through news media.

Without the capable and unselfish service of these people the excellent academic program could not be maintained. Although students frequently do not recognize the importance of the activities of these people, their services directly affect the daily life of each student. They render many essential services that often go unrecognized.

ACADEMIC LIFE

General education curriculum offers all-area depth of study

Harding College is a liberal arts Christian college. Its program of curricular study and co-curricular activity is designed to assist students in developing a background of knowledge and experience that will enable them to live effective lives of service. The philosophy of the college is developed through systematic Bible study and daily chapel. A broad general education program acquaints students with their historical heritage, their cultural heritage, the grandeurs of science, and effective means of oral and written communication.

"YOU'VE heard of Babylonia?" questions Bible professor Bob Helsten as he uses the popular flannel board for a teaching aid.

MASTERING the complicated California job case is only one of many aspects of typography and graphic arts, Judy Coffman discovers.

DEFYING the balance of man is Andy Saunders on the parallel bars. Gymnastics class is only one of many physical education courses.

IT'S showtime for the second-graders as the elementary education majors stage a puppet show to demonstrate both educational aptitudes and appealing art to children.

GINNY Partezana selects a French record knowing that foreign language requires an extensive study of vocabulary.

THE study of comparative anatomy enables Bob Erikson and Ken Ellingwood to correlate the anatomies of man and mammal through analysis.

New Science building provides more steps toward excellence

An NCATE-approved teacher education program is provided students who plan to teach and more than 100 seniors complete the program each year. Excellent laboratories are provided in biology, chemistry, physics, home economics, psychology, business, speech, art, music, journalism, and physical education. A strong program of co-curricular activities supplements formal classes. Physical fitness is maintained through recreational activity classes and an outstanding intramural athletic program.

FOR some students, the Heritage Snack Bar provides a haven for study.

PUTTING the hem in model Danna Brown's coat is Joan Howard.

THE class project of Psychology 260, a course in learning and perception, is building a rat maze, complete with electric grids to provide electric shock. Leo Peninger, Bill Culp, and Bill Smith are a part of the group who have begun the construction of the maze; the process of classical conditioning of rats will occur upon completion.

ACTORS transmit the emotions of the playwright to their audience in Five Days, Linda Bahler's assigned production for Play Directing 310.

NURSERY school provides practical experience for Suzanne Hall who aids a child on the jungle gym.

TOM Simmons works on a curriculum chart for Educational Work in the Church, which entails a detailed analysis of lesson plans and educational materials.

MUSIC Appreciation is one of the general requirements which is designed to acquaint Harding students with the fine arts. A listening lab is held each week wherein music students listen to records of the classical music, and the works of Bach and Beethoven become familiar. The labs provide quiet listening and concentration.

ENGLISH major Jean Lewis pauses at the library desk to check out more term paper books.

DEEP concentration is a necessary factor in the production of beautiful music, discovers Elaine Huddleston as she develops her talent for the Arkansas State Symphony.

TRANSCRIBING shorthand onto the typewriter is only one of the many business procedures learned by Jane Hicks. She also learns the mechanical operation of various business machines.

PROFESSOR Bill Verkler and sociology major Linda Benson discuss the major points of an autobiographical term paper which is a requirement in the Marriage and the Family class. Depth of self-perception and situation analysis were two major facets of the research paper.

"MISTIQUE, symbols, myth — all are a part of the folklore that helps guide young nations," Joel Anderson exerts in political science.

ACADEMIC LIFE

We learn, broaden our sight in daily academic expansion

Depth of study is provided through 35 possible majors. In the advanced courses in his major field, the student is introduced to research techniques and learns to write research papers. Excellent preparation can be obtained for graduate and professional study as evidenced by the fact that more than 40 of the 1966 graduates received fellowships and assistantships from leading universities. Strong pre-professional programs are provided in law, engineering, and medicine.

PRONUNCIATION is the key word to correct speech and articulation as students listen to sounds in Voice and Articulation III lab.

STUDENT LIFE

Pursuing rigorous academic programs,
 Worshipping God in true devotion,
 Enjoying cultural lyceum numbers,
 Participating in intramural athletics,
 Implementing mature social development,
 Supporting the intercollegiate teams,
 Helping with Student Association projects,
 Students in all facets of campus life
 Make relevant the "pursuit of excellence."

JIMMY Allen, a Harding faculty member, delivers his lecture "The Prince of Peace" to a capacity crowd on Thanksgiving Day during the lectureship.

RAY Chester, minister of the College Church where many students attend, presents the Sunday morning lesson to an attentive audience.

PARTICIPANTS in the Baton Rouge campaign for Christ are directed in their preparation by Harding student Thomas Miller.

DEVOTIONALS by the lily pool each week create a portion of the religious atmosphere which prevails throughout the Harding campus.

RELIGIOUS LIFE

Spiritual enrichment achieved through regular participation

Spiritual enrichment is a vital portion of a student's years at Harding. Numerous occasions for worship and service are provided to meet the varied interests of the students. Monday Night Meeting presents an opportunity for becoming better acquainted with the work of the church in various areas. Weekly devotionals beside the lily pool enable one to become more aware of the wonders of God's creation. Many students spend their vacations working with congregations in campaigns for Christ. Students who are interested in foreign mission fields meet together regularly to prepare themselves for future service in the work of the church.

A highlight of the year was the annual Thanksgiving Lectureship which provided a period of study and fellowship for almost three thousand in attendance. This year's theme was "My Peace I Leave with You." Experiences such as this aid in the expansion of knowledge and uplift spiritually.

SOCIAL LIFE

Friendliness emphasized to increase number of friends

Social life is a necessary part of anyone's college experience. Many life-time friends are made during these years. Harding provides many opportunities to make more friends.

Friendly Week, sponsored by the Student Association, put special emphasis on courtesy and friendliness to students and faculty. Open House in all dormitories and an informal party at the end of the week presented opportunities for becoming better acquainted with newly acquired friends. The week was climaxed with the burning in effigy of the "Grouch" at a lily pond ceremony.

GARY Coates and Dennis Brown enjoy a game of cards in the Game Room which is under the direction of Harding's Student Association.

ENTERTAINMENT from campus and atmosphere were enjoyed by students at the Coffee House, sponsored by the Student Association.

FRIENDLY Week Proclamations are read by beautiful "Queen" Linda Byrd who is supported loyally by her favorite court aide, Bob Helsten.

SARAH McDonald and other visitors complete a thorough inspection of Lynn Dixon's tidy dormitory room during the annual Open House.

CLIMAXING Friendly Week, a crowd of students gathers to witness the burning of the "Grouch" and his banishment from the Harding campus.

LEAP Year came early as girls elaborately proposed to the fellows during Pledge Week.

PREPARATION for any occasion is the necessary characteristic of any really worthy pledge, and Embra Alexander is no exception.

PLEDGEWEEK

Pledges remain active during trying week of endless tasks

The performance of ridiculous antics and numerous tasks for pledgemasters, the adornment of unusual accessories and the establishment of many new acquaintances are all a part of the ceaseless obligations of a lowly pledge. From sunrise until late at night the campus buzzes with the activity of seemingly tireless pledges. The week progresses rapidly with its never ending duties. As the period comes to an end, the informal "rough" initiation provides mysterious trips for blind-folded pledges, the sampling of unusual delicacies and a display of talent by the pledges for the entertainment of the pledgemasters. The week is brought to a climax as pledges are formally initiated as members of their social clubs at impressive candlelight ceremonies. Now, former pledges are privileged to enjoy banquets, outings, interclub athletic events and companionship with the members of their social clubs.

"TWINKLE, twinkle, I'm a Zug" was the familiar sound uttered by active Zeta Rho pledges for the amusement of anyone within hearing distance.

PLEDGES of Las Companeras are formally initiated at impressive candlelight ceremonies in the home of their sponsor Mrs. Russell Simmons.

Lyceum series presents varied programs throughout the year

Dramatic performances by the Campus Players and a professional troupe and concert artists have been featured in this year's lyceum series. This series has been an entertaining, educational and cultural experience enjoyed by many students.

The Harding College Department of Speech presented an outstanding performance of The Miracle Worker by William Gibson. This moving presentation of the life of Helen Keller was under the direction of Van Alessandro. Students were also privileged to see a professional performance of Shakespeare's Hamlet.

ERLENE Laney and Bill Keesling spent hours in the rehearsal of their lines for the spring presentation of the drama Hedda Gabler.

"DOLL, D-O-L-L." Annie patiently explains the relationship between the object and the word to Helen who refuses to grasp the meaning.

THE Keller Family and Annie Sullivan, Helen's teacher, gather for the tedious evening meal in a scene from The Miracle Worker.

HARPSICHORDIST George Lucktenberg provided cultural enrichment for the students and the community in the first of the Lyceum series.

NICOLE ridicules the vain efforts of Monsieur Jourdain as he tries to become a refined person in Moliere's The Would Be Gentleman.

USO TOUR

USO tour troupe entertains lonely soldiers during summer

On May 11, 1966, eighteen representatives of Harding College left with the USO for a five-and-a-half-week tour of the Northeast Command. This included Thule, Sondestrom, Goose Air Base, Argentina and Keflavik. The musical comedy, Where's Charley?, and a variety show were the features of the troupe. Auditions were held early in the year to determine who the representatives would be. In addition to thirty-five performances before live audiences, television and radio programs were a portion of the tour. Mr. Van Alessandro served as the director, a member of the cast and school sponsor of the group. By serving others, the USO troupe gained insight into the operation of the armed forces and a knowledge of cultures other than their own.

PERFORMANCES in officers' clubs, such as this one in Argentina, were part of the interesting routine of the busy USO tour troupe.

HANK McDaniel, Bob Bowden, Al Moore, Carolyn Medearis and Charles Miller entertained soldiers with the skit, "A Well-Placed Garbage Can."

VIRGINIA Partezana and Paul Kite combine talents on the bass fiddle and bongo drums in creating rhythm for the soldiers' enjoyment.

U. S. ARMY PHOTOGRAPH

BUNDLED, shivering and excited entertainers arrived in Thule and went for a ride over the ice and snow before presenting their performance.

QUEEN Dianne Holder is attended by Claudia Alley, Karen Donley, and her court — Mary Smith, Kay Bonnell, Linda Benson and Lynn Rolan.

HOMEcoming

Renewed friendships enjoyed during activity-filled weekend

The renewing of friendships is one of the many enjoyable experiences during the activity-filled weekend of Homecoming. Each year on Friday evening festivities begin with a chili supper at Wyldewood followed by a bonfire and pep rally at Bee Rock. A cavalcade of cars and floats precedes the annual Homecoming game on Saturday afternoon. During the half, the presentation of the Homecoming Court and the crowning of the Queen climax the day. This year the movies Oklahoma and Ivanhoe, sponsored by the Student Association, provided further entertainment for students and visitors. The day was brought to a fitting close as friends and families gathered around the lily pool for a late evening devotional.

MIKE Moore generously fills the bowls of hungry students with hot and delicious chili at the school-wide supper at Camp Wyldewood.

DIANNE Holder of Searcy, Arkansas, was crowned by Bernie Cox as the 1966 Homecoming Queen during halftime ceremonies.

KILT clad lads pull the Queen's float in the Homecoming Parade.

HARDING'S marching band, under the direction of Mr. Ed Baggett, goes through maneuvers during the half of the Harding-Maryville ball game.

TALENTED Carol Prucha smiles as she proudly displays her creative doll, "The Wizard of Id," a first prize winner in the originality division.

CHRISTMAS

Festive mood prevails campus as holiday season approaches

Decorations cover the campus and carols float through the air from the Student Association office each year as the Christmas holidays approach. The students, caught up in the festive mood, are busy making dolls, buying toys and preparing food baskets to make a better holiday for someone less fortunate than they. All these activities are climaxed by the school-wide Christmas party with entertainment by the students, refreshments of hot chocolate and donuts and, of course, a visit from Santa Claus. As the excitement of festivities on campus begins to diminish, eager students make preparations to return home for the holiday season.

SHARON Parker and Sue Nagel check their Christmas mail in hopes of finding a letter from Santa Claus regarding his approaching visit.

PERSONALITIES who failed to display the "Christmas Spirit" were promptly apprehended by the squad and put on trial before judge and jury.

ALTHOUGH most everyone had returned home for the holidays and missed the snow, Harding had a white Christmas season.

NANCY Dasher makes preparations for the approaching holiday season as she adds the finishing touches to her own decorative door creation.

UMBRELLAS were a vital accessory in providing protection from the drizzle of rain which fell during the ceremonies for the girls of the May Court.

MAY DAY

Annual crowning ceremonies greet the beginning of spring

The annual May Day Fete with the crowning of the May Queen and the winding of the Maypole is the campus' official greeting to Spring. The Queen's Court is composed of a representative from each women's social club and their escorts. The excitement and the anticipation of the crowd increases as the time of the revealing of the identity of the May Queen and campus beauties draws near. Each year this elegant and beautiful ceremony is under the direction of the Ju Go Ju women's social club. A drizzle of rain added a special uniqueness to the 1966 May Day celebration.

SHELTERED from the rain, Queen Sandy Rolen, nominee of the Phi Delta social club, and her attendants view the winding of the Maypole.

DEAN Pryor crowns a smiling Sandy Rolen as the Queen of May.

REPRESENTATIVES of each of the women's social clubs participate in the traditional winding of the many-colored Maypole.

ON behalf of the Senior Class, Petit Jean Editor Tom Milton presents the dedication to Bob Gilliam of the Psychology Department.

ANXIOUSLY flipping pages of their Petit Jeans, students gather in various spots about campus to examine thoroughly their yearbooks.

QUEEN Linda Williams, attended by Paula Peacock and Carol Prucha, reigns over Petit Jean dedication ceremonies.

PETIT JEAN Queen Linda Williams, the nominee of Galaxy men's social club, is presented to the student body with escort Cliff Clark.

PETIT JEAN DAY

Eagerly-awaited presentation reveals '66 Petit Jean secrets

The presentation of the Petit Jean is an eagerly-awaited and long-remembered day by both students and faculty. This occasion is the culmination of a year's hard work by diligent staff members. Carefully guarded secrets of the year are disclosed, revealing to whom the annual is dedicated and the identity of the Petit Jean Queen, the class favorites, the honor students and the best all-around. Immediately following the presentation ceremonies, anticipant students hastened to designated locations to receive their yearbooks which became storehouses of memories of their days at Harding.

AWAITING the final steps toward their diplomas, graduating seniors prepare to enter the Administration Building for graduation ceremonies.

GRADUATION

Graduation culminates years spent in preparing for future

A door closes, another door opens. Throughout one's life this cycle is repeated many times, but one of the most memorable is graduation and the entering upon one's life work. It is a time for reflections of passed years and predictions and hopes for years to come. Graduation is the culmination of years spent in a worthwhile endeavor to prepare oneself better for the career he chooses. With great expectations, seniors approach the threshold of another door in life.

GRADUATION ceremonies ended with Dr. Ganus and Mr. Mills leading the graduates in the recessional.

HARDING Board Chairman, Dr. Houston T. Karnes, encouraged the seniors at Commencement ceremonies held in the Administration Building.

FOUR long years of diligent study were rewarded as more than two hundred students gratefully received their hard-earned diplomas.

CLASSES

Entering as green freshmen,
 Returning as dubious sophomores,
 Continuing as hopeful juniors,
 Culminating as sophisticated seniors,
 Maturing remarkably in four years,
 Embibing the spirit of their Alma Mater,
 Graduating to positions of responsibility,
 Students from all parts of the world
 Learn the meaning of "pursuit of excellence."

SENIORS

Hard-working seniors achieve honors, awards

REGINA SPIRIT AWARD

CONNIE TAYLOR

For many years the Regina Club has presented each spring the Regina Spirit Award to the senior who best exemplifies the spirit of Harding College in the opinion of the senior class. Miss Connie Taylor, 1967 recipient of this award, has made a superior record in all facets of college life. In spite of unusually heavy academic and co-curricular loads, she has radiated friendliness and demonstrated the spirit of service. She has achieved an outstanding record in A Cappella, Belles and Beaux, debate, radio, and Student Association activities. She has "pursued excellence" most successfully throughout four years of college.

IN MEMORIAM

LANNY G. WILDMAN

1942-1966

Early Sunday morning, June 12, 1966, Lanny and Donna Wildman began their weekly trip to Hampton where Lanny had been preaching for several months. Near Sheridan there was a head-on collision between their car and a car driving north. Lanny was killed instantly and Donna was seriously injured. Donna recovered, however, in time to return to Harding for the 1966 fall semester to complete degree requirements. At the time of his death, Lanny was within one semester of completing a major in Bible. He had seen the need for leadership in the church and his goal was to be an effective gospel preacher.

GRADUATE SCHOOL

Graduate school advances teacher education

The Master of Arts in Teaching program at Harding College is designed to prepare superior elementary and secondary teachers. Unconditional admission to the program requires a minimum cumulative grade point average of 2.50 on the baccalaureate record and meeting teacher certification requirements. Teaching fields in which graduate study is offered include social science, humanities, natural science and physical education. Physical education was added to the program in September, 1966, since the Research Program affords the best facilities in the state for the scientific evaluation of physical fitness. Although the program is primarily a terminal program, several of the M.A.T. graduates have already completed the doctorate in education at prominent universities. The Harding graduate program in teaching is accredited by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

ALPHA CHI

Honor society encourages academic excellence

Alpha Chi is a national honor scholarship society whose objectives are the recognition and promotion of superior scholarship and those elements of character which make scholarship effective for good. The Arkansas Eta Chapter was installed on the Harding campus on March 1, 1957. Membership is open to juniors who have achieved a cumulative grade average of at least 3.70 on a minimum of 80 semester hours and to seniors who have an average of at least 3.50 on a minimum of 104 semester hours. Eight members were inducted on October 19, 1966, and nine members were inducted on February 22, 1967.

PERSONALITIES

Possessing outgoing personalities,
 Representing various classes and clubs,
 Radiating friendliness and charm,
 Participating in campus life,
 Serving in important positions,
 Gaining the admiration and respect of peers,
 Exemplifying the spirit of Harding,
 Students selected as personalities
 Epitomize the "pursuit of excellence."

PETIT JEAN ATTENDANTS

Miss Claudia Alley

In the short time she has been at Harding, sparkling Claudia Alley has captivated the campus populace. Coming from far away York, Nebraska, Claudia is majoring in physical education. Claudia is a member of the Regina social club, and was a 1966 Homecoming Attendant. Most of her future plans revolve around homemaking and working with young people.

Miss Carol Prucha

An individualist with an abundance of talent and personality is senior Carol Prucha. As Lambda Sigma club queen, capable Carol has been able to put into practice her knowledge as a home economics major. Carol has served two terms as president of Ko Jo Kai social club. In further preparation for her career in dietetics, next year she will be interning.

Miss Barbara Neely

PETIT JEAN QUEEN

Although senior Barbara Neely has been at Harding for only two years, she has been a delightful addition to the campus panorama. Barbara's college life began at Freed-Hardeman, but now she is very much a part of Harding's program, whether it be American Studies or Handmaidens of Christ. Barbara is alive with fun and vitality, and, as a psychology and sociology major, she is always eager to listen and learn. She willingly lends a helping hand in a constructive way while fulfilling her role as senior SA representative.

Miss Diane Holder

HOMECOMING QUEEN

Reigning over the Bisons' triumphant day, Homecoming Queen

Dianne Holder and her court added radiance to a cloudy afternoon. Dianne's quiet and reserved manner melts into contagious vitality when she is fulfilling her role as Bison cheerleader.

As a Home Economics major, Dianne enjoys sewing and homemaking, and is a graceful model of her own artistic creativity. A Searcy junior, Dianne served as President of the Regina Social Club this year.

HOME COMING ATTENDANTS

Miss Karen Donley

Senior Karen Donley is an Elizabeth, Pennsylvania girl majoring in Elementary Education. A near indispensable member of Zeta Phi Zeta social club, Karen served three terms as President. This year the Mohicans chose this warm and sensitive young lady as their club queen.

Miss Claudia Alley

Energetic and vivacious express Claudia Alley's approach to everything from summer camp work to reigning as the Galaxy Club Queen. Since junior Claudia, who is a transfer from York College, enjoys the outdoor life as well as working with young people, she is majoring in Physical Education.

Linda Benson
Senior Representative

Kay Bonnell
Junior Representative

Lynn Rolan
Sophomore Representative

Mary Smith
Freshman Representative

MAY FETE ATTENDANTS

Miss Sheryl Deay

Sheryl Deay is an attractive miss with a reserved, yet disarmingly friendly personality. She is a junior from Bentonville, majoring in secretarial science. She puts this knowledge to practical use during the summer months. Sheryl is treasurer of Tri-Kappa social club. A sports lover from the sidelines, Sheryl is a faithful Bison supporter.

Miss Peggy Grandi

Peggy Grandi makes her way about the campus in classic loveliness. She is a personable young lady, a trait appreciated by the Chi Sigma Alpha social club, who honor her as their queen. A senior social science major from Memphis, Tennessee, Peggy is presently the vice-president of Regina social club. Upon graduation, Peggy plans to teach history.

Miss Nancy Ham

MAY QUEEN

Precious things often come in small packages, and pert, petite Nancy Ham is a charming example. A junior home economics major from Shirley, Arkansas, Nancy's quiet personality shines in many areas. In the Ko Jo Kai social club, she has served in every capacity from reporter to president. She is also treasurer of Chorale, and a member of Handmaidens of Christ. Nancy has been active in several campaigns for Christ, has worked as a Christian camp counselor and at all times is a worthy example of a Christian lady.

BEST ALL AROUND

Vivacious Linda Byrd varies her activities from SA vice-president to Sigma Tau's club queen. As a social science major she enjoys traveling and meeting people. Linda gains many friends by participating in the lives of those around her. Her list of college honors is long and impressive, including Who's Who and Alpha Chi.

Charlie Gooch has the rare and wonderful gift of making just about everyone his friend, simply by being a friend to them. A transfer from Northwest Mississippi Junior College, Charlie has lived in New York City for nine months participating in Exodus: Bay Shore. Charlie is an elementary education major, and sports a strong passion for horseback riding.

Linda Byrd

Charlie Gooch

Barbara Thompson

Ruth Anne Brown

Don Johnson

HONOR STUDENTS

Outstanding academic abilities have enabled junior Barbara Thompson to achieve recognition as Petit Jean Honor Student. A psychology major from Searcy, Barbara has been in the Harding school system since the beginning of her school years. She enthusiastically participates in the intramural sports program, and is a member of Theta Psi.

A little lady with a large capacity for service is Ruth Anne Brown. Intelligence is far from being her only virtue; the fruit of her several talents is seen in all her endeavors. Ruth Anne is an elementary education major, and transferred to Harding from York College. She spends her summers in camp work or participating in evangelistic work.

Don Johnson is definitely a man in pursuit of excellence. His superior and versatile abilities are appreciated by the championship Marketing Management Team, and he contributes a great deal to the Bison with his editorial and sports writings. An accounting and business major, Don is a valuable member in any organization.

Versatile Harding individuals gain Who's Who recognition

One of the highest honors a college student can receive is to be included in Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities. The faculty is responsible for selecting these individuals and several factors are considered. The student's scholarship is an important criteria, as well as his participation and leadership in academic and extra-curricular activities. Also of importance are his citizenship and service to the college and his promise of future usefulness.

Business education major Ann Gaskill Anderson is the wife of Harding instructor, Joel Anderson. Although a busy homemaker, Ann has achieved a high academic standing and participates in several campus organizations.

Jim Anderson, majoring in both Bible and psychology, is from Watertown, South Dakota. A hard-working member of the SA, he also participates in A Cappella and has served as Beta Phi Kappa social club president.

BEING on stage is nothing new to Erlene Laney and Andy Saunders. Their performances contribute professional quality to any production.

Margaret Ashton has served Harding well as editor of the Bison, in itself an arduous assignment, and also as a member of the A Cappella chorus and women's ensemble. She has served as secretary and reporter of Kappa Phi social club.

Intercollegiate swimmer James David Bales, Jr., is a pre-med major with a variety of interests. David has spent the past two summers in the Orient with the International Mission Study Group. He was a member of the Belles and Beaux for two years.

Sherry Balthrop is an English major with an abundance of musical talent. She is a member of Belles and Beaux, an officer in Alpha Chi and a past Bison cheerleader. Sherry's home is in Forth Worth, Texas.

Pat Barker is a general science major and plans to attend medical school at the University of Kansas in his home state. A past member of the A Cappella, Pat is skipper of the Sub T's.

Ruth Anne Brown, a York transfer, is a 1967 Petit Jean Honor Student. She is majoring in elementary education and is vice-president of SNEA as well as being Regina club treasurer. Ruth Ann lives in Searcy and attended the Academy.

VERSATILE Bob West, Connie Taylor, Ben Huey, Joan Ritchie and Phil Dixon use their talents and capabilities to excel not only in extra-curricular activities, but scholastically as well, even though, as members of the Belles and Beaux, they must spend many hours in diligent practice.

Linda Byrd, from near-by Little Rock, is a social science major. She has served on the SA for three years and has done an excellent job. A member of Regina, she is Sigma Tau's club queen. Linda was elected as this year's Best All Around girl.

Psychology and sociology major Bill Culp is president of the Harding Band and works hard in that capacity. An American Studies member, Bill hopes to someday earn a Ph.D. in psychology. In his junior year, Bill was president of his class.

Hardworking and energetic Phil Dixon is a responsible person who holds three positions as president: senior class, Bison Boosters and Chi Sigma Alpha. He is also a member of the Belles and Beaux and serves as their stage manager. Phil is also interested in interior design.

Another Belles and Beaux member, Ben Huey is majoring in math. Ben has made several long tours with the chorus and in the future plans to obtain an M.S. in Electrical Engineering. He spends many hours in the recording studio and plans to do research in acoustics.

Charlotte Humphreys, a Memphis girl, is majoring in business administration. She is president of her social club and has been an SA cabinet member for two years. Charlotte hopes to work in the field of public relations.

Don Johnson, twice Petit Jean Honor Student, is an outstanding accounting and business major. He enjoys sports, especially track, and is active in American Studies. Don is president of Alpha Chi.

General science major Darwin Keichline is president of the Science club and an SA cabinet member. Next year he will attend the University of Tennessee medical school on a fellowship, concentrating in the field of Pharmacology.

Erlene Laney is one of Harding's best drama students and a member of the honorary dramatics society, Alpha Psi Omega. She is a speech and English major from Broken Arrow, Oklahoma, and a member of Zeta Rho.

Capable Max Lorenz holds the responsible position of business manager for the Petit Jean. Max, a psychology and sociology major from Wichita, Kansas, is a member of the Mohican social club and American Studies.

A Bible and English major from Springfield, Missouri, is Mike Moore. Much of his time is spent in mission activities, especially during the summer months. Mike is a familiar person to music appreciation students, since he supervised the music labs. Mike also served the SA as treasurer this year.

JUNIOR Christian College transfers Jim Anderson, J. Ray Toland, Jake Vincent, Ruth Anne Brown and Dan Smith have individually contributed in an outstanding way to the Harding program and have each accumulated an impressive record during their collegiate years.

COMPLETING formidable requirements as science majors are hard-working David Bales, Pat Barker, Dale Work and Darwin Keichline.

WHO'S WHO

Faculty selects twenty-eight students as campus leaders

Transfer student Mike O'Neal spent the 1966 spring semester studying in Heidelberg, Germany. A pre-law major from Antlers, Oklahoma, Mike is active in Young Republicans and participates in intramural sports.

Conscientious and highly capable editor of the 1967 Petit Jean, Judy Owens, is a psychology and sociology major from North Little Rock. Judy was on the debate team for two years and has participated in several religious campaigns.

A talented person with an individual way about her is music major Joan Ritchie. She is a Searcy girl and attended York College before coming to Harding, where she is a member of Belles and Beaux and the A Cappella Chorus.

Campus Players president Andy Saunders will long be remembered for his varied portrayals in campus productions. Andy is a speech major from Bell, California, and belongs to the A Cappella Chorus. He holds membership in Alpha Psi Omega, honorary dramatics society.

Although Dan Smith is highly talented in the music field, he excels in other areas also. A favorite Harding folk singer, Dan spends much time in religious activities and directs the Academy chorus. He plans to do graduate work next year in guidance and counseling.

David Smith has done an excellent job this year as leader of the Student Association. A pre-med major from Ashdown, Arkansas, David has made an impressive record while at Harding. He is a strong participant and leader in mission activities. David plans to attend the University of Missouri Medical School.

Intercollegiate debater Connie Taylor is a member of the Belles and Beaux. Twice class favorite, speech major Connie worked with the Pennsylvania campaign during the summer. She has also been a part of the Student Association. Connie, a Gata club member, is from Diamond, Missouri.

Math major J. Ray Toland made an impressive record at York before he came to Harding and continues to contribute to the campus scene. This young man from Oklahoma plans to teach and work with young people.

Bible major Jake Vincent is a student preacher and is a veteran campaign worker. A member of Beta Phi Kappa, Jake is an officer in the Timothy club and belongs to the Dactylogy club. Russell, Iowa, is Jake's home.

Bob West combines track and Belles and Beaux with his college activities. He is a math major whose hometown is Indianapolis, Indiana. An officer of Alpha Chi honor society, Bob intends to work toward a Ph.D. degree in Astrophysics.

Last year's Petit Jean Honor Student, Dale Work, is the only junior member of Who's Who. He is a math and chemistry major from Trenton, Michigan and plans to work in industry. Dale enjoys participating in all intramural team sports.

MAX Lorenz, Margaret Ashton and Judy Owens deserve high praise for the exceptionally fine work they have done on school publications.

ORGANIZATIONS

Supplementing the academic program,
 Serving as professional laboratories,
 Achieving worthy avocational goals,
 Providing varied recreational opportunities,
 Representing the college effectively,
 Requiring a student's maximum effort,
 Demanding a high level of self-discipline,
 Many organizations at Harding College
 Excel in the "pursuit of excellence."

PRESIDENT David Smith continues to raise the high standards set by previous leaders as he encourages and challenges all students to participate in SA activities and helps to develop higher goals and ideals.

Outstanding accomplishments by the Student Association for the past several years motivated the officers of the 1966-67 student body to achieve excellence in their administration. After spending many hours during the summer considering ideas, these student leaders met on campus prior to the opening of the fall semester for a two-day workshop to finalize plans for the year.

The opening week of the fall semester was filled with SA-directed mixers, parties and orientation activities for freshmen and transfer students. Early in the year a workshop was conducted to train the leaders of various student groups for more effective leadership. A major activity of the fall was hosting the tenth annual Christian College Conference for student leaders. Also, the SA directed the homecoming football game activities.

Several activities were sponsored in December — the toy and dolly drive that benefited 1,250 orphan children, food baskets to needy families, campus decorations and a Christmas party for students. Throughout the year an excellent movie program was provided on Saturday evenings. The SA assisted with the spring Youth Forum, sponsored many activities that promoted high student morale and presented club academic trophies.

Representatives of the SA served on different faculty committees and assisted with various studies of student problems.

CREATING ideas and providing extra encouragement for the Petit Jean staff are some contributions made by faculty advisor Dr. Joe Pryor.

WORKING with diligence and persistence, business manager Max Lorenz broke previous records for space sold to area businesses.

PETIT JEAN

Staff mixes fun, tears, hard work in making book

COORDINATING the details involved in editing the Petit Jean, 1967 editor Judy Owens guided the staff through a year of hard work.

Production of the 1967 Petit Jean actually began early in October, 1965, when Judy Owens and Max Lorenz were selected by the junior class to serve as editor and business manager, respectively, of the Petit Jean for the 1966-67 school year. During the summer of 1966 Miss Owens finalized plans for her book so that section editors could begin their work early in the fall.

On October 9, 1966, the staff received word from Associated Collegiate Press, Minneapolis, Minn., that the 1966 Petit Jean had received the coveted All-American award, the seventh consecutive All-American award for the Petit Jean. This news spurred staff members to higher levels of excellence in their work. At the fall meeting of the Arkansas College Publications Association in Little Rock, the Petit Jean received the General Excellence award for the seventh consecutive time and three first place awards.

Capable, dedicated staff members spent many fun-filled hours taking pictures, writing copy and captions, cropping pictures, editing headlines, reading proof, drawing layouts and doing the many other tasks required to produce an excellent yearbook. The pressure ended on March 10 when key staff members headed for Oklahoma City to proofread the final copy.

High standards of excellence have characterized the Bison, student newspaper of Harding College, for many years. At the 1966 spring meeting of the Arkansas College Publications Association, the Bison received both the General Excellence award and the Sweepstakes award, the second consecutive year that the Bison had received both awards. For the past decade the Bison has received one or both of these awards almost every year.

The responsibility of continuing this outstanding tradition in college journalism during the 1966-67 school year was given to Margaret Ashton, editor, and James Kent, business manager. Several capable freshmen and transfer students strengthened the group of veteran staff members who returned from the 1965-66 staff. Excellence in photography, copy writing, editing, layout, advertising and proof-reading was sought.

For the Bison staff the week began on Thursday when assignments were posted and ended the following Wednesday afternoon when the papers were delivered to the Student Center.

The semi-annual Arkansas College Publications Association convention was held this spring on the Harding campus and was co-hosted by the Bison and the Petit Jean.

ASSIGNING news stories, editing copy, reading proofs and selecting pictures for publication make up Margaret Ashton's job as Bison editor.

BISON

BISON provides keen insight into student life

JOURNALISTIC knowledge and vast experience aid Bison sponsor Neil B. Cope in his efforts to guide the staff through special crises.

ABLY handling the financial end of the student newspaper, business manager James Kent takes money in hand to tally the ads sold.

RELIGIOUS GROUPS

Members strive to spread Christianity abroad

"Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature," the charge that Christ gave his disciples almost two thousand years ago, is still the charge that motivates dedicated Christians today. Harding graduates can be found in many countries of the world as well as in all parts of the United States telling people about Christ and his love for them. Various religious groups on the Harding campus provide instruction to those who are interested in special areas of Christian service.

The Timothy Club, sponsored this year by Conard Hays and Jerry Jones of the Bible faculty, is an organization primarily for Bible majors and student preachers. The weekly meetings consisted of lectures on various doctrinal questions and practical problems. A highlight of the year was the trip to the Graduate School of Religion in Memphis, Tennessee, where more than 100 graduate students were enrolled this year.

The various mission clubs concentrate on special problems faced by the missionary in a given area. Interest in meetings is stimulated by having visits from missionaries home on furlough or by having taped recordings from missionaries on the field. Many Harding students are now in Africa as missionaries while other ones serve in Europe, Australia, and the Far East.

"The world to Christ we bring" is the theme of a favorite hymn on the Harding campus and it states the hope and goal of many students. Genuine interest in Christian service characterizes students with various academic and professional objectives. Harding students are particularly concerned about the spread of Christianity to all parts of the world.

Handmaidens of Christ is a relatively new organization on campus. This organization is composed of young women who are vitally interested in preparing themselves for more effective service. They met twice each month during the year for uplifting devotionals and inspiring talks from campus leaders and visiting evangelists.

Although Harding students have gone to Latin America and the Middle East in rather limited numbers, the presence of people on campus from these areas has created an interest in these parts of the world. An interesting chapel program was presented by the Middle East Club.

The Northwest Mission Club represents an interest in home missions. During the spring vacation this was evidenced by many students using their holidays for evangelistic work in a number of campaigns in different states.

MUSIC GROUPS

Students contribute time, effort for joy of others

Under the superb direction of Dr. Kenneth Davis, Jr., the A Cappella Chorus and the Belles and Beaux achieved superior levels of performance. Auditions for these select singing groups began with the opening of the fall semester and intense work on the new repertoire of music began immediately after registration. The A Cappella Chorus contained 75 members and the Belles and Beaux numbered 19 this year.

During the fall semester the A Cappella Chorus entertained audiences in Arkansas, Tennessee, Mississippi, Alabama and Louisiana on a ten-day tour; during the spring vacation this group toured Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia and Florida. A major activity of the chorus was recording a weekly program of hymns, "Hymns from Harding," carried by nearly 200 radio stations throughout the United States. The Belles and Beaux, a select entertaining group, made numerous appearances in the mid-south area.

The Recording Chorus is a special singing group that recorded hymns in French, Italian and other foreign languages to be used by missionaries.

The Chorale is the largest musical group on campus. It gives students who are interested in music an opportunity to participate in its activities. Many Chorale members subsequently qualify for membership in the A Cappella Chorus. Under the dedicated direction of Mr. G. E. Baggett, the Chorale developed into a capable college chorus that presented several local programs and made a spring tour.

The Bison Marching Band provided music at all home football games in the fall and presented half-time shows of precision marches. The Harding Pep Band performed at all home basketball games and added much to the spirit and enthusiasm of the games. Following the close of the football season, the band became known as the Harding Concert Band, presenting several excellent concerts at home. The band also took an extended spring tour. Mr. Baggett served as the capable director of the bands and John Parker Bowen served his second year as drum major.

SMENC is an organization composed of students who are talented in music. Regular meetings were held to study special topics that supplement the regular classes. SMENC promoted musical events on campus and presented an award to the outstanding music student for 1966-67.

SPEECH GROUPS

Forensics produce avid enthusiasm, information

The debate team and the campus radio station are two major activities under the direct supervision of the Department of Speech. Radio station KHCA broadcasts on a wavelength of 1190 kilocycles each school-day evening. The student-operated station serves as a laboratory for courses in radio and provides students with excellent experience in all phases of radio production. Special features included broadcasting out-of-town football and basketball games, complete with commercials from local merchants, a weekly program by the Student Association and "easy-listening" music. The radio staff applied for a charter of Iota Beta Sigma.

Debating has been a major activity at Harding since the opening year of the college in 1924 and the debate teams have won many honors over the years. A large and enthusiastic group of debaters reported to Dr. Evan Ulrey at the opening of the fall semester to begin work on the question, "Resolved: That the United States should substantially reduce its foreign policy commitments."

The debate teams participated in a number of tournaments in Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Kansas, Texas and Oklahoma. Highlight of the year was the Second Annual Harding College Invitational Forensic Tournament, December 9-10, in which 72 debate teams representing 29 colleges and universities from six states were entered.

COLLABORATING on their next debate, team members Dave Young and John Black investigate the latest dilemmas of the Sino-Soviet split.

HARDING College Radio Station broadcasts campus news and "easy-listening" music each evening for students to enjoy while studying.

LOCATED in the basement of the Bible Building, the Radio Station KHCA is skillfully operated by Glenn Cope to keep Harding informed.

Drama has achieved a high level of excellence under the direction of the Department of Speech. An active program of one-act plays undergirds the three-act major productions. Students obtain experience in acting, directing, staging, lighting, costuming and make-up.

During May and June, 1966, the Harding Collegiate Players, under the auspices of the United Service Organizations, presented Where's Charley? and a talent show to military bases in Greenland, Labrador and Newfoundland.

Major three-act productions for 1966-67 were The Would-Be Gentleman, The Miracle Worker and Hedda Gabler. Also, the Department of Speech assisted in the presentation of the Opera Brigadoon.

Membership in Campus Players comes to those who display both interest and ability in drama. Students and faculty members who make outstanding contributions to drama are invited to membership in Alpha Psi Omega, a national honorary dramatics fraternity. The Eta Omega Cast of Alpha Psi Omega held its fall induction at Bill's Grill and its spring induction at the Augusta Inn.

"WA WA, WAWA," was the heart-rending climax of Annie's diligent efforts to tame the helpless Helen Keller in The Miracle Worker.

The American Studies Program at Harding College is designed to develop a better understanding of and appreciation for the American way of life and to train young men and women for leadership careers in business, public affairs and education. Students majoring in the areas of social science, business and education are eligible for the program if they maintain a 3.0 average. Meetings were held bimonthly this year to study the theme, "America's Challenges and Responses." Speakers at these meetings included recognized men from education, government and business. Highlights of the year were the two extended study trips — to New Orleans and to St. Louis.

Phi Alpha Theta, a national history society, recognized students who had achieved an excellent record in a minimum of 12 hours of history.

The Young Republicans and the Young Democrats took an active interest in the fall semester in the state gubernatorial campaign. A mock election on campus in the early fall gave the successful Republican candidate, Winthrop Rockefeller, a landslide victory. A chapter of Young Americans for Freedom was organized in the spring.

Numerous departmental clubs provided an opportunity for students with special vocational or avocational interests to supplement the regular academic program. This was accomplished through visiting speakers, field trips, special films, etc.

The Bijitsu Club made frequent trips to art shows in near-by cities, took field trips to find subject matter for painting and exhibited the work of senior members in campus displays.

Philougeia enrolled students who were interested in some phase of medical science. Local physicians and representatives from the University of Arkansas Medical Center spoke to the group. The Science Club, affiliated with the Collegiate Section of the Arkansas Academy of Science, assisted in directing the Regional Science Fair in March.

Pi Gamma Psi met regularly to study various facets of the accounting profession and made trips to Little Rock and Memphis to study the operation of various business operations.

Mu Sigma Gamma, composed of junior and senior mathematics majors, provided students an opportunity to present papers on special problems.

The Archery Club promoted interest in archery as a sport and studied how to develop skill with the bow and arrow.

Several organizations with professional orientation have been organized to supplement the regular academic program. Some of these groups are affiliated with national societies.

The Student National Education Association emphasized in its monthly meetings this year the theme, "Teaching: Challenges and Benefits." Speakers included Mrs. Evelina Berry, editor of the AEA Journal, Dr. A. R. Brown, a local physician and Prof. Bill Verkler. The Harding chapter of SNEA was the largest chapter in Arkansas.

The Harding chapter of the Arkansas Home Economics Association enrolled 70 members and scheduled a variety of programs to acquaint girls with various facets of homemaking. Major activities included a tea for all college girls at the beginning of the fall semester and a tour of the campus for high school girls attending the regional Future Homemakers of America meeting.

The Camera Club presented a regular program of Kodak color films dealing with various problems in photography. The PEMM Club, composed of physical education majors and minors, studied professional problems in health and recreation.

SPECIAL INTERESTS

Special interest clubs offer variety of services

The Bison Boosters is an organization of students who have a special interest in boosting school spirit at intercollegiate athletic events. The Boosters enrolled 325 students for the 1966-67 school year. Each student was contacted in the fall registration line. Chapel programs were planned for presenting the respective athletic teams before the beginning of each season. The Boosters provided favors for the teams and decorated the football field before the home football games. The Boosters supported the Cheerleaders and Bisonettes, and they assisted in hosting the Christian Junior College Basketball tournament. They attended the football game at Henderson State Teachers College and the basketball game at Arkansas Tech in addition to the regular all-school away games.

The Bisonettes, organized in the fall of 1965, is a select group of 21 girls who exhibit a high level of school spirit and who work closely with the Cheerleaders and the Pep Band in creating enthusiasm at all home football and basketball games. They developed some "pom-pom routines" that added color to the games. Mr. Virgil Lawyer, Dean of Students, sponsored both the Bison Boosters and the Bisonettes this year.

The Dactylology Club, started in 1950 by Sam Roach who was a freshman with very limited hearing ability, enrolled approximately 30 students who met regularly to study the sign language. Every Sunday morning during the school year members of the Dactylology Club went to Little Rock to conduct Bible classes for deaf children. Special speakers for the Club during the year included Sam Roach and Gary Blake, another former Club member. Two 1966 graduates received fellowships in deaf education. Several former Club members now devote full time to preaching for and working with the deaf.

Harding Business Women enrolled 30 members during 1966-67. This affiliation of faculty and staff women met regularly each first Tuesday for fellowship and to study professional problems that would help them be more efficient in their work. The special project of this club was providing audio-visual equipment for Irene Johnson, a former member who is now doing missionary work.

The Big Sisters for 1966-67 were selected in the spring of 1966 upon the basis of interest, citizenship and personality. During the summer these 36 girls corresponded with new students, both freshman and transfer. At the opening of the fall semester they helped each girl feel at home and assisted in orienting new girls to the Harding environment. At Christmas the Big Sisters helped with the dorm decorations and directed the dorm parties.

The Women's Interclub Council was composed of representatives from each of the girls' social clubs. The council directed the open house activities to acquaint new girls with the various social clubs, discussed club problems and adopted policies for club outings and banquets.

The Circle K Club, the college affiliate of Kiwanis International, operated the concession stand at the home football games. A plaque was presented by the Searcy Kiwanis Club to the club member achieving the highest academic average.

Through the generosity of Miss Grace Wells, an alumna of Galloway College that formerly occupied the Harding campus, certain outstanding girls who need financial assistance receive a scholarship. The recipients of this generosity constitute the Grace Wells Club.

SOCIAL CLUBS

Social club members value loyalty and lasting memories

The fear of slave-driving pledgemasters, the feeling of oneness that runs through the group as a candle is lighted and traditional initiation vows are spoken and the anticipation of a banquet are the emotions that envelop the Harding student who is a member of a social club.

Fierce loyalty pounds through the brain at exciting inter-club basketball games. Quiet sympathy is expressed through flowers sent to a sick member. Laughter abounds at a club outing as a mountain climb in the spring clears the brain of tests, differential equations and overdue library books.

The togetherness of the Harding social club satisfies the social desires of man. The spirit of doing things for others and with others is the glimmering reward found by all social club members.

Weary pledges seek refuge from their tyrannical masters

Celebrating their twelfth year on the Harding College campus, members of Alpha Epsilon Chi began the new school year by re-electing Miss Kay Bonnell as club queen and Petit Jean queen nominee for the second consecutive year. To demonstrate their appreciation for her loyal support of the club functions and her excellent representation as their club queen, she was made the honored guest at the annual banquet. Throughout the year, she faithfully kept the members well supplied with cakes, cookies and other foods for their consumption.

Pledges, loaded down with various paraphernalia, such as oversized pledge books and umbrellas on sunny days, made their debut during the first week in November. After a week of active sub-service, these lowly creatures were allowed the privilege of undergoing a rough initiation which was held at Wyldewood. Immediately following this ordeal, the old and new members got together for an informal popcorn party.

The Augusta Inn on February 4 was the place where the "Roaring Twenties" were revived in speech and spirit. The AEX's and their dates enjoyed the entertainment of Dot Beck and the "Echoes of the Twenties", which was given by Mr. Bob Helsten.

APK 'Girl of the Year' chosen at pledgemasters tea party

"Some day I'll be initiated, and then I'll be appreciated," was a thought which most of the pledges kept uppermost in their minds during that trying week of pledging. Miraculously, all 18 of APK's pledges survived the ordeal and all came up to club standards eventually. The week was climaxed when the over-worked pledges honored the old members with a "tea party." It was on this occasion that pledge Jerry Sawyer was awarded the title of APK "Girl of the Year."

Food cooked over an open fire, a few games and much fun characterized the APK's third function which was held at Wyldewood in the early fall. Although the weather was chilly, and the wind a bit sharp, spirits ran high and the evening proved to be a success.

Early March set the time of the annual banquet which was held at the Augusta Inn. Dinner music by Ken Tillman and entertainment by a club trio rounded out the night's activities.

Lerner and Loewe musical highlights banquet festivities

"... to develop to the maximum mentally, physically, spiritually and socially" is the purpose of Beta Phi Kappa. By participating in various interclub sports, the Beta Phi's have shown their desire and determination to develop physically.

Triumphing again in the field of academics, the Beta Phi Kappa members received the academic trophy, which is given by the Student Association, for the fifth consecutive semester.

The returning members enjoyed the relaxation and fellowship of a stag outing at Heber Springs held early in September. Swimming, football and softball participation resulted in bruises and soreness which were not quite so enjoyable.

The music of Lerner and Loewe provided an appropriate atmosphere for the "My Fair Lady" banquet which was held on February 25 at the Magnolia Inn. Andy Saunders and Erlene Laney furnished the entertainment with cuttings from well known plays.

Chi Sig's and their dates came dressed in various attires, from Joel Anderson as Imperial Wizard of the Ku Klux Klan and Carol Prucha as Bridgette Bardot, to the Red Baron and Phyllis Diller.

"Jingle Bells, jingle bells," and varied other Christmas tunes were furnished by the club members as they serenaded the girls' dormitories during the yule season.

DELTA IOTA

Wyldeewood chosen for stag chile supper and sleep out

Working together on projects, parties and numerous outings comprised a year of varied activities for the Delta Iota's. Although the club is smaller than most on the Harding College campus, the spirit is still there and they continue to participate actively in the varied phases of club life.

Their enthusiasm as a club working together was demonstrated by their full cooperation as they participated in the dolly and toy drive held during the pre-Christmas season. These toys and dollies are sent to various orphan homes.

With the approaching of pledge week, the Delta Iota's plotted conspiracies for pledges as early as a September stag outing. Following pledge week, the members elected Miss Sherry Hunt as their queen and Petit Jean queen nominee for the present school year.

To demonstrate their appreciation for her loyal support, representation and varied baked delicacies, the members of Delta Iota presented Miss Hunt with a fourteen-carat-gold pearl necklace.

The final club function was an outing to a nearby resort area where thoughts of school were forgotten momentarily and the Delta Iota's and their dates enjoyed a day of rest.

FRATER SODALIS

Outdoor environment sets the stage for annual Frater outing

The solitude of a camp fire, the inspiration generated by their frequent hymn singing, the thoughts and reflections around a candle at a formal initiation, a general solidarity of association: these all reflected the Frater's spirit of Christian brotherhood in social activity.

Plans for the pledges were made early in the year as the fateful week approached. The lowly creatures were given the opportunity to obey their pledgemasters as they directed them in such activities as cleaning rooms, shining shoes and taking out the girls.

The Frater's treated their dates to an evening spent in the "Southern Tradition" with much food, served buffet style, and southern hospitality. The banquet was held at Kelley's in Bald Knob on February 4, complete with cotton bolls, candlelight and a small combo for entertainment.

Other plans which are on the Frater spring itinerary include an outing on May 13 and a chapel program presented by the Frater Band.

Sandra Green, the Frater's Queen, kept them well supplied with baked goodies throughout the year.

Triumphant again, Galaxy wins Ragtag Championship

Another year of hard work and enjoyable times defined the spirit of the Galaxy's. The year began with a new sponsor, Carl Allison, and a new club queen, Claudia Alley, who is a junior transfer from York College.

On a chilly night in early November, Galaxy's captured, for the third consecutive year, the championship in small club ragtag football.

Galaxy was not to remain a small club for very long, however, for, on the night of November 10, they inducted 30 pledges into the club. This created the largest membership in the history of the Galaxy social club.

The Lamplighter Restaurant in Little Rock on December 9 provided Galaxy's and their dates a romantic atmosphere in which to enjoy their "Sleighride by Starlight." On this occasion, Carl Allison and Claudia Alley were presented club blazers. Entertainment was furnished by Rod Brewer and Randy and Scott of Little Rock.

Outdoor fun facilities provide setting for autumn stag outing

From the first stag outing at the beginning of the school year until the final spring outing at the close of the year, the Kappa Sig's were busily engaged in club activities.

Pledges were warmly welcomed by old members, but only after several miles of walking blindfolded through mud-filled ditches and devouring such home made delicacies as lard sandwiches and raw eggs.

March 11 found the Kappa Sig's and their dates enjoying the luxury of the Red Apple Inn in Heber Springs for their annual formal banquet. Entertainment was provided by several boys on guitars.

Filled with spring fever, and forsaking all books, the members took to the wide open spaces for their traditional outing.

KOINONIA

Beatniks 'bop' to Wyldewood for Koinonia third function

The fellowship signified by its Greek name is truly characteristic of Koinonia social club, and its members will agree that their associations and activities together have generated many lasting memories and friendships.

For their third function the beatniks flocked to their "pad" out at Wyldewood for an evening of chile, hot dogs, music and relaxation in November.

Red candles, candy hearts, long-stemmed red roses: these all added to the romantic atmosphere of "Hearts and Roses." Following a buffet-style meal, Dr. Richard Walker reminisced about his experiences at Harding.

Spring found Koinonia's and their dates on their way to a nearby resort area for a day of rest and frolic away from campus.

Pancake supper and karate exhibition highlight semester

An eventful pledge week, coupled with a third function in the fall, were only the beginnings of an eventful year for the active Lambda's.

The third function took the form of a Christmas party before the oncoming holidays. Van Harris and Dale Douglas demonstrated the skills and art forms of karate. The group enjoyed a pancake supper, highlighted by musical entertainment from Walnut Ridge.

The rough initiation was held on a farm centered a in typical Arkansas wilderness. The 12 initiates emerged from the ordeal feeling they had earned the right to be called Lambda's.

The spring activities of the Lambda Sig's included plans for an elaborate banquet in April and a spring all-day outing in May.

Dietetics major Carol Prucha, club queen, kept the Lambda's well supplied with food at their meetings.

Snoopy and Red Baron battle throughout pledging activities

One's first impression during pledge week might have been "Indians to the right of me, Indians to the left of me." Closer inspection, however, would have revealed these lowly pledges to be none other than Mohican prospects posing as either Snoopy or the Red Baron. As a climax to this eventful week, twenty hard-working braves were given the pleasure of cleaning the lily pond.

Western attire, an open fire and entertainment provided by Bob Shelton, Drew Fuller and comedian Jim Davis rounded out an evening of fun at the third function held at Wyldewood.

At the Heritage House on March 17, the Mohicans and their dates enjoyed the entertainment of Randy and Scott. The unique theme of "Mohicans 1967" prevailed throughout the banquet.

As a project, the members chose to install a board in the gym on which to keep football records. The annual spring outing at Blanchard Springs provided a day of rest for Mohican's and their dates.

'Surprise Birthday Party' set as theme for annual banquet

Hamburgers cooked over an open fire, barbequed beans, a hayride and a pie-eating contest all combined to form a successful evening for the Pioneers and their dates on December 3 at Wyldewood. Entertainment featured the girls designing toys out of construction paper and the Pioneers testing their dexterity at the eating of pies.

Kelley's Restaurant on February 14 was the scene for the annual banquet which centered the theme around birthdays. Louise Pharr, Lynn Rolan and Joyce Slovak were presented as Pioneer Princesses and each was given several red roses. Van Alessandro delivered a humorous speech. Hank McDaniel, Patty Bowman and Linda Newcomb provided the entertainment.

Vigorous club spirit was demonstrated by members as they participated in all sports activities and club projects.

Legion Hut provides setting for 'Roaring 20's' banquet

A deserted, broken-down cabin, eighteen submissive pledges, a few mischeivous actions: these all were a part of the Sub T pledges' final initiation. Thus began a year of activities.

The crisp chill of autumn provided the atmosphere for the annual third function which was held at Bee Rock. Although the weather was not very co-operative, the rain failed to dampen the spirits of the Sub T's and their dates on the Friday of November 11. The members enjoyed hamburgers cooked over an open fire and the fellowship which the occasion afforded. Entertainment was provided by the Sub T's dates and "Yunkin" who is a very special coconuthead member of the club.

Reviving the lively style of the "Roaring Twenties," Sub T's and their dates took charge of the Legion Hut on March 4 for their informal banquet activities.

The characteristic stick of dynamite adorned the heads of eighteen lowly TNT pledges the first week in November. After a week of rigorous activities the pledges' acceptability was determined by a kangaroo court that featured Dr. Joe Pryor as judge and jury.

In the fall, TNT's participated in all sports activities and won the softball championship over rival Sub T.

The spring's activities consisted of a chapel program depicting the "Growth of the West," a formal banquet, and an outing to a nearby resort area.

Ghost and goblins haunt Wyldewood on Halloween

Theta Alpha Gamma suitably means "God, husband, wife," as the club was formed for the purpose of promoting Christian fellowship among married students at Harding.

To begin the year's activities a potluck supper was held in the courtyard between the apartments and served as a time for renewing old acquaintances and making new friends.

In October, a Halloween party with costume judging, ghost stories and kiddy games highlighted the fall semester along with a yuletide banquet which was held at Kelley's in Bald Knob.

The Valentine party, an evening at the bowling lanes, the spring banquet and a farewell graduation party all characterize the spirit of fellowship found in TAG.

Pledges prove proficient in making subservient greetings

Thermostrockimortimer met a lot of new boys during pledge week. Who's Thermostrockimortimer? Why, he's the Beta Tau Gamma mascot. During pledge week, Beta Tau pledges carried him everywhere and introduced him to twenty-five boys each day. Pledge activities ended with rough initiation and a bunking party at Mrs. Ruth Bearden's house, after which Thermo was quietly put away in a drawer to await next year's pledges.

A candy cane Christmas tree decked the table for Beta Tau's Christmas party. It was also a going away party for club beau Jim Anderson. Everyone enjoyed the refreshments and the gag gifts that were exchanged.

Allen Eldridge was chosen as Beta Tau's beau for the second semester. He brought a lot of energy and enthusiasm with him to his new job as Beta Tau basketball coach and had the girls up bright and early for their morning practice sessions.

"Dear Heart" was the theme for Beta Tau Gamma's Valentine banquet. Red flowers and hearts decorated the Augusta Inn, creating a romantic atmosphere appropriate for the evening. Entertainment for the banquet was provided by Carol and Dan Smith, and the Beta Tau's agreed that the evening was a success.

A spring outing ended the year's activities.

"Silver Bells in the Snow" provided the theme for Delta Chi's formal banquet at the beautiful Ramada Inn in Jacksonville. Entertainment in keeping with the Christmas season was provided by Gary Kelley. Speaker for the evening was Mr. George Cooper.

Activities for the year included work parties at the home of club sponsor Mrs. Kenneth Davis, a spring function and a third function at Wylde-wood. The third function was an event of March 10 and was a combination of a Western-style hayride, games and an old-fashioned campfire singing.

Eddie McClellan was elected club beau for the spring semester. A Valentine party was held in his honor at Mrs. Davis' house.

Gata pledges earn awards following a week's activities

Hobos, apple blossoms and Valentine cakes hold fond memories for this year's members of Gata social club. Sixteen Gata "muds" kept pledge masters busy devising urgent tasks that could be done only by pledges. Formal installation of those who survived the rough initiation took place at the home of Mrs. Eddie Baggett, Gata sponsor.

In January, Gata's and their dates enjoyed a "Hobo" party at Wyldewood. Other activities included a get-together to present club beau David Smith with a Valentine cake, bunking parties and a spring outing.

The highlight of the year was the formal banquet. "Apple Blossom Time" was the theme of this year's banquet held April 22 at the Heritage House in Little Rock. Patty Bowman and Hank McDaniel provided the entertainment.

Hawaiian atmosphere sets mood for formal initiation

Pineapple slices, soft candlelight, flowing mumu's and Hawaiian music were the surrounding elements at the Ju Go Ju formal initiation at the home of Mrs. Guy Thompson. The 19 pledges were guests at an informal luau following the formal club ceremonies.

Cashing in on the feelings of teamwork produced by club participation in volleyball and basketball, coaches Jim Sharpe and Mike Plummer urged the girls on to victory.

The doorway to Anderson's Restaurant dripped Japanese beads at the formal banquet. Providing musical entertainment for the affair were Jan Chesshir and Darrell Chitty.

The Ju Go Ju's attended to the many details necessary in planning the annual May Fete, as they sponsored a chapel program presenting the May Queen candidates. The members also practiced diligently the intricate winding procedures each morning in preparation for the annual spring rite.

'Seaside Enchantment' sets the stage for banquet in April

April 29 was the big day for the Kappa Delta's. "Seaside Enchantment" set the stage for the club's banquet at the Augusta Inn. Shells, candles and cascades of fish net created a romantic atmosphere for the momentous highlight of the year.

Previous activities included the initiation of new members and participation in the Homecoming parade. A Christmas party held at the Legion Hut in Searcy served as the third function.

A Christmas mood was set by a seven-foot tree, surrounded by candlelight decorations. The Kappa Delta's and their dates received white elephant gifts from Santa Claus and his charming wife.

Artistic talent and elbow grease were needed for Kappa Delta's major club project. In cooperation with the intramural department, Kappa Delta's chose as their project to paint the intramural bleachers.

"Feliz Navidad" and similar greetings were in store for Kojoies and their dates at the Ko Jo Kai Christmas party. Bright decorations and homemade chile were prompted by the theme for the banquet, "A Mexican Christmas." A paper-mache pinata provided surprises for everyone.

Also in the Christmas realm, the Kojies won top honors in the dolly drive with Carol Prucha in first place with her "Wizard of Id" doll.

In February, the Kojies had a Valentine, Coke party-birthday party for club beau Jere Woodward. They presented him with a recording of the original sound-track from "Dr. Zhivago."

This year's members of Las Companeras have shown themselves eager to serve their fellow students. Continuing with their traditional project, the girls chose to transfer the senior picture composites from the hall of the Science Building to the trophy room of the American Heritage Building.

Numerous activities have kept the L. C.'s busy this year. Pledge week, with the usual number of tasks and demerits for the "roaches," ended with a hot dog supper at the home of Mrs. Russell Simmons, the club sponsor. A few weeks later, the girls invited their dates to the third function, a hayride-cookout at Wyldewood.

A cake from club beau, Phil Dixon, furnished the girls with an excuse for a Valentine party which was held at Echo Haven.

Skates, good times, weiners and hay unite for an evening

Preparation for pledge week occupied the first few weeks for MEA club members. After the initiation of pledges, both old and new members participated in women's interclub competition. MEA's gave a good account of themselves in volleyball, basketball and bowling.

For their Christmas party, the MEA's visited the White County Nursing Home and presented a program of song and entertainment for the shut-ins there. Afterwards, they enjoyed refreshments at the home of their sponsor, Mrs. Vines. Club beau John Heard and Mrs. Vines were presented with Christmas presents.

After the Christmas holidays, MEA's and their dates attended the third function, a combination skating party, weiner roast and hayride. A planned devotional climaxed the evening's activities. The MEA's and their guests agreed that the third function was a tremendous success.

Earlier in the year, MEA presented a chapel program depicting the various aspects of club life. Other club activities included a spring banquet and an outing.

Lunch box social atop Petit Jean revives lost tradition

Manicures with food coloring and facials with limburger cheese were just a few of the surprises in store for Oege pledges at their rough initiation. A surprise was also in store for the pledge masters when two male intruders, with stockings over their heads, crashed the proceedings. It was all in fun, though, for club sponsor Miss Shirley Williams had put the boys up to their tricks. Rough initiation was held in the old house behind the American Heritage Building.

All in all, it was a busy year for Oege. Shortly before Christmas, club beau Sherman Shewmaker was honored at a Christmas party held in the home of Mrs. Elmer Jackson. The Oege third function was a bowling party in January. April 15 was the date of the Oege banquet. The affair was held at the Red Apple Inn, and Oege club members provided the entertainment for the evening.

Oege's club spirit was continually shown by their active participation in all club activities.

Omega Phi's take to the hills as climax to pledge week

The busy week of pledging came to a very pleasant end when Omega Phi club members, old and new, traveled to Petit Jean State Park for their fall outing. After several hours of climbing and hiking, the girls and their dates had worked up an appetite which was satisfied with hot dogs cooked over an open fire.

To get their spring semester off to a good start, the Omega Phi's chose to have their formal banquet in January. The setting was the luxurious Red Apple Inn in Heber Springs. Large, glittering red apples with "Happiness," the theme for the banquet, stored inside served as the decoration. Dinner music was furnished by Ken Tillman at the piano. The speaker for the evening was Dr. Atteberry, who added a light touch to the program with a humorous speech.

New sponsor and twelve 'rats' mark beginning of new year

After satisfactorily demonstrating their mastery of the phrase, "Yes ma'am, rat, ma'am, that's what I am, ma'am. Is there any thing I can do for you ma'am?", 12 lowly rats became active members of the Phi Delta clan. Following rough initiation at Harding Park, the girls were treated to a slumber party at the home of Norma Staggs.

The year proved to be a busy one for both old and new members. Bunking parties at the homes of Mrs. Isom and Norma Staggs gave the club members an opportunity to get better acquainted.

REGINA

Dramatic talents of pledges exploited during final rites

The magic of the Russian word "Varykino" served to set the theme of the annual Regina banquet at the Ramada Inn in Jacksonville in early February. The theme was selected from the Ice House set of the movie, Dr. Zhivago. The Ice House was recreated by the girls and served as the chief decoration for the banquet. Readings from the works of Carl Sandburg provided entertainment for the Reginas and their dates. The readings were performed by Erlene Laney and Andy Saunders.

The month of February was filled with activity for the hard-working queens as they organized a chapel program for Valentine's Day. The theme was "Love Is. . .".

A turn from tradition was taken this year as the Regina outing was held in the spring, rather than the fall as in previous years.

An old-fashioned spaghetti supper got the year off to a good start for all returning members of Theta Psi social club. The purpose of the supper was to give club members an opportunity to get better acquainted with their new sponsor, Mrs. Barbara Calvert.

Participation in sports brought two successes to the Theta Psi's this year. The club placed second in volleyball and first in spasketball.

Pledge week was a busy time for old members as well as the "Bunnies." Throughout the week, the girls demonstrated their "hopping" abilities and suffered through rough initiation, a variety show and a bunking party.

Other activities for the year included a spring outing and an April banquet. "Love Is . . ." served as the theme for the banquet, which was held at the Ramada Inn.

Rough initiation was really an experience for this year's Tofebt "toads." The girls were taken on a tour through an old "haunted house" located west of Searcy. Although the tour took place at eleven o'clock, just short of that bewitching hour, most of the pledges claimed it was quite a calm ordeal. Following the initiation, both pledges and their masters were invited to a bunking party at the home of the club sponsor, Mrs. Gerald Stephenson.

Patched clothing and dirty faces were in order for Tofebt's third function in November. The clothes appropriately characterized the theme which was "Hobos at Wyldewood."

The Ramada Inn was the scene of the annual banquet. Decorations and entertainment worked together effectively to create the romantic atmosphere of "Three Coins in a Fountain."

This year has been a busy one for WHC, the oldest women's social club on campus. The WHC's got their 40th year off to a rousing start by entering a prize winning car in the Homecoming car caravan competition.

Homecoming activities were followed by the scrambled affair generally known as pledge week. For their rough initiation, WHC pledges were required to scrub the Old Confederate Soldier on the Court House Square.

Shortly before Christmas, the girls visited the White County Nursing Home and sang for the ladies there. Later they presented club beau, Kent Smith, with a six-foot stocking completely filled with toys and goodies.

April 7 was the big day for WHC's and their dates. The scene was the Red Apple Inn at Heber Springs. Each guest was invited on an imaginary voyage to various "Ports o' Call." Polynesian decorations covered the walls, and authentic music was provided by Steve Sanderson and Jerry Flowers.

Other activities this year have included bunking parties at the home of WHC sponsor Mrs. Billy Ray Cox, work parties and an outing.

Cherry blossoms, Japanese lanterns set banquet mood

Cherry blossoms, fans and lanterns set the mood for "A Japanese New York," the theme for this year's Zeta Phi Zeta banquet. Smorgasbord and entertainment by Janice Barker and Jim Green highlighted the evening.

In addition to planning the banquet, such activities as bunking parties, work parties and participation in club sports provided a busy schedule. At Christmas, club members exchanged gifts and had refreshments at the home of Cindy Watts. At this time the club presented the sponsors with boxes of holiday candy.

One of the most popular and unusual activities of the year was the Zeta Phi-Mohican mock wedding. The entrance to the American Heritage Building was the setting for this happy event.

An unusual evening was in store for club members and their dates at the Zeta Phi third function. "The Bunny Club" was the theme for the party. "Bunnies," boys dressed like bunnies, served the refreshments to the guests.

The May outing climaxed a busy year for Zeta Phi's as they took to the hills for some relaxation.

Coaches lead Bisons to third in All-Sports race

The intercollegiate athletic program at Harding College is guided by the coaching staff, working under the control of a faculty athletic committee and the Athletic Director. Entering teams in all nine sports sponsored by the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference in the 1965-1966 season, Harding won the conference championship in cross country, bowling and track and placed third in the All-Sports competition.

Dr. Harry Olree serves as Athletic Director, with Carl Allison as his Assistant. John Prock coaches the football team, with the assistance of Ted Lloyd, Ted Altman and Jerry Mote, a graduate student. Ted Lloyd also serves as track coach. Virgil Lawyer coaches the cross country team, and Hugh Groover, assisted by Ted Altman, coaches the basketball team. In addition to being Assistant Athletic Director, Carl Allison is the baseball coach. Joe Stout is bowling coach, and John Berryhill is swimming coach. Bob Knight and Dr. Bob Gilliam coach tennis and golf respectively.

FOOTBALL

Bisons win six games to match previous best

Harding approached the 1966 football season with expectation. Seven seniors and twice as many juniors were returning from the 1965 team that had rebounded from the cellar to post a respectable 5-3-1 record. All-AIC team members Jim Howard and Pete Henry were returning at halfback and center. Fleet footed junior Harry Lisle would be eligible for the first time. Things looked bright. The Bisons proceeded from there to justify their hopes by posting a 6-3 record, a tie with the 1962 mark for Harding's best ever.

The Bison's first game quickly erased any doubts of whether the momentum and talent inherited from the year before would keep the Bisons rolling in 1966. Harding soon found itself near the top of the conference standings in both offense and defense. After the early wins, however, the Bisons were plagued by fumbles and lost several disappointing games to conference foes. Fumbilitis full-grown had struck, and for several weeks victory and defeat alternated, depending on whether the defense could make up for the offense's ball handling blunders. The climax came in the final game as the offense racked up points, in spite of fumbles, to post the Bison's first win over Arkansas Tech.

While the Bisons were on their way to a record season, Jim Howard and Kenny Glass also made new entries in the record book with marks in rushing yardage and pass receptions.

Versatile play gives Bisons three straight wins

In the opening game against the University of Missouri at Rolla, the effective blocking and hard running of Harding's offense told the story of the Bison's 31-13 win. Jimmy Howard and Don Dixon scored two touchdowns each. The following week defensive mistakes gave Southern State 13 points in three minutes. The offense fought back to score three times in the first quarter, and the game finally ended with Harding ahead 35-13. Against the Ouachita Tigers the offense stalled, and the Bisons had to change their high scoring tactics. After Harry Lisle scored on a 74-yard punt return, the defense grew up and played near perfect football to preserve the 6-0 lead that the offense could not increase.

After three straight wins, the Bisons approached the ASTC game in hopes of getting their first win over the Bears. Harding's offense, however, continued to falter, and the defense could not stop the ASTC offense in the face of almost absolute ball control. The Bears won 24-0.

Harding faced Arkansas A&M the next weekend and needed a win to stay in the AIC race. The Bisons took an early lead, but then were hit by a plague that haunted the Bisons for the rest of the season. Howard fumbled on the 17. Harding and A&M fought evenly in statistics, but the Weevils turned Bison mistakes into points and won 19-7.

DEFENSIVE backs Ronnie Rubio and Moses Rollins team up to put a stop to enemy plans for a long, easy touchdown via the air ways.

Upset ends six year hex as Bisons 'Wreck Tech'

After the Bisons had lost two consecutive conference games to ASTC and A&M, there was the question of whether they had the tenacity to bounce back. The Homecoming encounter with Maryville College provided the test. The offense regained its confidence and teamed with a solid defense to give Harding a 21-10 victory.

Upon meeting Millsaps in Jackson, the Bisons wasted no time getting started. Harry Lisle took the opening kickoff 92 yards for a touchdown and soon added a 61-yard scoring punt return. Any doubt about the Bisons' recovery was removed as they won 28-8.

Still having a chance at the AIC title, Harding now faced Henderson. The Reddies had one of the poorer records in the conference, but Gus Robey's pass catching and Bison fumbles ended all title hopes with a 24-13 defeat.

In the final game, Harding played superb ball against Tech. The Bisons were as usual plagued with fumbles, but they fought the breaks and won in spite of them. The 22-20 victory was Harding's first over Tech.

Elected to the coaches All-AIC team were Jimmy Howard, fullback; Harry Lisle, defensive back; and Pete Henry, center. Making the honorable mention all conference team were John Jeter, Melvin Jernigan, Jim Davis, Wayne Hodnett, Don Sinquefield and Roger Maddox.

BASKETBALL

Ball handling, spirited hustle propel Bisons

For the third consecutive year the Bison cagers completed the season with a 7-11 conference record. The 1966-67 season was definitely a rebuilding year. The large group that reported to Coach Hugh Groover and Assistant Coach Ted Altman included no seniors and only five lettermen. The squad was later reduced to 25 to permit an effective junior varsity program that provided valuable experience for several promising freshmen.

The varsity starting five consisted of two juniors and three sophomores. Captain Harold Alexander provided leadership and played superb ball. Junior college transfer Rick Turner ranked high in conference scoring, and George Frazier was among the leaders in rebounding. Late in the season experience made Mike Lamb and Bob McKeel consistent scorers. Freshmen John Buck and Danny Russell looked promising in varsity action. Lacking over-all team height, the Bisons depended on expert ball handling, hustle and great team spirit to provide fans many thrilling games.

TENSION escalates toward the climatic tip off while the referee and ball grudgingly await the end of pre-game plans in the Harding huddle.

Throughout the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference the 1966-67 basketball season will be remembered as a season filled with overtime games and one- or two-point upset victories and defeats. The Bisons participated in eight such games, including a 76-78 loss to Little Rock University in the opening game of the season and a 74-76 loss to Ouachita Baptist University in the opening conference game. Four of the best games Harding played were against the conference champion and the runner-up, Southern State College and Arkansas State Teachers College.

CROSS-COUNTRY

Bisons take fourth straight cross-country crown

To the Harding cross-country team, 1966 brought the challenge of matching the records of three straight AIC championship teams. Preparation began early as the athletes spent the summer following rigorous individual workouts. In September more intensive work began under Coach Virgil Lawyer and student assistant Cliff Clark.

Early losses proved that cross-country had improved in the AIC and that Harding could not win simply on tradition. The Bisons sensed the challenge and responded like champions. The harriers toughened up their already long and grueling workouts and gained needed experience through a tough non-conference schedule.

Then came the AIC meet and the payoff. Jim Crawford's second place finish led the way to championship number four. Harding took six places out of the first ten to top second-place Henderson 25-94. In the NAIA meet, the Bisons, again led by Crawford, ran to a seventeenth place ranking among 200 plus teams that compete in NAIA cross-country. The Bisons look to 1967 and AIC cross-country trophy number five with the loss of only two seniors, Bill Stokes and Phil Griffin.

MANY months and miles of hard work yield their happy climax as the Bison harriers officially claim the 1966 AIC championship trophy.

SWIMMING

Water Buffaloes find success in second season

In only their second year of intercollegiate swimming the 1966-67 Harding Water Buffaloes found themselves in real competition for the AIC title. Returning lettermen had gained experience the year before while surprising the AIC with a 7-2 record and a fourth place conference finish. When the Petit Jean went to press, the 1966-67 swimmers had achieved a 5-3-1 record against improved competition. The Buffaloes' hopes for the AIC meet rested on proved performers such as Marvin Robertson in the backstroke and David Cole in the 200-yard freestyle. David Bales showed strength in the distance events, and Robert Wallace performed well in diving. Outstanding performances by the relay teams also provided title hopes.

COACH John Berryhill oversees swimming practice with an enthusiasm and leadership which help the Buffaloes win important meets.

BOWLING

Bison bowlers roll way to second straight title

FOLLOW-THROUGH shows in the bowling style that carried Johnny Beck to the highest individual season average in the AIC's history.

In 1966 Harding's bowlers won their second straight conference championship and on the way rewrote the AIC record book. New entries in the conference ledger included total pinfall, team series, individual series of 721 by Rob Barber and individual average of 197 by Johnny Beck. The Bisons also won the district roll-offs to qualify for the NAIA tournament in Kansas City, where they placed sixth.

Directed by first-year coach Joe Stout and led by veteran Johnny Beck and freshman Charles Burt, the Bisons looked even brighter for 1967.

TRACK

Bisons claim second straight AIC track crown

Harding entered the 1966 track season facing the challenge of matching the AIC championship of the year before. A large corps of returning lettermen plus early results were promising, but doubts remained. The Bisons were, as usual, strong in the distance events and relays but less impressive in the dashes and field events.

Harding was better than the year before but so was the rest of the AIC. Cold revelation came in the AIC Preview Meet where Southern State more than doubled the score of second place Harding. The Bisons took warning and dug into their tough schedule and tougher workouts to gain the experience and conditioning needed.

The AIC meet was the point of focus for the entire season, and the Bisons were ready. Despite unusually cold weather at the Russellville site, Cliff Clark, Jim Crawford, Jerry Baker, Phil Griffin and Tom Bateman came through with their usual top performances. The turning point in the close meet proved to be Kent Smith's clutch performance in the intermediate hurdles. Spurred by Smith's effort, the Bisons proceeded to a 49-38 win over second place Southern State and to their second straight AIC championship.

HURDLER Kent Smith demonstrates his co-ordination, speed and endurance, the perfect combination for his specialty, the 330 intermediates.

TALL Tom Bateman stands dwarfed by a crossbar as he gazes across the cool, relaxing fields, thinking on his soon to come winning jump.

Records, NAIA honors enhance track season

The 1966 Harding track team set school records in most events and rose to national honors in some. Leading the assault were high jumper Tom Bateman and distance men Cliff Clark and Jim Crawford. Bateman won the NAIA indoor high jump championship with a 6-7 effort. In the NAIA outdoor meet on June 4, Cliff Clark won the 3,000-meter steeplechase in the time of 9:17, although it was only the second time he had run the event. At the Southwest Missouri Relays, Clark was voted outstanding athlete of the meet. Jim Crawford set a new AIC mile record of 4:13.9 and also posted a 4:08.3, the best regular season time in the NAIA. Other team members contributed to the assault on the AIC relay records, but, more important, to the overall effort that made it two in a row in track and field for Harding.

NDS raised against the sun reveal the Bisons' interest as they search for the lie of a drive off the big stick of freshman Roy Fuller.

Official practice for the 1966 golf season began in February under the direction of Dr. Bob Gilliam. The golfers, however, took advantage of the fall and winter for individual practice to overcome the inexperience that dominated the team. With Dickie Berryhill as their best golfer, the Bisons placed eighth in the 1966 AIC golf meet.

The picture looked brighter at the start of the 1967 season. Jere Woodward and Mike McMackin returned from the year before and showed the potential to threaten Berryhill's number one position. Other team members were Gary Guinn, Roy Fuller and Terry McMichael. The Bisons expected an improved showing in 1967, but the squad composed of one-half freshmen looked with particular anticipation to the two years following.

Individual stars provide highlight for season

Providing the highlight for the 1966 Bison baseball team were several brilliant performances in the midst of often erratic play. Five berths on the All-AIC squad proved that Harding had talented athletes. Lack of depth, however, was the Bisons' downfall in conference standings. Inexperience caused errors at crucial times and left Harding with a 3-9 record and seventh place finish in the AIC. Providing a brighter picture was the 3-3 non-conference record.

Carl Allison took command as head coach in 1967 to free Ted Altman for other duties and inherited a promising squad. All five of the 1966 all-conference men returned with their proved spark of brilliance. A number of lettermen, armed with experience from 1966, plus several talented freshmen provided previously lacking support. Led by honorable mention All-AIC Mike Plummer and Benny Parker, the pitching staff presented a welcome trend to better things. The outfield's hopes also rested on two All-AIC men, Pete Henry and Gary Simpson. The fifth honoree, Johnny Jeter, anchored the infield from first base and added a powerful bat to the line up. For the long throw across the diamond, Jeter depended on freshmen Phil Daimwood and Roy Steele, who in 1966 led Tennessee high school baseball in double plays. The Bisons opened against John Brown University, with hopes of winning more points than ever in the race for the AIC all-sports trophy.

HOPING one up with a backhand, freshman Dean Bawcom re-

Under the direction of Coach Hugh Groover, the 1966 Bison tennis team had a 7-3 record and placed fourth in the AIC Tournament. The points scored by David Elliott and Mel Gambrell in singles and Gambrell and Jerry Reaves in doubles led the way to the respectable tournament finish.

The 1967 team, coached by Bob Knight, promised to be a real contender in the AIC. Sophomore David Elliot, who had developed into the number one player the year before, raised Harding's hopes for the next three years. Several freshmen and transfers threatened to surpass the four lettermen and thereby boost Harding's chances.

COACH Bob Knight returns a shot to keep a volley alive in a practice game in which he tests the skill of one of his team members.

CHEERLEADERS

Cheerleaders scheme way to better Bison spirit

The space of silence between the echo of 1700 simultaneous voices was filled with tension each time the Harding cheerleaders led the crowd in an ear-splitting, team-supporting yell.

Lead by co-captains Beth Starling and Dianne Holder, the seven cheerleaders spent the year building school spirit for all athletic events. The girls began the year with pep rallies and spent many hours in rigorous practice to acquire the timing and precision needed for each yell. The desire of each cheerleader to add a "12th player" to the football team resulted in a 6-3 record and a special air of enthusiasm.

Besides leading cheers at games the girls devised a variety of unseen schemes for victory. Pre-game posters in the locker room and snacks for shortening long out-of-town trips made the Bisons feel more appreciated and less often defeated.

The girls were rewarded for their efforts by an emotion-filled year — one which contained the highlights of winning and the low depths of losing. For the Bison cheerleaders, the year was personified by a fieldhouse filled with noise and excitement while they encouraged, "Ya'll yell!"

SHARING with the Bisons in both victory and defeat provides for each cheerleader a set of long-cherished memories, both sad and glad.

NOISE making, the most obvious cheerleader duty, is really only a small part of schemes to keep the Harding spirit alive and healthy.

PRESIDING at pep rallies and preparing favors for the football team are among the cheerleaders' many spirit-boosting activities.

ANOTHER slice of the cheerleaders' full schedule of Bison boosting is the homecoming parade. Brenda Needham takes hers as a free ride.

INTRAMURALS

Intramurals stimulate 75 per cent participation

Directors of the extensive intramural athletic program at Harding are Cecil Beck and Barbara Barnes. The 1966-67 school year was Mr. Beck's fourteenth as head of the men's program, which had grown to 90 per cent participation. Mrs. Barnes was in her first year as director of the women's program, which involved 60 per cent of the women. Both programs include participation in team and club sports. The men, in addition, can compete in a variety of sports skills contests. To encourage participation and enthusiasm, the program sponsors several awards and honors each year.

COACH John Berryhill holds the gun that both represents and realizes the start of a race and meet in the Harding intramural program.

THE BALL is the center of upward looks and movements as a tip off starts the spirited competition of a girls' intramural basketball game.

"YEA RAH INDIANS!" — a yell well known to come from post-game huddles at Harding expresses team loyalty and good sportsmanship.

INTRAMURALS

Excitement abounds in heated club competition

The emphasis of the intramural program is on team sports. The women participate in four — softball, baseball, volleyball and track. In addition to these, the men's program includes baseball and "rag tag" football. The highest point of interest is the competition of clubs in team sports, with the excitement often approaching that of intercollegiate sports. Highlight of the competition is annual Track and Field Day, for which classes are dismissed. In addition, the program provides for all students the opportunity for participation on one of a large number of teams in league competition.

EVEN amid the crowds and confusion of Track and Field Day, Harry Lisle finds a moment between his events for quiet rest and reflection.

INTRAMURAL baseball games provide students recreation and association both on the field and in the stands.

PATTY Columbus rolls one down the lane at Harding's College Bowl in search of points for her club and release from the frustrations of classes and homework.

BATMAN roll is the form of high jumper in annual Track and Field Day meet, where inexperienced athletes invent many new jumping styles.

GIRLS await the start of a relay race in concentration and in hopes of winning points that will help their club win the Track and Field Day meet.

INTRAMURALS

Track and Field Day highlights year's action

A variety of championships and awards given by the intramural department encourage participation and excellence. The high point of the year of intramurals is, for most, annual Track and Field Day. The dismissal of school touches, quite fondly, the life of every student, and the keen competition plays on the pride of every club member. Individual winners receive awards, and winning clubs in three divisions — men's large club, men's small club and women's—obtain prized trophies. In 1966 Mohicans won the large club division and TNT took the small club trophy. Theta Psi's were winners of the women's competition. Designation of champions in all six team sports in both club and non-club action also increases competition.

Each year the department awards jackets to 15 male participants on the basis of a point system. Points are given for participating in team sports and also for being on winning teams. Participation in sports skills contests, such as rope climb and baseball throw, also increases point totals. In 1966 Johnny Vaughan was awarded the Athlete of the Year Award for having the highest point total. Cecil Ethridge won the Sportsmanship Award for his high interest and competitive spirit.

FANCY head-hitting style is a part of the wide variety of colorful antics that often appear in intramural sports contests.

"OOPS" is the exclamation of a surprised back as he feels the ball knocked loose in the abundant action of "rag tag."

TWO points represent another step toward a championship trophy in basketball.

The Harding Academy in its programs
Initiates students to the "pursuit of excellence."

DEDICATION

Coach, teacher and father mark the man of dedication

We admire your outstanding example on the athletic field, in the classroom and in your private life. We recognize that you possess not only unusual ability as a defensive football coach, which helped us tie for the district championship this year, but also great knowledge in the field of science. Therefore, we, the senior class of 1967, because of your deep concern for each one of us at Harding Academy and your Christian influence, gladly dedicate our portion of the 1967 Petit Jean to you, Coach Cliff Sharp.

Clifford Eli Sharp, born March 24, 1939, in Borger, Texas, has two sisters and one brother. He attended high school at Big Lake, Texas, and Mountain Home, Arkansas. In the fall of 1959 he came to Harding College, where he received his degree in June, 1961, the same year of his marriage. At Harding he majored in physical education and was very active in the intramural sports program. During the summers he is currently continuing his education in the field of science at Antioch College, Yellow Springs, Ohio.

Coach Sharp teaches science and Bible, is sponsor of the eighth grade class and of the senior high school student council, and is also assistant coach in football, basketball and track.

With his wife, Jane, and two pre-school-age daughters, Cindy and Candice, he makes his home in West Dorm, where he is supervisor.

IN MEMORIAM

"God's finger touched him, and he slept." Tennyson's words aptly apply to Miles Michael Webb, beloved son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Webb, born at Quincy, Florida, on February 16, 1953. Mike became a victim of leukemia on July 15, 1966. His family and friends were not ready for Mike's departure, nor would we have been many years from now had it been left up to us, but God's summons came, and now Mike is safe at home with the God who created him.

Mike was an outstanding boy, an excellent athlete and a fine student. Handsome he was, too, but he would have been the last to admit it. Also an ardent leader, Mike, undoubtedly, never realized how many people looked up to him. Following in the Webb tradition, Mike was the 1966 winner of the trophy and ribbon in the Juvenile Class of the Southern Championship Horse Show, competing in Montgomery, Alabama. It has been said by some of Mike's young friends that even in the face of temptation, he had the courage to stand up for what he thought was right. In Mike's thirteen years, he led a full life, receiving many honors in horsemanship and making a number of friends.

SUB-DEB AWARD

Ambitious, athletic, artistic senior attains spirit award

William Hope Watts, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hope L. Watts of Luling, Louisiana, has been chosen as the student who best exemplifies the Academy spirit. In the four years Bill Watts has attended Harding Academy, he has excelled in many areas of student life. Through his Christian conduct and personality, he has gained the respect of students and teachers alike. Bill was named the Outstanding Back on the 1966 All-District Football Team and was chosen for the Class B All-State Team. He was tied for fourth in the state in scoring with 117 points. In recognition of his outstanding all-around football ability, Bill has been awarded honorable mention to the 1966 Prep All-American Football Team. He was selected for this honor by the co-sponsors, Coach and Athlete Magazine and the Royal Crown Cola Company, upon recommendations by area coaches. Whether participating in football, basketball or track, Bill has been an asset to the team. Also, his interests include A Cappella Chorus, Key Club and art. But more than all this, the student body appreciates his friendliness and genuine concern for others, and the sincere attitude he shows toward everything he does. The Sub-Debs proudly present their 1967 award to Bill Watts.

Capable administrators aid development of every student

PERRY S. MASON, BA, MA, LLD, is a booster not only of the Academy but also of the community and the nation. He is an active member of the Kiwanis Club and fills many speaking engagements throughout the state.

Mr. Mason sponsors the Key Club, Citizenship Club, Junior Civitan Club and also helps boost the athletic teams to victories.

We appreciate Dr. Mason for his sincere patriotism and his Christian example. We are proud of the leadership he has provided in having North Central accreditation for Harding Academy.

J. E. BERRYHILL, BA, MA, is a Christian gentleman and number one promoter of the Academy, whether taking our dimes at the concession stand, being principal, patiently enduring our mistakes in Driver's Education or teaching a class.

Mr. Berryhill's fifteen years in the Academy span the lifetime of most of his students. We appreciate his years of service as principal and will miss him as he assumes his new duties. His organizational ability and efficient record-keeping are two of the characteristics that have made him the good principal he has been. Students appreciate his words of wisdom and private counsel. Teachers and students alike respect him as an administrator.

FACULTY

Faculty encourages students in varied phases of activities

Endeavoring to maintain the high standards of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, the faculty of Harding Academy provides the guidance we need to grow mentally, physically and especially spiritually. In addition to their many routine duties, they also seem to find time to sponsor our organizations, service clubs and social clubs. With patience they watch us grow and develop and with interest in each individual they listen to our problems and help us solve them. With a personal interest and understanding, the excellent members of our faculty strive to bring a Christian education to all who desire it. Loyal faculty fans are always seen at Academy ballgames, giving support to the students they teach. Their scholarship we admire; their Christian example we strive to follow.

FACULTY members enjoy the hospitality of President Ganus's home, Dr. and Mrs. Ganus welcome Misses Ann Blue and Rita Rachel.

WITH capable guidance here, students use the known to find the unknown and simultaneously learn useful information to help scientific procedures.

BARBARA Bridges displays her report prepared for a history course in a classroom equipped with items of a cosmopolitan interest.

GARY Wood and other members of the art class are very fortunate; their semester instructor is artist J. Lee Roberts, missionary off-duty.

Academy students place their studying above other interests

A varied curriculum provides each student with an opportunity for intellectual growth. Basic courses in mathematics, natural science, literature, art, social science, music, Bible and languages give the individual a well-rounded schedule.

A library, which is steadily being improved, is under excellent supervision and provides enriching experiences for the many students who use its facilities. All faculty members are dedicated to high teaching standards and have a desire to help each student develop to his full capacity.

MARTHA Blue and Nancy Clark consider patterns for spring wear and wonder whether they will be able to accomplish sewing assignments.

AS unusually strong emphasis is being put on mathematics, Harding Academy is well prepared to give individualized instruction to students. Judging from Mrs. Kathryn Ritchie's solid geometry class, one might conclude our girls are either avoiding mathematics or are shunning our boys.

STUDENT LIFE

Boys and girls find wholesome outlets in a variety of activities

The athletic teams, endowed with unusually good school spirit and loyalty to the Academy, climbed to success. Cheerleaders and the pep club worked to develop in each student a desire to win.

All who participated in club activities, dramatics, chorus work and athletics gained valuable experience in leadership and good sportsmanship. Students on shorthand, typing, parliamentary law and spelling teams matched their skills with those from other schools.

The 1966-67 school year will long linger in the memory of each student.

THE girls' social clubs vie with each other at club pledge tea in making their clubs attractive to girls entering high school.

LOCKER doors banging and voices rising, Academy students prepare to meet final classes for the day. This five-minute break between class periods is never long enough to finish those interesting conversations.

SMILING sympathetically, junior Debbie Ganus issues a tardy slip to classmate Georgia Woodruff. The job of keeping Mr. Berryhill's outer office is given to a girl chosen from the study hall.

TYPICAL of many athletic events throughout the school year is the cheerleading scene at the White County Basketball Tournament at Bradford. Giving energetic performances at each game, our loyal cheerleaders inspired the fans and encouraged the players with "We can't be beat!"

STAR

Stars are very well distributed along the wide school horizon

The six old members of STAR made careful plans for pledge week and then initiated eight girls into the club. Sheila Barger's home rang with shouts of glee during the informal night pledging. The formal initiation, simple but impressive, was held in Marcia Hays' home.

Several tiring, but lively, bunking parties during the year were enjoyed by all STAR members and their sponsor. A lovely banquet held in late spring climaxed a full year's activities.

Miss Anne Blue, girls' physical education teacher and club sponsor, guided the members to a good intramural record, with basketball as their favorite sport and their first win over the Sub-Debs.

Mid-winter banquet featured delightful "Fantasy In Frost"

The initiation of eight pledges inaugurated the yearly activities of the Kappa Alpha Theta social club. The home of Martha Sears was selected for the rough initiation. Part of the activities held during pledging included gathering pennies, wandering blindfolded through the Academy field and learning the club song on top of a dirt pile. Sherry Kell's house was selected for the quiet, impressive, candlelight ceremony, which concluded the pledges' initiation.

The K.A.T.'s also chose two club beaux, Jim Atteberry and Rick Wood, who coached the club at their games. Their Christmas banquet, "Fantasy in Frost," proved to be the highlight of the year for the Kappa Alpha Theta's. Beautiful decorations, good food and a Christmas atmosphere made the night one to remember throughout the year. The speaker chosen was Carl Allison and Judy Perry provided the entertainment.

This closely knit organization provides enduring friendships

The Sub-Deb social club initiated three new members with informal initiation at the College Farm, where Judy Street led the pledges and their masters on a tour of a "perfume factory." This was followed by an over-night party with refreshments, but very little sleep. The formal initiation, which ended the year's pledge activities, was held in the home of Lauren Lawyer.

Ricky Harris and David Muncy were selected as beaux and accompanied the club on all major functions and served as coaches.

Sub-Debs enjoyed caroling at faculty homes and opening "white elephant" gifts at Christmas time.

BETA CLUB

Academic excellence justly rewarded with high honors

The Beta Club is an organization encouraging scholarship, character and leadership in the Academy. In order to be a member, a student must maintain a "90" average or above for two consecutive six-week periods.

Each year the Beta Club purchases a frame for the senior composite and holds a club breakfast to elect officers for the coming year.

DEBBIE GANUS — Debbie is not satisfied with less than her best effort in accomplishing any task, whether little or big. Diligent, daily application to each assignment combined with unusual academic aptitude to enable her to master her high school curriculum.

KERBE LEE — Fellow students admire Kerbe's versatility as he uses his talents in a wide range of activities. Native intelligence and hard work gave him an excellent grade point average in his senior year in high school.

PUBLICATIONS

News media provides many memories of high school days

The school newspaper, the Wildcat, was published four times a year by Sheila Barger, editor, and her able assistant editor, Debbie Ganus. After long hours of composing, typing and proofreading, a proud staff produced a paper well done.

The Academy section of the 1967 Petit Jean was edited by Marcia Hays, assisted by Lauren Lawyer. Diligent effort through many hours gave the students a section in the yearbook to be treasured. Faculty advisor Ruth Browning offered help and assistance on both publications.

SHEILA Barger, editor of the Wildcat, Miss Browning, advisor, and Debbie Ganus, assistant editor, concentrate on news items.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

Active student participation produced excellent results

Newly organized, the Student Council of Harding Academy strives to better relations between students and faculty and encourages leadership among students. It is composed of representatives from every club and service organization.

The Citizenship Club, sponsored by Mr. Mason, helps in enforcing school rules and generally serving in whatever area it is asked to serve. Members of this club must be elected unanimously by old members of the club.

CLIFF Sharp, Student Council sponsor, and Marty Thompson, President, are reconsidering the recommendation they plan to present to the entire council at a usual bi-monthly meeting. Student Council is proving to be a commendable liaison between students and faculty.

ORGANIZATIONS

Fellowship and service show value of Key Club and F.H.A.

Activities of the Future Homemakers of America, sponsored by Ann Owen, included the annual initiation for new members, federation and state conventions and a winter Valentine banquet.

Sponsored by the local Kiwanis Club and Mr. Mason, the Key Club is dedicated to serving school and community. Members use their earnings from their annual projects, selling fruit cakes and a car wash, to obtain facilities to improve the school.

KEY Club President Marty Thompson gives dictionaries to Mrs. Lynn; her English classes especially will profit from this service club gift.

ORGANIZATIONS

Academy activities include business and cultural interests

Only three years old, the Future Business Leaders of America is an important Academy organization. Supervised by business instructor, Bill Diles, several types of teams are selected to engage in state-wide competition. Many Academy teams and individuals have received top ratings in the state.

The National Thespian Society, which is composed of students who excel in dramatics, and is sponsored by speech instructor, Mrs. Erma Welch, annually presents a Christmas play and several one-act plays for the enjoyment of the entire student body and citizens of Searcy.

TYPING students, taught by Bill Diles, earnestly seek to acquire a very useful educational tool and invaluable skill from their class.

ORGANIZATIONS

Students and school benefit from club-sponsored projects

Maintaining a quiet, well-organized and expanding library is the chief purpose of the Library Club. Sponsored by Mrs. Erma Welch, the members succeed in making the library a more attractive and interesting place in which to study.

The Junior Beta Club and Key Clubs both were organized by the Senior Beta Club and Senior Key Club. To be eligible for the Beta Club, a student must maintain a "90" or above average.

HELPING to maintain attractiveness of the library she supervises, Mrs. Welch directs Nancy Clark in putting up a bulletin board.

MUSIC GROUPS

Under the new direction of Dan Smith, chorus does well

Membership in the Academy A Cappella chorus is limited to those in senior high school and is determined by scholarship, character and a vocal tryout. A desire to sing is also a very important factor because of the hard practicing that is necessary, including daily rehearsals at 7:30 a.m.

The chorus made two tours under the direction of Dan Smith, who proved to be a very capable director even during his first year at the Academy. Their fall trip on a long week-end carried them through parts of Arkansas and Louisiana. In the spring the chorus, on a full-week's trip, traveled through Louisiana and into southern Texas.

Other activities of the group included a district chorus festival at Little Rock and state festival at Hot Springs, several programs at home and the yearbook signing party at the end of the year.

An opportunity to participate in musical activities was also provided junior high school students through membership in the Junior High School Chorus, directed by Mrs. Florence Henry. This group practiced regularly three mornings each week throughout the school year and appeared in a number of local programs.

UTILIZING every available opportunity for practicing, the Academy chorus, ably directed by Mr. Dan Smith, prepares for the approaching spring chorus trip, which will take the chorus into parts of three states.

Academy is represented in college May Day festivities

The Academy is represented each year in the annual college May Fete by two attendants to the queen and by three club representatives. The attendants are voted on by the entire high school student body, and the representatives are chosen by each girls' social club.

MR. and MISS HARDING ACADEMY

Mr. David Muncy

Miss Marcia Hays

David Muncy is active in many phases of Academy life. He is president of the senior class, president of the A Cappella chorus, president of the Beta Club, and is active in Thespians, FBLA, Key Club, and athletics. He also has an excellent scholastic record. His sense of humor and leadership ability have well earned for him the respect and admiration of the student body.

Marcia Hays is also active in many Academy activities. As Editor of our section of the Petit Jean, Marcia's sense of responsibility and organizational ability have enabled her to do this job well. Marcia is also active in A Cappella Chorus and is treasurer of her class and the student council. Her genuine interest and concern for others have made her a favorite of students and teachers.

FOOTBALL

1966 Wildcats win second district championship in a row

The 1966 Harding Academy Wildcats opened summer practice with only nine boys but a lot of determination. Even though the Cats were slim on quantity, Coaches Ed Higginbotham and Cliff Sharp, knowing intimately the caliber of their boys, had high hopes for the coming season. After a three point setback to Des Arc in Harding's first encounter of the season, the Cats did not lose a game until their last game of the season at Augusta. With only fourteen players on the team from which to draw, the Wildcats won the district co-championship with Hazen and rolled up a 6-2-1 record. Every player all season had an unusual degree of stamina and an unconquerable spirit. Great leadership and desire contributed to the success of the Cats' football season and made this year a year never to be forgotten not only by the seniors but by all other Academy students as well.

The all-district team included six boys: Lee Daniel, Jim Atteberry, David Lawson, Bill Watts, David Berryhill, and Marty Thompson. Bill Watts was named the outstanding back of the district and also was named to the all-state team.

SENIOR halfback Bill Watts carries the football around left end, gaining valuable yardage for the Cats. Watts was chosen to the All-District team and to the backfield of the Class B All-State team.

WILDCAT SENIORS: Bill Watts, halfback; Rick Harris, quarterback; David Berryhill, tackle; Marty Thompson, fullback; David Lawson, guard.

ATTEMPTING to elude a Wildcat tackler, a Cotton Plant halfback runs around an end as Doug Smith tries desperately to bring him down.

WILDCAT end Lee Daniel and a Cotton Plant defensive back struggle for the prized possession of the football intended for Daniel downfield.

BASKETBALL

Hurrying Wildcats achieve successful basketball season

The Wildcats carried over their winning ways from football season through basketball season, as they emerged with a winning record of 14-11.

The Cats went to the semi-finals in the County Invitational Tournament and to the finals in the County Tournament, at which they received a second place trophy. Three players were named to the All-County team: Rick Harris, David Lawson and Marty Thompson.

Graduating Wildcats include: David Lawson, David Berryhill, Marty Thompson, Bill Watts, Rick Harris and David Muncy.

DAVID Lawson, senior guard, drives by an opposing Kensett ball-player, scoring an easy two points for the Harding Academy Wildcats.

SHOWING his familiar form, sophomore Lee Daniel scores another two points from underneath the basket during the Kensett basketball game.

BASKETBALL

Junior roundballers end year with season record of 13-10

Determination and desire were the key words describing the 1966 Harding Junior Cats. Overcoming great obstacles, such as lack of height and experience, the Junior Cats pulled out a very good season. In the District Tournament the Juniors romped their way to a second place and a runner-up trophy. Tim Ramsey and John Vines were chosen to the all-district team.

Track team takes county easily and captures district meet title

The tradition of excellence in track was continued as the 1966 Academy team won the White County meet with 99½ points and the District 2B championship with 82 points. Phillip Elliott was high point man in the county, scoring 24 points. In the district meet, Marty Thompson set a new shot put record of 47'5". James Bixler won the pole vault with a record height of 11'11".

Determined senior lettermen provided a hustling leadership. They were Phillip Elliott, Charles Bridgeman, Jerry Moore, James Bixler, Mike Hedrick, and Gary Martin.

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS. David Muncy, President; Marcia Hays, Treasurer; Sheila Kay Barger, Secretary; Rickey Lee Harris, Vice-President.

SENIORS

High school days behind them, seniors face future confidently

The nineteen members of the senior class of 1967 possessed many different talents. The majority of the boys participated in athletics, and the girls loyally supported them in that area. Both boys and girls demonstrated a genuine interest in all senior class affairs and were active in various clubs of their choice. Also available to willing seniors was work on the Wildcat and Petit Jean staffs as well as participation in the A Cappella Chorus.

The seniors sincerely tried to set a good example in leadership, school spirit and Christian attitudes for their underclassmen.

Three boys and two girls from the senior class began their studies together in the first grade at Harding Elementary School. Eight members of the class attended Harding Academy during the four years of senior high school.

SENIORS Marty Thompson and David Lawson, classmates at Harding since the first grade, survey senior class pictures of past years. Some classes have been large, but others are small as is the one this year. They agree that each senior class has a particular distinction.

ELEMENTARY SCHOOL

Grades 1-6 constitute Harding Academy Elementary School

An important part of the Academy is the grade school with grades one through six included.

The youngsters have their own Pee Wee athletic program under the direction of Coach Cliff Sharp. During the regular season, the basketball team was undefeated.

A favorite in the College Variety Show was Mrs. Henry's tinkling group. The Halloween and Spring programs were highlights of the year.

Mrs. Lawson's art classes and Mrs. Helsten's German instruction added interest to the Elementary School curriculum.

Standardized tests given the students in the grade school reveal a group that is above the national average in all areas. This indicates that from the first grade Academy students are exposed to academic excellence at Harding.

Allison, Douglas Loftin, Benny Stout, Joe Pryor, Roger Ballard, Philip Chester.

THIRD GRADE. FRONT ROW: Mrs. Lois Lawson, M. Verkler, J. Taylor, D. Yount, D. Gilliam, T. Belcher, R. Alessandro. SECOND ROW: R. Patterson, J. Altman, B. Whetsell, B. Smith, D. Olree, D. Olree. Not pictured: David Payne, Randy Ozbirn, David Cox.

FIRST GRADE. FRONT ROW: W. Verkler, S. Pryor, C. Carter, N. Chester, M. Risinger. SECOND ROW: M. Baling, J. Seagraves, A. Whetsell, J. Allen, M. Smith, L. Ward. THIRD ROW: G. Posey, B. Rogers, M. Spurlock, M. Kellar, R. Ulrey, F. Parrish, FOURTH ROW: D. Isom, R. Barnes, S. Robbins, T. Vaughn, C. Corbin, R. Hedrick, J. Curry.

iams, Bales, Moore, Altman, Baggett, Kiihnl, Tucker, Prock, Allison, Clovis Shipp (Coach).

PEE-WEE CHEERLEADERS Martha Ann Hart, Kim Kellar, Andee Lee Lawyer, Leah Formby and Debra Beck boosted the elementary teams to victories.

Williams, Baggett, Tucker, Altman, Bales. THIRD ROW: Stout, Osborne, Loftin, Hughes, Davis, Oldham, Posey, Cliff Sharp (Coach).

THIRD graders find school work interesting and, encouraged by Mrs. Lois Lawson, they work diligently and soon excel in their subjects.

READING becomes exciting and challenging to the second graders studying and growing under the friendly guidance of Mrs. Pat Brewer.

As we look in retrospect upon the time, effort and individual sacrifices necessary to make the 1967 Petit Jean a reality, we realize that this yearbook represents a team effort toward excellence. The purpose of Harding College is to achieve a three-fold development: the soul, the mind and the body of man. Our goal this year has been to produce a yearbook which would accurately portray this Pursuit of Excellence at Harding. Outstanding achievement in any area is seldom obtained without giving of one's self. The key note to success this year has been exemplified by cooperation of the entire Petit Jean staff and all the individuals and groups directly involved. We especially appreciate the help of Ben and Roger Red, Herman West and his staff at the College Press, Russ Simmons and the Public Relations office personnel, Stan Green and Roy Terry for supplying needed pictures and particularly the understanding of faculty members and classmates. The vital assistance of John Clark of the American Yearbook Company and the capable and calming guidance of Dr. Joe provided invaluable encouragement. We wish to thank and compliment all the staff members and interested individuals who have contributed to making this 1967 Petit Jean not only a reality, but also what we hope and feel will be a measure of excellence.
